

fore was not spared to take his seat in this Chamber. He was a man of striking individuality, one who had spent most of his years in public life. He was much esteemed in his native province of Ontario and his death is a loss to the public life of the Dominion.

The late Senator Boyer endeared himself to every member of this body. He was a man of culture and education and his association was keenly appreciated by those who had the honour of his friendship. He was a typical French Canadian gentleman, with a broad and cultured knowledge of life, and although a sufferer from ill-health for some few years past, he was always the embodiment of cheerfulness and optimism.

The late Senator Beith had almost reached his four score years at the time of his death, and had been in public life for over 30 years. He possessed the confidence and esteem of those who knew him best and was highly regarded by every member of this Chamber.

The late Senator Milne had considerably exceeded his four score years, and although a member of this Chamber only since 1915, he was widely known in the province of Ontario as one of the foremost business men of that great province. Although unpretentious and diffident, he was a man of sterling qualities and had strongly identified himself with the manufacturing interests of the city in which he lived. During the short period he was in this Chamber we learned to appreciate the business and moral qualities of which he was possessed.

To the families of all our late colleagues we extend our deepest sympathy in the bereavement which they have suffered, and shall not fail to retain pleasant memories of our association with them while members of this Chamber.
