A NEW YORK MYSTERY

Tied in Chair.

NEW YORK, Jan. 2.—Morris Nathanson, a well-to-do, middle-aged real estate holder and clothing manufacturer, was found dead to-day in the loft of his factory, bound hand and foot to a chair with half-inch rope. He had been dead for hours, and the vast vacant loft was filled with escaping gas from a broken pipe just above nis head. There were no marks of violence on the body. The chair had been backed up against a pillar and the loose ends of the knot that bound the body to the frame had been knoted again behind the pillar.

On the floor were some loose coins. There was no money in the pockets, one of which had been turned inside out, and Nathanson's key to the loft was also missing. His desk, which adjoined his partner's, was opened and littered with torn and crumpled papers in the wildest confusion. On a sample table was a woman's fur-lined kid glove, torn and partly turned inside out. The safe was locked. Near it lay Nathanson's hat, and above it the gas lamp had been broken.
