FLOOD RELIEF WEEK

S A C Plans Fund-Raising Programme

This week is to be a BIG one in the annals of the newly formed Students' Activities Commission. An all-out drive to raise funds to go to the European countries that were so drastically ravished by recent floods, is now swinging into action. This appeal is part of a national university drive.

At UNB, we have already started our campaign with a Tag Day last Friday. The Ladies' Society looked after this effort and were able to collect $95.00 on Tuesday, movies of the Netherlands, Winter Sports and an All-Star Variety Show were shown and similar movies will be shown today at noon. Today's movies include a short of Wildlife and one of the Happy Gang. Any notice board carries the information as to where and when.

Tomorrow night will be the high light of the week—a variety show in the Memorial Hall. This is something that no one will want to miss, as the faculty band, Bev Macaulay, Ted Cleland, Gunsmoke and many more strut their style. This will be a completely spontaneous affair and will prove well worth the 25 cents admission—in laughs if nothing else.

And to finish the week in good old UNB style the Brunswickan and Year Book staffs are sponsoring a dance at the Armouries, Saturday night. Dick Ballance and his Hungry Five will be supplying the music and we hope that our students will turn out in full force to make a grand climax to a great week.

Saturday will be the final day of the Fund Drive. Members of the SAC committee will meet late that evening to ascertain the total subscriptions raised during the week and forward the money to the European Relief Fund.

UIS TO HOLD DINNER

The University Investment Syndicate has been hard at it this term keeping a watch out for stock market profits. Gluted with money as a result of Ladulama investments they have decided to have an annual meeting and dinner at the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel. The dinner will be followed by an election of officers for the next college year.

The treasurer of the syndicate, Alf Johnston, in a preliminary report, says that at the club now has more than $600 invested in mining stocks of nine companies, which total more than 6000 shares.

The president of the syndicate reports that more than a dozen students have indicated their desire to become members next year. Since it is not in the best interests of the club to have more than 50 members, Bill Reddin asks that all students who have definite plans for joining the club next year, submit their names now so that they may be assured of a membership.

Last night the syndicate met in the Arts Building and heard stock reports from Pete Trueman, Derek Gemmell, John Carstairs, Pete Atkinson and other members. After a period of heavy investment the syndicate decided to postpone further investment for two weeks.

Next Wednesday, February 25, the syndicate will hear another informed talk from R. A. Lambert, Investment Broker. All students are invited to attend.

ART CENTRE NOTICE

This Sundays programme will include:

Bralius, Symphony No. 1.
Mozart, Piano Concerto in A, K.412.

Debussy, L'Après-midi d'un Faune.

Systems Pay Off

The University of New Brunswick Gymnasium was turned into a gambler's paradise last Saturday as Foresters sponsored their annual Monte Carlo to raise funds in the basement of the Gym after the regular Friday night basketball game.

Games of chance included horse-racing, roulette, over and under and electric roulette devised on an unbeatable system.

25 cents was exchanged at the Monte Carlo bank for $2500. The evening also included dancing and dining.

DALHOUSIE GAZETTE ATTACKED BY PULPIT

Halifax (CUP)—A copy of the Dalhousie Gazette was torn to pieces in the pulpit of one of Halifax's churches. The copy of the Gazette contained a satire of the movie "The Miracle of Fatima" which played there the latter half of January.

The headline of the satire was "Miracle of Sunova Beach" which the editor claimed was completely free of indecent language. It was followed by a deluge of letters from students and leading Halifax citizens.

Year Book Writeups

Would the presidents of clubs and societies, and the managers of athletic teams please prepare write-ups of their groups activities for the Year Book as soon as possible.

For those that have major activities in March, the deadline for their writeups is March 15. Would others please see that theirs are completed by February 28th. It is very important in the preparation of the Year Book that these reports be submitted on time. They can be left in the "G" Box, Arts Bldg. or the Year Book box at the SRC Office.

The Canadian Collegiate Corpuscule Cup which has been donated by the Forest Club of the University of British Columbia for annual competition. The Cup, which stands eighteen inches high, is a blood transfusion bottle mounted on a wooden base. The base is Acer Macrophyllum, better known as broad leaf or British Columbia Maple.

WHAT'S IN YOUR VEINS

The other day a Forester overheard an engineer telling one of his classmates that Foresters have sap in their veins instead of blood. The rightously indignant Forester said "Yeah, just wait til the blood clinic, you'll see". Well, we'll ALL soon see just what runs in the bushmen's veins. The annual blood clinic is due to take place in the Gym on February 25th and 26th.

The reasons for having an annual blood drive are good. First our entry into the blood drive puts us into competition with every university in Canada. The university with the highest percentage of donations receives as a trophy the "Corpuscule Cup", which was donated by the Forest Club of the University of British Columbia. The second good reason for having a blood drive is of a humanitarian nature. Your blood donation may save someone's life. Here's an example—last fall a farmer was doing some plowing out near Stanley. Since he was a keen hunter he carried his shotgun with him on the tractor just in case, —well, you hunters know what I mean. This time he saw the deer that he had hoped to see. While he was reaching for his gun he managed to shoot himself through the liver. Liver operations are quite messy and this was no exception, seventy-nine transfusions were needed but blood was available from the Red Cross and the patient lived. Next year he plans to do his hunting on foot. It's quite possible that some of that blood came from a UNB student, it might have been any one of us.

UNB TAKES HALIFAX DEBATE

University of New Brunswick debaters are very busy this week preparing for the Maritime Intercollegiate Debate, which will decide who will go to the Canadian finals in Winnipeg, early next month.

By unanimous decision Don McPhail and Norman Fert won the debate with King's University in Halifax on Monday night, upholding the affirmative of the resolution "Resolved that television in Canada should be controlled by the government through the CBC as it is at present." The judges for this debate were Mr. Justice J. H. MacQuarrie, judge of the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia; Dr. Meagher, Barrister and lecturer at Dalhousie University; and Mr. R. T. Hancock, director of the Maritime School of Social work.

Dave Vine and Bill Barwick are representing UNB at Saint Thomas on Saturday, where they will uphold the affirmative of the topic "Resolved that Latin and Greek should be removed as compulsory courses in universities." On Monday, February 23, Ian Whitcomb and Bill Reddin will debate against Dalhousie supporting the affirmative of the resolution, "Resolved that Canada should have a unitary form of government." This will be a very interesting debate and all students as well as the public are welcome. The debate will be held at the Art Centre at 8:50 p.m.

The winners of the Canadian finals in Winnipeg will receive an expense-paid trip to South Africa this summer.

Lazure Banned From U.S.A.

The Students Executive Council of Mount Allison University has urged NFCUS to make representation to both the American and Canadian governments on the behalf of Denis Lazure, past chairman of NFCUS who has been barred from the United States.

Lazure, a graduate of the University of Montreal, and a former president of its student council, was enroute to Pennsylvania to be interviewed for an internship. When he identified himself, the officials had a dossier concerning him. Lazure was told the refusal was temporary, and further investigation would be necessary. This, he is informed, may take three or four months, so he had to give up his plans for interning in the United States.

The Mount Allison Council has carried a resolution urging NFCUS to contact the Department of External Affairs regarding Lazure and any other Canadian students who have travelled behind the Iron Curtain, and may be similarly barred, and also contact officials of the United States government with the same purpose.

The Council felt that Lazure's exclusion rested on two points: the fact that he had travelled behind the Iron Curtain, in East Berlin, Warsaw and Prague, where he attended a meeting of the Communist dominated IUS as an observer for NFCUS, and that he was the first to advocate the Russian-Canadian student exchange. The Council also felt that other student leaders in NFCUS might find themselves in similar situations, and that the full facts of the case should be known.

Changes In Editorial Staff Of Brunswickan

The next issue of the Brunswickan will have a new Editor-in-chief, Neil Marsh Oakley. Mr. Oakley's application for the position has been accepted by the SRC, upon the resignation of present editor, Betty Lou Vincent, who has held the position since December, 1951.

Neil has had experience in the newspaper field as a member of the staff of the Dalhousie Gazette, of Halifax, and as correspondent for the Saint John Telegraph-Journal. Although this is his first year Up the Hill, this business administration student has already spent an active year as an actor and publicity director of the Drama Society.

Frank Walton, former Sports Editor, will become the Brunswickan News Editor under Mr. Oakley's editorship.

St. Laurent Says No Action Re Education

Prime Minister Louis Saint Laurent has announced that the government will not act on the Massey Report Recommendation regarding education. Speaking at the National Executive Meeting of NFCUS held in Ottawa over the weekend, the Prime Minister said that federal aid to students would not be considered at present. He claimed that taxes at present are high enough, and people wanted them lowered. Mr. St. Laurent stated that much had already been done about the Massey Report, and the present taxation problem would make further action impossible. He seemed optimistic in the hope that the recommendatons would "come in time", but he could make no promises and the NFCUS recommendation that students obtain federal aid through loans, scholarships and bursaries, will probably not be brought up at this session.

NFCUS decided at the meeting to present a brief to the railways this week, requesting a fifty percent reduction of all rail fares for students, equivalent to that given the clergy. The executive also requested campus committees to seek reduction of local tram and bus fares equal to those given to high school students.

High hopes were expressed that unemployment insurance will be abolished for students engaged in summer employment. "The government representative was most sympathetic", and promised to give the problem his earnest consideration", the report read.

The department of External Affairs promised NFCUS to look into the refusal of the United States to admit Denis Lazure to the country. A brief was presented to the Under Secretary of State, Dana Wilgress, who promised to study the matter, but would have to consider it as an individual case and handle it through regular diplomatic channels. The Canadian government has no grounds to object to foreign countries' immigration policies, he stated.
