

the number on the register last year. The books taught in the School, in addition to the national school-books, are, Murray's English Grammar, Walker's History of England, Guy's Spelling, Arithmetic, Mensuration, Navigation. In the Female School, Grammar, Reading, Spelling, Geography, and History, as in the Male, Arithmetic as far as Practice."

In reference to the School at Carleton, the Reverend F. COSTER reports, that, "at one time, he was apprehensive he should have to make an unfavourable report of their state, in consequence of the resignation of Mr. NISBETT, and the long illness of Miss FAYERWEATHER. Mr. HENRY CONNEL, the present Teacher of the Male School, undertook the management of it, under great disadvantages, as well from his youth, inexperience, and want of acquaintance with the system, as being the successor of so competent a Teacher as Mr. Nisbett. By diligence and attention, however, he has in a great measure surmounted these difficulties, so that the number of boys in attendance has nearly reached the customary number. There are 91 in the Male School, and 18 smaller ones in the Female School; in all, 109. The Female School, under Miss Fayerweather, is not so numerously attended as it ought to be. There are 65 girls in attendance, making the total in the two schools 174. The Trustees of Schools, who visited these Schools in the early part of June, pronounced them to be in a satisfactory state. A new system of raising local funds, has been adopted, during the past year, by requiring a payment of three-pence per week from each of the pupils, instead of receiving them as free scholars. The plan has hitherto answered well."

The Rev. S. BACON reports, of the School at Chatham, that the number in daily attendance is 54 boys and 21 girls, making a total of 75, which is somewhat greater than the number attending at the date of the Report of the previous year. At that time many scholars had been withdrawn from the School, in consequence of the establishment of a Roman Catholic School in the neighbourhood, and since then several have gone to different Trades, or Stores. Mr. SMITH, the Master of that School, came to it with high recommendations, from the present Bishop of Nova-Scotia; and several of the Judges of the Supreme Court, and other persons of intelligence, who have been in the habit of visiting his School,
