

LABOUR CODE DEFERMENT APPLICATIONS BY STEVEDORING COMPANIES

Question No. 97—Mr. Orlikow:

1. How many applications of stevedoring and longshoring companies who applied for deferment and for suspension of part 1 of The Canada Labour (Standards) Code, are still under review?

2. When were these applications made to the department?

3. How many workers are covered by each of these applications?

4. What are the reasons for the applications for deferment still being under review by the department?

5. What is the date when the department expects to have settled all these cases which are under review?

Mr. B. S. Mackasey (Parliamentary Secretary to Minister of Labour): 1. 177.

2. Applications for deferment were made prior to July 1, 1965. Applications for suspension were made after July 1, 1965.

3. Information not available.

4. An inquiry commission has been established under another act to examine and report on certain conditions of employment at ports of Montreal, Trois-Rivières and Quebec. The working conditions in most Canadian ports are generally similar. The report of the commission should be considered when dealing with the deferment.

5. Date uncertain, but efforts are being made to settle these cases as soon as possible.

LABOUR CODE DEFERMENT APPLICATIONS BY SHIPPING COMPANIES

Question No. 98—Mr. Orlikow:

1. How many applications of shipping (including ferries) companies who applied for deferment and for suspension of part 1 of The Canada Labour (Standards) Code, are still under review?

2. When were these applications made to the department?

3. How many workers are covered by each of these applications?

4. What are the reasons for the applications for deferment still being under review by the department?

5. What is the date when the department expects to have settled all these cases which are under review?

Mr. B. S. Mackasey (Parliamentary Secretary to Minister of Labour): 1. 153.

2. Applications for deferment were made prior to July 1, 1965. Applications for suspension were made after July 1, 1965.

3. Information not available.

4. An inquiry commission has been established to inquire into and report on hours of work in navigation and shipping in the Newfoundland area. Discussions are being held with employers and employees affected in other areas of Canada in order to arrive at an accommodation on hours of work.

Questions

5. Date uncertain, but efforts are being made to settle these cases as soon as possible.

LABOUR CODE DEFERMENT APPLICATIONS BY RAILWAY AND HOTEL COMPANIES

Question No. 99—Mr. Orlikow:

1. How many applications of railway and hotel companies who applied for deferment and for suspension of part 1 of The Canada Labour (Standards) Code, are still under review?

2. When were these applications made to the department?

3. How many workers are covered by each of these applications?

4. What are the reasons for the applications for deferment still being under review by the department?

5. What is the date when the department expects to have settled all these cases which are under review?

Mr. B. S. Mackasey (Parliamentary Secretary to Minister of Labour): 1. 38.

2. Applications for deferment were made prior to July 1, 1965. Applications for suspension were made after July 1, 1965.

3. Information not available.

4. Discussions are being held with employers and employees affected in order to reach an accommodation on hours of work.

5. Date uncertain, but efforts are being made to settle these cases as soon as possible.

LABOUR CODE DEFERMENT APPLICATIONS BY MINING AND PROCESSING COMPANIES

Question No. 100—Mr. Orlikow:

1. How many applications of mining and processing companies who applied for deferment and for suspension of part 1 of The Canada Labour (Standards) Code, are still under review?

2. When were these applications made to the department?

3. How many workers are covered by each of these applications?

4. What are the reasons for the applications for deferment still being under review by the department?

5. What is the date when the department expects to have settled all these cases which are under review?

Mr. B. S. Mackasey (Parliamentary Secretary to Minister of Labour): 1. None.

2, 3, 4 and 5. Not applicable.