Butter.
I have heard that there is an article made and put on the market called dairy butter that is made out of 1 lb. good butter and 1 quart whole milk. I have been told that it was made in Guelph, Hamilton and other places by a machine called a merger. Can the above be made and put on the market either as dairy or farmer's butter? Has not butter to grade a certain thing as regards moisture, etc.? Is it lawful to put such an article on the market? If not, whose duty is it to look after the same?
