STOCKS ENJOY ANOTHER BOOST

Prices Continue Upward
Movement, and More
Reach New High.

New York, Nov. 29.—Stock prices continued their upward early trading, with heavy buying of speculative issues stimulating the early trading. New high records were established by Frisco, Erie, first preferred, Allied Chemical and a variety of other stocks in the first few minutes. Steel shares were in greatest demand, U. S. Steel leading an advance in which numerous independent joined.

Montreal Market.
Montreal, Nov. 29.—Further weakness in Montreal Power featured the only trading on the local stock exchange this morning. After dropping two points yesterday to 170, it descended rapidly this morning to 167, but rallied fractionally to 167½. A proposed newspaper investigation of the company's affairs is said to be mainly responsible for the current liquidation, owing to the report indicating a large number of small shareholders who are hastily disposing of their stock, content with what profits they have already made. Well over a thousand shares of Power changed hands in the trading. The balance of the local list is very quiet, the only other price change worthy of mention being a drop of three-quarters in Price Bros to 38. Abitibi was fairly active but unchanged at 63.

Cable Transfers.
Montreal, Nov. 29.—Cable transfers, 4.622½.

TO RIVAL CANADIAN WHEAT MARKET

Australia to Have 100,000,000 Bushels for Export in January.

Toronto, Nov. 29.—The only thing Australia is going to compete with Canada is in wheat. Of course our seasons are uncertain, but we have a good harvest this year, and will have 100,000,000 bushels ready for export in January.

Mr. Mark Sheldons of Sydney, N. S. W., here on route to join his family in England, said: "On account of your climate you can only raise the heavy quality, and not the fine Merino wool. Australia has vast areas of low-priced land which can be used for wheat growing."

The proposed visit of a United States naval squadron to Australia would be an admirable thing. The centre of action of naval affairs was shifting to the Pacific Ocean instead of the North Sea. He felt sure the Singapore naval base would be gone on with.

Mr. Sheldons was of the Australian Bank of Commerce, and in 1919 was Australian Trade Commissioner to the United States. He pointed proudly to the fact that three millions of Australia's population of 5,000,000 have their own savings bank accounts, the average being $20.

Report From Quebec Indicates This Concession Under Liquor Law.

Quebec, Nov. 29.—To popularize the use of wine and to meet half way the request received that certain concessions be made in connection with the Quebec liquor law, there is a report from a very good source today, though not official, that, effective from May next, the provincial Government will allow a certain number of licensed grocery stores to sell wine, as long as the bottles bear the label of the Quebec Liquor Commission and are purchased from it.

Since the liquor law came into force delegations of retail merchants and of hotel keepers have repeatedly asked that changes be made in the law, allowing wine to be retailed by the glass in taverns and by the bottle in a number of approved establishments, especially licensed grocery stores.

The retail merchants will be requested to separate and cause the liquor from the tavern owners, who will not benefit from any change on account of the danger of abuse.

According to the projected amendment, favored by some of the members of the Liquor Commission, a certain number of stores would be authorized to sell wines supplied by the commission, under strict control.

Concurrently, it is learned that books of the Liquor Commission will be freely opened for a thorough investigation for the benefit of the Opposition during the coming session.

Such is the decision said to have been arrived at following recent campaigns in by-elections, in which insinuations were made regarding the profits of the Liquor Commission. It is said that in four cases the commission had entered into contracts with firms in England or France or Spain, under which, by withholding the prices of purchase, certain advantages were offered to the foreign firms.

Due to the fact that the criticism arose from the secrecy surrounding such transactions, a change will result, which will allow the commission to give the public and to its representatives a complete knowledge of its dealings.

There may be certain cases where, in view of the agreements, which would mean a breach of contract, such a policy would not be adopted, but in these instances there will be sufficient information given out to satisfy the most inquisitive politicians.

Countess Now Farmer's Wife

New York, Nov. 29.—Countess Marie von Lisch, who has also held the title of Duchess von Wittelsbach, daughter of Duke Ludwig of Bavaria, and niece of the late Emperor Wilhelm II, is now a farmer's wife in New York.

The countess, who is 66 years old, and who was banished from Austria for 12 years ago, in connection with the tragic end of her cousin, Crown Prince Rudolf, and Marie Valerie, who were found dead in a hunting lodge near Vienna, accepted an offer of marriage from Meyer while she was working as a servant in Berlin. The farmer heard of her plight in newspapers, and proposed to her by mail. Neither had ever seen the other until the countess came here last August with her son, Count Karl von Lisch.

The marriage took place in a little cottage in Elizabeth, N. J., on Sept. 2, by Mayor John F. Kensh. After that they went to California before returning to New York. They will return to the Meyers farm in Florida, where Count Karl will help his father on the farm and the countess will begin the life of a farmer's wife.
