JAIL OR FINE AND JAIL WITHOUT FINE IS BRADY SENTENCE

Charges Included Striking Policeman—Shannon Says Guilty to Taking Liquor From Uncle's Saloon

Magistrate Ritchie in the police court this morning imposed sentence in the case of Fred Thomas Brady, finding him 88 or thirty days for drunkenness, $32 or four months for resisting the police and two months in jail without the option of a fine for striking Policeman O'Leary in the guard room. The policeman told the judge seeing Brady in Charlotte street, and after the prisoner refusing to go home, took him in charge on drunkenness charges. On the way to the police station, he said, Brady violently resisted, but with the assistance of Sergeant Enley two citizens Brady was handcuffed and taken to the lock-up. After the handcuffs were removed the witness said that Brady struck him in the face with his fist.

George Gilles, given in charge by Captain Enley of the steamer Ramore Head for refusing duty, was remanded.

William Shannon, arrested on the charge of breaking and entering the saloon of Matthew Harding, Paradise row, on the night of March 3 or the morning of the 4th, pleaded guilty. Mr. Harding told of finding his place of business open on Tuesday morning and the lock on the back door broken and a window smashed. The broken lock was found on the floor and a large bar of iron was found outside the broken window. He told of meeting the defendant, who is his nephew in the street near his store on the night before his discovery of the break.

Detective Killen testified that he was notified of the robbery and went to the defendant's house, where the defendant told him that it was he who had broken into his uncle's store. The witness obtained two bottles of liquor at the house and was told by the prisoner that he had also taken a third bottle, which was drunk by him and another man who, he said, had nothing to do with the break. He then locked the prisoner up. Shannon was remanded.

The case of John Jeffrey, charged with stealing an overcoat from 10 Charlotte street on last Friday, was taken up. He pleaded guilty. Leese Williams, dealer in second-hand clothes in Dock street, told of the defendant being in his store on Friday and selling him an overcoat, and signing an entry in a book kept for the purpose. The witness identified the coat as the one sold him and also identified the entry in the book. This, however, was signed D. Wilkins, 20 Bookbind road. The prisoner was remanded for three days.

Two men were fined $8 or thirty days for drunkenness.

The case of assault against Hum One, Hum Xuen and Hum Wing was finished this morning, the magistrate fining each of them $50.

MANY NEW HOUSES AND BUSINESS HOMES TO GO UP THIS SPRING

Architects Report Many Orders and it Promises Busy Building Year

According to the local architects this will be one of the busiest building seasons in the history of St. John. There are several large buildings to be erected here, including the post office, the Bank of Montreal, North America building, and the warehouses for Vasic & Co., Ltd., and the McClary Co., Ltd. The Merchants' Bank of Canada, The Quebec Bank, and Armstrong & Bruce are remodeling buildings in Prince William street for modern office buildings. A large amount of other work is projected, and for some of it the plans are already complete, and in other cases they are under consideration.

The erection of dwelling houses is being undertaken this spring on a larger scale than usual in order to meet the demand for increased accommodation. F. Neil Brodie is at present at work on plans for six North America building, and the Douglas Avenue, Mount Pleasant and the south end, with two in Rothersey, Garnett W. Wilson has in hand plans for about ten new dwellings, including four in Claridon street and others in various parts of the city.

Messrs. Mott also reports an unusually busy spring and the other city architects give the same news.

It is unusual to find building plans as far advanced at this time of the year, as they are this spring and this is taken as a sign of an unusually large season's work in order to plans which are already under way.

SEEK MISSING NORTH END MAN HEIR TO FORTUNE

Share of a New York Estate Awaits Thomas Bradley—Last Here Four Years Ago

For Thomas Bradley of North End, blacksmith, aged sixty-five, who has not been heard from by relatives in the last four years, there is a fortune waiting in New York. Definite word of him is also necessary in order that distribution of a large estate there be made. Other St. John members of the family also are to share. For these reasons a search that will cover all possible places where his work might take him was started today by his nephew, Thomas Bradley, who came from New York a few days ago for this specific purpose. The nephew is a son of Charles Bradley of North End, and will direct his search from his father's house, 129 Main street.

The estate is that of Daniel Cunningham, who died in New York on October 8, 1911, at the age of ninety-four. He was a native of Ireland, who had crossed to the United States as his younger days and for forty-five years resided in a residential business. From time to time he invested his savings in real estate and at the time of his death was possessed of more than a score of parcels of property in sections of the city that made it very valuable. Some years ago Thomas Bradley, Jr., a grand nephew, left here for New York, and he has since been business agent for the estate.

Following the death of Mr. Cunningham and the usual court procedure, the property has been gradually disposed of and the proceeds now are ready for distribution, as soon as there is word from the missing St. John heir.

Thomas Bradley, for whom search is made, is a blacksmith and devoted himself chiefly to railway work. This took him all over the maritime provinces and Maine, and often a long time would elapse before he would return or before there would be any word of him. As stated, it is four years now since he was here. His nephew will travel through the provinces, tracing his movements and meanwhile hoping that word of the search will reach the missing man or any who know of him and that his mission will thus be accomplished.

BRUSSELS STREET AND ROTHESAY DEALS IN REAL ESTATE

British Columbia Man Buys in City—Upper Canadians in Suburb

Brussels street continues to attract the attention of real estate investors. Several additional transfers in this street have been reported during the last week or two and another is announced today. The latest is the sale of a freshhold property, 298 Brussels street, lot 25 by 100 feet, with wooden building, used as a dwelling. The property is located on the eastern side of the street between Clarence and Brunswick streets. It was sold by Allison & Thomas to a British Columbia investor.

Rothersey is the latest district to attract the attention of sub-dividers. It is reported that a block of land containing about seventy acres situated on the outskirts of the village, has been purchased by an Upper Canadian syndicate, who are planning to put it on the market in building lots to meet the demand for building sites in this attractive suburb.

EXPLORER MAWSON SENDS A MESSAGE

Sydney, N. S. W., March 4.—Another wireless message has been received from Dr. Douglas Mawson, the Antarctic explorer, who is now in Adelie Land. It announces that he is expecting the arrival of the steamer Aurora daily, and will attempt to embark, although he is not hopeful that he will succeed owing to the heavy winds. The dispatch throws no further light on the death of Lieut. Nimmo and the other members of the Mawson expedition, who perished early in 1912.
