me Germans, it is said, are ask-Roumania to give assurances of continued neutrality, and also tervenes in the war on the side of the Teutonic allies. With a big Russian army in Bessarabia, how-ever, it is believed in military circles here hardly likely that Roumania will accept the second alternative. On the whole, it is expected here that the firm attitude of the En-tente Powers toward Greece will clear the Balkan situation before very long.

GORIZIA SOON TO FALL There is little news of importance from any of the other fronts. The Italians, by their continued offensive, are strengthening their positions around Gorizia, which it is believed cannot held out much longer. On the western front the British and French artillery has become more active in Flanders and Champagne, which on previous occasions has been the signal for offensive movements. The Russians, since they regained the ground they lost along the Styr river, have been inactive, except for minor attacks in the Dvinsk region. The Petrograd correspondent, however, predicts that more important events are impending.

Petrograd Reports That Recent Serbian Success Will Block Opening of Road to Constantinople

With Admirable Courage, Serbians Fight Against Superior Forces in Effort to Delay Bulgarians at Prilep-British Report That New Allied Forces Are Acting Only on Defensive Not Encouraging.

Petrograd, via London, Nov. 22—Advices received by the Serian legation today concerning the defeat of the Bulgarians near last Saturday said the Serb victory was expected to delay inefinitely the re-opening of the railway to Constantinople.

London, Nov. 23—The Times' Vodena, Greece, correspondent, elegraphing Thursday, says:

"The Bulgarian forces halting six miles east of Prilep, are re-rted to have been taken in the rear by Serbians advancing from techanik and reinforced by troops from the Albanian frontier. The use in the Bulgarian advance on Menastir would be explained by taff has forbidden a Bulgarian occupation of Monastir, this opertion being reserved for the Austro-German army.

"An American sanitary commission, which passed through here sterday on the way to Saloniki, says the Serbians, although they re outnumbered and not so well equipped with guns, are playing a lelaying movement against the Bulgarians between Prilep and Montir with admirable courage, being determined to inflict the greatest e losses on the enemy, and to retard his advance as long as

"Responsibility for the failure to effect the junction rests neither with the French nor the Serblans, but rather upon a number of circumstances of which not the least was the difficulty of transport over a single track ill-equipped line of railway, which runs a crooked course from Saloniki, with grass growing between the rails. As soon as the Serblans drew back from the Bahuna pass, the objective of the French offensive disappeared and they have been content since that time with defending their positions.

Officers Lost in September Officers Lost in September Officers Lost in September Officers Casualty lists for the fortnight of the darmy, in all theatres of the war, lost 474 officers killed, 837 wounded and 147 missing—a total of 1,468, which brings the war, to 19,668. Of these, 6,030 have died of wounds, 11,952 wounded, and 1,683 recorded as missing.

Losses have again been heavy amongst officers of high rank, Major-General Frederick D. V. Wing and Brigadier-General Bruce missing. Five other brigadder-generals are wounded, while the names of four colonels and ten lieutenant-colonels are among the killed.

Officers Lost in September officers who died later of wounds, was only 768."

Field Marshal French, in his latest report, declares that the German coummunication refers to only a small portion of the battlefield, and reiterates that all information confirms his original estimate. The text of the statement follows:

"Our artillery have during the past four days earried out an organized bombardment of many portions of the hostille lines with great effect. later are for the allied offensive in September of the character. "The enemy made air raids on Poperinghe on Nov. 18 and 20. No damage whatever was done to the railway, or any building, in the first raid. Two soldiers were wounded and four cows were killed. In the second raid one bomb caused casualties to eight men. None of the others had any effect.

"With regard to the enemy's denial of my (Field Marshal French's) estimate of his losses in killed on October 8, he apparently is attempting to deceive by referring only to one small portion of the battleficid, while my report referred to the whole attack on the eighth of October. The enemy attacked, not only to the southwest of Loos but also southeast and northeast of that place. All further information obtained, including this report of the casualties southwest this report of the casualties southwes of Loos, confirms my original estimate.
