my warning before it is

I reply that she heard of staying at home—
way, frolicking and they ran far, far mountain home.

Nature would have us
be sure there is much more in the big world than the little.

That is not why I am running another stream. "I am calling you at night, loud calls for the waves says there is much for much for us to see, but all we owe it to him to call, for all the waters on."

Nature knew all this and those that every little kind calls for the waves by the big Ocean and told by the bubbles
and bubbles over the stones the sunlight, for they are a part of the great lost forever.

On went the runways, they leaped over all the
to hold them back to the Ocean, we can see their reply, as they they came near the dashing waves.

another, "I am afraid," too late, for the waves in their strong leaping carried them far out into never again would they or streams or bubbles s, but just a part of the Ocean.

They saw strange and new things and the waves of the Ocean. I am at those runways streams and little rivers often
the mountain where each had a name as they had or ran in the sunlight.

QUALIFYING FOR TESTS
The sixteen boys who have been selected as the patrol leaders of the two troops of Catholic Boy Scouts which are to be raised, are working hard to qualify for their ranks. Yesterday the boys under the direction of V. C. Timmerly, the local Boy Scout organizer, and the two scout masters, P. J. Jennings and W. E. Strling, spent several hours on Morse signaling at the Y.M.C.I.

CENTRAL BAPTIST C. G. I. T. PROGRAMME
"The Flowers of Dreamland" was the title of a pretty play presented by the C. G. I. T. of Central Baptist Church in their schoolroom last evening under the supervision of their director, Mrs. F. H. Bone.

The stage was prettily decorated and the effective costumes worn, together with the clever acting created a very pleasing impression on the audience.

During the evening a solo was rendered by Miss Jean Ald, who had as her accompanist Miss Jean Hoyt.

These taking part were: Genera Jenner, Amie Scalpin, Lillian Price, Marie Collier, Mona Alwood, Marion McFarlane, Alma Wiles, Hilda McKnight, Gladys Dykeman, Princess Staggman, Myrtle Vincent, Lillian Wilson, Myrtle Philip.

Improvement In Hubbell's Condition
Philadelphia National League Pitcher Had Skull Fractured by Batted Ball Thursday.

Philadelphia, May 26.—A marked improvement in the condition of Wilbur Hubbell, Philadelphia National League pitcher, whose skull was fractured by a batted ball yesterday, was noted tonight by Dr. John A. Beger, the club's physician.

Dr. Beger said there was no doubt of Hubbell's recovery unless unexpected complications arise. "He will be out of the hospital in a few weeks," said the doctor, "but it will be some time before he is able to play ball."

"Babe" Ruth is Fined $200 and Removed from Captaincy of New York Americans.

Chicago, May 26.—Babe Ruth was fined $200 and removed from the captaincy of the New York American Club by Dan Johnson, president of the American League this afternoon.

President Johnson gave his ruling after considering the reports of the umpire officiating in yesterday's game at New York between New York and Washington when Ruth disputed a decision of Umpire Hildebrand and later climbed into the stand after a fan had made a remark to which he took exception. President Johnson's finding automatically removes the ruling that Ruth was ineligible to play, which was promulgated by the American League head pending an investigation.

"The Ruth incident in New York on Thursday is much to be regretted," President Johnson's ruling said. "The player's conduct was highly reprehensible, but when all the facts are weighed there is a measure of consideration for him. Ruth has just finished a sentence of unprecedented severity, running through a period of 30 days of suspension, which disqualified him from practice with his team prior to the commencement of a game. Without this necessary work, the player lost his batting eye, and returned to the game in a great degree unprepared to match the skill of pitchers who have about reached the high water mark of proficiency. As a natural sequence he failed utterly in his prowess as a batter, much to the disappointment of an excited and none too indulgent public. The hero of a year ago was ridden by the fans, and at times sharply did not possess the mental strength and stability to brave the intense reversal of public opinion. It served to warp his playing ability, and for days he has been nervous and irritable."

GAME THIS AFTERNOON
Everything is set for a great game of ball on St. Peter's Park this afternoon between St. Peter's and Garrison clubs. Each team will have their strongest line up, and a large crowd is expected. The players of both clubs had a good work out last evening.
