We wish to say that we have been led to undertake the manufacture of these Pills, by the recommendation of persons who have used them with success for a period of many years, and by the solicitations of dealers, who believe them to be greatly superior to the various Cathartic Pills in the market, and who wish to obtain them in a more salable form, and with less annoyance and delay.

The testimony in regard to the value of this medicine is very convincing, and we feel sure that the public will have confidence in its great virtues as soon as they have made an adequate trial.

Wills' English Pills will be put up in an improved package. Price 25 cents. They can be obtained from all druggists and dealers in medicine, or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price, 25 cents, by the proprietors.

WILLS' ENGLISH PILLS.

as the title indicates, are prepared from the formula of the celebrated English physician of that name. They are purely vegetable, sugar-coated, with none of the unpleasant effects usually attending the use of ordinary liver remedies. They are not crude, drastic purgatives like many pills, bitters and invigorators, which weaken an already worn-out system, and cause dyspepsia, piles, chronic diarrhoea, and similar troubles. But being free from poisonous minerals and irritating matter, they act gently and naturally, and leave the entire system healthy.

What do they Cure?

Constipation is the origin of nineteen-twentieths of human disease, and in its train follow the common symptoms of indigestion—sense of fullness and oppression in the stomach, shortness of breath, belching of wind, bad taste in the mouth, foul breath, coated tongue, sour and acrid eruptions, water brash, tired, lazy feeling, dull, heavy sensation about the eyes, drowsiness and languor, loss of appetite, and general debility. These ailments unrelieved become chronic, and give rise to a whole alphabet of disease.
