

would die at any rate, thought best to retreat and return and look for him after some time.— On returning, however, he could not be found having crawled away and concealed himself in some other place. His skeleton and gun were found some time afterwards.

The Indians who were killed, were great warriors and very wealthy. The bag which was supposed to contain money, it was conjectured was got by one of the party, who went out first in the morning. On hearing the report of the boys, he slipped off by himself, and reached the place before the party arrived. For some time afterwards, he appeared to have a greater plenty of money than his neighbours.

The Indians themselves, did honor to the bravery of these two boys. After their treaty with Gen. Wayne, a friend of the Indians who were killed, made enquiry of a man from Short creek, what had become of the boys who killed the Indians? He was answered that they lived at the same place, with their parents, the Indian replied "You have not done right, you should make kings of those boys,
