ronto.

Honorable mention, without award:
George Fawcett, Winnipeg; A. H.
Hider, Toronto; J. S. Morrison, Toronto; Frank Downing, Toronto;
Rortha Dos Clayer Montreal

This competition was arranged to secure designs for posters which will form a part of the intensive advertising campaign in respect of the forth-ing campaign in respect of the forthcoming Victory Loan.

Those entries which have won Victory bond prizes have been accepted for the use of the committee.

The collection, which numbers upwards of six hundred suggestions,
and includes contributions from all parts of Canada, evidences very considerable talent. Under the terms of the competition all designs become the property of the Dominion publicity committee and it is intended to feature an exhibit of original drawings
during the campaign next October.

Mr. Nicolet Well Known.

Mr. Nicolet Well Known.

Frank Nicolet, who has been awarded the chief prize offered Canadian artists for Victory bond posters. Is well known in this city. He is of Belgian birth and spent many years in London as a commercial artist before London as a commercial artist before going to New York, where he studied under a number of distinguished painters. He returned to Canada to join the Canadian forces. but his services were not accepted. During his stay in this city he drew a number of fine cartoons for The Advertiser. For several months he has been in Montreal.

According to the award of the committee, Mr. Nicolet has not only secured the grand prize, a $1,000 Victory bond, but has also won two special awards, apparently for other posters which he submitted to the committee.

W. G. Thomas of the People's Outfitting Company, a close friend of Mr. Nicolet, was notified of the award.

Nicolet, was notified of the award. The poster which wins the first prize is described as a poppy poster, while the other two awards are given for a Highlander poster and a poster describing a scene back of the fighting lines. Mr. Nicolet may be in London in the course of a few days.
