

ENGLISHMEN IN THE WEST.

THE NECESSITY FOR AN EFFORT TO FORM NEW S.O.E. LODGES.

Lessons Taught by Recent Events—Juvenile Lodges the Basis of the Order in the Future.

[From our Winnipeg Correspondent.]

"Whoso is wise will ponder these things." These words are almost the last in the psalm used in the morning service on the 22nd day of the month. Although not the text from whence the Hon. Chaplain of Westward Ho Lodge, Revd. Canon Coombes, preached a most delectable sermon on the occasion of the church parade of the Sons of England, the St. George's Society, and the Manchester Unity of Oddfellows, yet it may prove more applicable as an introduction to a few words your Manitoba correspondent has to say about this and other matters. It is not three years until October next since the name of the Sons of England, B. S., was brought prominently before the Englishmen of this city. On Sunday the 22nd ult., Rogation Sunday, upwards of two hundred Sons of England, not to mention the contingent from St. George's Society, the M. U., I. O. F., and a juvenile lodge of the latter, paraded the streets from their respective halls to the chief Episcopal church preceded by the citizens band.

That such an assemblage made a good show in the church itself, should go without saying, but the most pleasing sight of all to the writer's eyes was the group of English youths which formed the juvenile lodge of the Manchester Unity; their

BRIGHT, FRESH, AND ROSY FACES, without drawing unfavorable comparisons with other races, were a sight calculated to call up in the mind of every Englishman pleasant recollections of long ago, when he too, unworn and unsullied, by the toils and strife of the fierce battle for existence, had taken his place on some public occasion within the sacred vane of some church yet dear to his recollection in the land of his birth. It surely does not require much wisdom in the modern sense of the term, not only to ponder, but to draw an inference from the object lesson which was here displayed before our eyes. The question at once suggests itself, What are the Sons of England doing, in Winnipeg, they have not ere this set about forming a juvenile lodge of the order? What indeed? We may rest assured that at least ninety per cent of boys who once join the juvenile order, will when they are old enough, become members of our adult lodges which they will enter with the advantage of a previous training when their minds were in a plastic state, and that also they will most probably be imbued with a fervid patriotism which all the exigencies of their after life are not likely to eradicate; in point of fact, one member of a lodge recruited from the ranks of such a training school, may, one would think, reasonably be considered equal to two average members, their stability as to the continuance of membership being controlled by a power within their own minds which would prevent them "dropping out" at times when something occurred in their lodge which did not just meet their approval.

Again, it is not to be supposed that the large number of "Sons" assembled were all members of the Winnipeg lodges. No indeed, there was quite a contingent of VISITING BRETHREN, members of eastern lodges. The whole North West is full of such, yet there is no other town save Selkirk, one might say a suburb of Winnipeg, where these wanderers can find a lodge to visit till they reach Qu'Appelle in Assiniboia, or Calgary at the foot hills of the Rocky Mountains. Again may we ponder; yes, and if we dare say it, wonder at the strange apathy which is content to sit down year after year and leave all this vast territory, half of whose population are English, an uncontested prey to rival orders who, many of them, draw their inspirations from our anything but friendly neighbors to the South of us.

Your correspondent has enlarged so much upon the last two or three subjects there is but little space left to say that

THE SHAKESPEARIAN CONCERT was in every way a success, it having received the favourable commendation of the public through the local papers, and also, after paying all incidental expenses, netting to the benefit of our General Hospital some fifty four dollars.

In addition to the formation of a Juvenile Lodge, the Sons Of England annual picnic, the best method of propagating the Order in remote districts, and the formulation of W. R. D., by laws, our united lodges are busy with the scheme for building up the St. George's Society on a more popular basis. Committees on all these subjects are formed from the membership of both lodges, and long may this unity of feeling and community of interest, be the rule amongst us in Winnipeg, is the prayer of your Manitoba correspondent.

SAD DEATH OF A MEMBER OF THE S. O. E.

Percy C. Leaper Drowned at Orillia—Details of the Sad Occurrence.

On Monday evening, May 23rd., Percy C. Leaper and E. W. Earl, both employed at the Golden Beaver, Orillia, Ont., sailed over to Herring Island in a skiff. They were returning about half-past eight, and in attempting to come about between Heward's Point and Couchiching, the boat filled and had sunk about a foot, when Leaper, who was a capital swimmer, told his companion, who can swim but little, to hold on while he went ashore and got help. When Leaper jumped off the sail laid the boat over in the water, throwing Earl out. He scrambled on again, and heard Leaper calling at a short distance away. The voice soon ceased, and Earl did not afterwards see Leaper. Earl continued calling for help for some time, and he was heard by the daughters of Mr. Joseph Baye, who told their brother Harry. He went for John Brown, caretaker of Edinswold, and they went to the rescue about half-past nine. Earl was almost exhausted when they reached him. Parties were immediately organized, and both lake and shore searched as thoroughly as possible all that night and next day, without finding Leaper's body. Earl not being acquainted with the lake, was uncertain as to the exact place where the boat was swamped, and the search necessarily, covered a large area. The search was continued all day Tuesday, and on Wednesday, little else being talked of in town. On Wednesday evening, over twenty boats began a systematic search, which was soon rewarded by the grappling hook from Mr. Wade's steam yacht catching the body by a leg, and bringing it to the surface, where the hold was lost, and the body again sank in about twenty feet of water. Nearly half an hour was spent in dragging before the body was again brought up, and secured. It was evident that the unfortunate young man had died of cold, the limbs being in the attitude of swimming, the eyes closed, and no appearance of any struggle to be seen. He was about four hundred yards off Heward's Point, between the steamboat channel and the shoal, and must have gone but a short distance from the boat when death overtook him. The death of Mr. Percy Leaper, who was a well-known and much liked young man of twenty-three, cast a gloom over the town. He came out from England, to join his uncle and only relative now in Canada, Mr. H. F. Sinclair, when sixteen years of age, and has since been in the employ of his uncle and successors at the Golden Beaver. He was a member of St. James' church, and of the Sons of England. A sister, who resided here for some time, returned about two years ago, to the home of their parents who are living in England. Deceased was in the church parade of Lodge Hampton, Sons of England, the day before his sudden taking off.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Percy Leaper, on Thursday evening June 3rd was largely attended. Business was entirely suspended. The cortege was headed by the citizens' band, and the Sons of England attended in a body. In St. James' church the Rev. Canon Green made a few impressive remarks, which moved the large congregation deeply. At the grave the beautiful service of the Church of England was followed by that of the Order of Sons of England, read by Mr. E. C. Roper, Past President of Hampton Lodge, assisted by Town Councillor Sanderson.

Recruits for S. O. E. Lodges.

A correspondent writes from a locality which must be nameless at present: I am sorry we do not take more lively interest in the S. O. E. society here. I found an Englishman working on a building here the other morning who has been out here 13 years. He did not seem to know there was such a society as the Sons of England. I gave him an ANGLO-SAXON and copy of Aims and Objects of our Society. That is an instance of many others that goes to show that there is not much doing in making the order known to our fellow-countrymen who have settled in Canada. I wrote to a secretary of an Ottawa lodge telling him to look up an English man I had heard of who knew nothing about the society. There ought to be an organized effort to communicate with all Englishmen who are not members of the order and make them aware of the fact that such an institution is in existence.
