Mrs. Maurice M. Du Bois, who was Miss Adele Leveille, a pretty Southern girl, is the heroine of a real romance. Mrs. Du Bois sent $2 from her Southern home to the Lafayette Fund, in New York, last winter, to send a kit to one of the soldiers in the trenches. Maurice Du Bois, a member of a French regiment, received the kit at Christmas. When he saw the card he remembered a playmate in Nancy when he was a boy by the same name. He wrote to the Lafayette Fund and found it was the same girl. He then wrote to the girl, promising to come and see her. She was delighted to hear of her friend, and instead of waiting for him, went to France. Maurice was wounded when she arrived. After finding him in a hospital she nursed him back to health and they were married recently in Paris. After the ceremony Maurice was decorated for conspicuous gallantry.
