Impressive Military Funerals Held Yesterday, Witnessed by Many.

ROUTE MARCH HELD
 Battalion Further Strengthened for Strenuous Work When Time Comes.

Impressive military funerals were given yesterday in honor of the two members of the second contingent who died this week while in training at Exhibition Park. The funeral services were held in Prospect Cemetery. The funeral of Private Basil Victor Jones, 131 Medland street, of the Divisional Supply Column, was held from Bates' and Doder's chapel, Queen street west, at 10 a.m. The funeral ceremony, over Private Samuel Henry Ashworth, Hamilton, a member of No. 4 Company, 19th Battalion, was conducted in the transportation building at the camp at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Many hundreds of people lined the streets to see the funerals, exceptionally large numbers being on Dufferin street from the gates up to Queen street. The church services were conducted by Major John Russell Maclean, camp chaplain, and the military funeral services were conducted by Major E. M. Harris and 20 other officers of the Divisional Supply Column, who were present. There were a number of wreaths, one from his shipmates at the Russell factory, and another from the soldiers playing the "Dead March" on their rifles. The casket was conveyed on a gun carriage drawn by four fine artillery horses. At the graveside a firing squad of 14 men fired three volleys.

Late Private Ashworth. All the men of the 19th Battalion attended the funeral service of Private Ashworth in the transportation building. Col. Logie, camp commandant, Lt.-Col. Maclean of the 19th Battalion, and the other battalion officers were present, also representatives of the Y.M.C.A., and Mr. Andrew's Brotherhood. A Senior Camp Chaplain Rev. Russell Maclean, Canon Dixon and Rev. Thompson conducted the funeral services. Representatives of the Knights of Pythias were present, and of them accompanied the casket to the procession. Six of the members of the 19th Battalion were the pall-bearers. The remains of the soldier were also conveyed on a gun carriage. The large procession was headed by the pipe band of the battalion, playing the "Dead March" at the graveside the band played a lament and the buglers sounded the last call.

 Detectives Happened on Scene as Trunk Was Being Taken Away.

After closing Acting Detectives Mulholland and Elliott of the Wilton avenue police station, for the past two days, Charles William Rhodes was arrested by them last night at 110 York street on a charge of fraud.

Rhodes is charged with representing himself to Alfred H. Marchant, a butcher, as a wealthy ranch owner, the possessor of a large number of horses and many houses in the west, and thereby getting a cheque amounting to $253 cashed. The cheque was made out on the Carlton and Parliament streets branch of the Bank of Commerce, where it was reported that Rhodes did not have any funds.

The frauds in Toronto alone, according to the police, will amount to over $100,000 as far as they know at the present time. It is expected that other fraud charges will be laid this morning. Frank Van Derslip was mulcted out of $71.37 by Rhodes in money and groceries, by cashing one of his cheques, according to the police.

Information was received last night that Rhodes had operated extensively through a large number of small towns in the west and in Toronto.
