RAILWAY MATTERS

A joint meeting of the Railway committee of the City Council and the managing directors of the C., W. & L. E. electric railway, was held in Harrison Hall last evening, when the city's position in reference to the railway was thoroughly dis-cussed. It was decided to ask the company to draft out the conces-sions they want from the Council and submit them to the committee to-morrow evening, when they will be considered.

An engineer will arrive in the city and look over what is necessary to be done in the Third street bridge matter.

The name of W. J. Taylor was erroneously mentioned as one who signed the petition received at the last meeting of the Council, referring to new Third street bridge.

Police Make Quick Arrests in Harvie Murder Case.

seorge Stanley and the Fishers, Father and Son, In Custody-Former Admits Share In Murder and Names Several Others-Says He Was Not Altogether to Blame-Head Was Sawed Off.

Windsor, N. S., Feb. 7.—It was mid-night Tuesday night when Detective Singer arrived here with George Stan-ley, suspected of the murder of Freeman Harvie

They came in over terrible roads, and in a petting rain, from Ellershouse. The police brought with them also David Fisher, father of James Fisher, who was locked up earlier in the night.

Admits Share in Murder.

Stanley admitted to Singer that he had a share in the murder, but said he was not altogether to blame. The murder is supposed to have taken place Friday night, but Stanley's story place Friday night, but Stanley's story is that when he left Harvie's house early Saturday merning the old man was all right. He returned before long and heard noises down stairs, like voices of Fishers, and looking down into the darkness he shouted, "Do you want a light," and the answer came back "No."

Free Trip Acres Ocean With Easy Work and Good Pay Offened, But Prove a Delusion and a Snare-Hundreds Victims-Pay From $10 to $20 for Opportunity-The Governments to Enquire.

Portland, Me., Feb. 7.—That a scheme has been on foot for months to bring Canadian residents here on promises of free trips to Europe with good pay for light work on the voyage, and that a large number have accepted the offer and paid sums varying from $10 to $20 for an opportunity to cross the ocean in the capacity of an overworked and practically under-paid cattle tender, was brought to light yesterday.

The revelation was made by the representatives here of the various transational transations are summer of the various transations. free trips to Europe with good pay fo presentatives here of the various transAtlantic steamers, who, in conjunction with the British vice-consul, have secured a number of affidavits from the victims of the plan.

The men say they read advertisements offering a free trip from Bosten with good pay for little werk. They were met in Toronto and signed centracts, which they understeod carried good wages for the work, and they paid $16 and $15 each there.

In Montreal they later paid three dollars each to have a variation made in the terms, and to ship via Portland. The work on cattle steamers is, in fact, very hard, and the pay actuality inserted in the contracts was only a shilling per month, while no provisions were made for the return of the men to America.

The steamship officials estimate that the number of men brought here in this way will reach into the thousands, and they have laid the matter before the Canadian and British Goverants action.
