

ADDRESS TO BE DELIVERED BY
THE B.P. TO MEMBERS ON ADMISSION.

Mr. ———, I have the pleasure to inform you that you have been admitted a member of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners, and trust that henceforth you will unite with us in our efforts to improve the social and industrial conditions of the worker, and help to increase the power and usefulness of the society. That you will guard against any encroachment upon the rights of the trade, and assist by all the means in your power your fellow-members in the same objects. Should any question arise which affects you as a carpenter and joiner, you will, by submitting the same to the branch, receive such advice and assistance as will enable you to act therein with advantage to yourself and credit to the society of which you have now become a member.
