

DR. HARRIS VICTIM OF SHOOTING AFFAIR WILL LIKELY DIE

Refutes Story of Assailant and Friends Strongly Support His Statement — Autopsy to be Held.

St. John, July 19.—The autopsy on the body of Dr. Celia Adams, who, according to the police, poisoned herself yesterday a few hours before her fiancé, Dr. Eldridge D. Atwood, shot and probably fatally wounded Dr. Wilfred St. Harris, was anticipated today as likely to have an important bearing on the motive of the crime, as explained by Atwood. The only light thrown on the episode and assault, which aroused peculiar interest because of the prominence of the persons involved, was volunteered by Atwood, who told the police that the young woman had intimated to him, the night before her death, that she could not marry him because she had been compromised by Dr. Harris.

Atwood, a youth of 23 years, was arraigned in court this morning and in default of bonds of $15,000 was committed to jail for a further hearing on July 25. The proceedings were brief. The prisoner was not represented by counsel, and did not plead. He appeared calm and later said that he had nothing to add to the statement which he made when he was placed under arrest last night. The adjournment of the case was expected in view of the condition of Dr. Harris. It was stated at the hospital that he was very low, and it was feared he could not survive many hours.

The version of the cause of the shooting given by Atwood was scouted by Dr. Harris during a lucid period. He referred to his assailant as "a young fool." The wounded man's statement was stoutly supported by many friends. Both Miss Adams, who was 27 years of age, and Atwood had been pupils at the Massachusetts College of Osteopathy, of which Dr. Harris was head and according to mutual acquaintances he had counselled the young man against marrying a girl so much his senior. Frances F. Adams, the father of the girl, stated that he also opposed the match.

Will Hold Autopsy. Late last night, medical examiner George B. Magrath communicated with the district attorney's office, which approved an autopsy. There were indications that the girl had died from an overdose of a drug administered, as she was found lying in her office, the door of which had been well secured from within. It was understood, however, that the general physical condition of Miss Adams would be determined, with a view to substantiating or disproving the motive of the shooting, as alleged by Atwood.

Dr. Harris is described by mutual acquaintances as standing high in his profession, and socially. He led the fight in the legislature for the legal recognition of the practice of osteopathy. Originally he was a general practitioner, and after he had taken up osteopathy many of his patients still insisted upon going to him for advice, and to these he prescribed medicines of the old school whenever he deemed them necessary. His wife, who acted as his secretary, was formerly Miss Jean C. H. Van Allen, of Morrisburg, Ont. Their home is in Cambridge.

Luxemburg Will Get Food Supplies. Luxembourg, July 18, via Berlin and London, July 19.—It is given out in official circles that there is a prospect that Luxembourg will begin shortly to receive American food supplies on the same basis as Belgium. France and Great Britain having finally abandoned their objections advanced on the ground that supplies might be requisitioned by the German authorities. Hence nothing remains but to secure the consent of the German government for the transshipment of supplies to Luxembourg.

CAPT. BENJAMIN DOANE VETERAN SEA CAPTAIN DIES IN BAYONNE, N. J.

Born in Nova Scotia and Sailed to Australia Before Gold Strike—Was 93 Years Old.

New York, July 19.—Captain Benjamin Doane, one of the oldest ship masters of the port of New York, died suddenly of general debility in his ninety-third year, at the home of his son, Mr. Francis H. Doane, in Bayonne, N. J. He was born in Barrington, N. S., in 1823, and went to sea when fourteen years old. In the early forties he made a whaling voyage to the Pacific, going to Australia before the discovery of gold, and to Japan before that country was opened to the world. He began clearing with ships from New York in 1853, at first in the Mediterranean fruit trade and later in the employ of Matland, Phelps & Company, to South America.

In the civil war he was commissioned a captain in the volunteer navy, but was never called into service. For ten years Captain Doane commanded ships of the Lorillard Steamship Company until it was merged with the Clyde Line in 1876, when he continued with the latter until his retirement from the sea in 1890. Since then he had resided in Plainfield, N. J.

Minister from Switzerland Learns that Pres. Wilson Feels Time Not Opportune to Try to Secure Peace.

Washington, July 19.—The minister from Switzerland, Dr. Paul Ritter, today discussed the prospects of peace in Europe with Acting Secretary of State Polk. He indicated afterward that his talk had been without tangible results. The minister called at the state department to ask whether there was any foundation for various reports recently circulated regarding President Wilson's desire to see peace negotiations initiated. It is understood that he was informed that the attitude of the government was unchanged, that while the President hoped for peace and was ready to do anything he properly could to aid in bringing it about, no step was in contemplation at this time.

White House officials have let it be known that the President saw no prospect of immediate developments which might make possible a move in the direction of restoring peace. Switzerland is profoundly interested in peace, not only from a humanitarian standpoint but on account of her own serious situation in the midst of war. The country is experiencing great difficulty in obtaining food, most of which has to be brought from the United States.

Any Woman's Struggle For Good Health Quickly Rewarded

A SIMPLE HOME TREATMENT NOW ADVOCATED THAT GIVES FINE RESULTS. When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong. Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment.

At the close of every meal, with a sip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine. Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination. By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color. By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability. Elimination is assured because Ferrozone quickens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health. Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health. Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly, not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone. As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Ferrozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

MARCH 9 MILES FOR REVIEW BY KING, BUT IT WAS WORTH IT, KING'S CO. MAN WRITES

Pte. F. A. Weldon, who joined 74th Battalion at Ottawa, Describes Great Review by King George and Gen. French.

The following letter has been received by a friend from Pte. F. A. Weldon, a former Kings County man, now with the 74th Battalion at Bramshott Camp, England, who sailed at Ottawa where he was connected with the civil service: Bramshott Camp, Eng. July 2nd, 1916.

Dear Friend, Sports are being held today, instead of Saturday, owing to the review at Farnham Plains by the King. We had a hard march of nine miles in the heat, but it was worth while. It was a grand sight, the Canadian troops filled a space of two square miles, and I was close enough to the King to hear remarks that he made to General French, as they rode along the front. The King was dressed in khaki and looked very nice. Hon. George E. Foster and Hon. Mr. Parley were in the party also. The Queen came in an auto but I did not see her. After the preliminary review, we all marched past the King. The artillery first, then the infantry in long parallel lines with fixed bayonets. The march past lasted an hour and a half, then we had dinner and marched back to camp with blistered feet, but all in the best of spirits.

Will Hunter has arrived in the 77th. He is sergeant-major of a company. They are in tents across the road from our lines. He is looking fine. I have met a lot of fellows I knew before I came over. It is more like home here now. Our camp is nearly as large as St. John and all Canadians. We go on another route march tomorrow, but the roads are excellent and we do not mind it much.

I must close now and go over and watch the sports for a while. There is a big crowd of wounded soldiers attending. They wear a loose uniform of pale blue. Hoping you all are well, I remain, Your sincere friend, PTE. F. A. WELDON, 74th Battalion.

MAY CONSTRUE GR. BRITAIN'S ACTION AS UNFRIENDLY

U. S. State Dept. Delays Action on Blacklisting of Firms Pending Word from Ambassador Page.

New York, July 19.—An Associated Press despatch from Washington says: "Action on Great Britain's blacklist of nearly one hundred firms doing business in the United States under the terms of the Trading With the Enemy Act, is being delayed by the state department with the exception that Ambassador Page at London will send some sort of a report. If a report does not arrive soon the department probably will cable an inquiry, which, in turn, will be presented to the British foreign office. At the state department today it was said every development was being carefully observed, and there were some intimations that Great Britain's latest action might be construed as unfriendly."

THE SONG OF SONGS

Search the pages of lyric literature from Pindar and Sappho to Swinburne and Shelley. Hasten fleet-foot through the centuries from the building of the Pyramids down to this two thousandth Anno Domini—and where will you find another love song like unto Solomon's? 'Tis a suite of seven lyric idylls, sung by the beautiful Shulamite maiden and her royal lover, with a haunting chorus by the shadowy Daughters of Jerusalem in the background. 'Tis the rapture of human passion glorified and transfigured in the radiance of celestial love.

Its verses are the very soul of music. They sigh like the woods-wind in the silences of the night. They throb with the rhythm of immemorial seas upon the shores of Time. They sparkle like the gems of far-famed Golconda. They are redolent of Sabeen odors from the spicy gardens of Araby the Blest. Our pulses thrill to their compelling cadences. We renew our own youth, with its springtime of love, in their lyric ecstasy, and dwell again in those Elysian fields where music, and moonlight, and feeling are one.

Amidst the jungle of modern verse making, with its monotonous jingle—how refreshing to turn to the Song of Songs, with its lilting measures, its felicitous frankness, its marvelous imagery. The very breath of the vernal year blows through it with bird-song and ripple of waters; with waving field and verdant vineyard; with fringed woodland and flowery mead.

The Wedding Day; the Bride's Memories; the Day of Betrothal; the King's Meditations; the Bride's longing for her old home in Lebanon; the Renewal of the Vows in the Vineyard—these make the seven lyrics that contain poetry enough to furnish forth seven times seven volumes of modern verse. Small wonder that the Ages call it the "Song of Songs"!
