

MACDONALDISM.

Retrospect of the Last Session of Parliament.

Mr. John Macdonald's Political Creed—His Means and Methods of Government—General Results of the Session—Decay of Ministerial Strength—Loss of Irish and French Support.

Ottawa Correspondent Montreal Post.

OTTAWA, June 3.—The session which has just been brought to a conclusion will stand in history as the culmination of the parliamentary corruption in Canada. From the Prime Minister down to the faintest member of the Conservative side of the House were bidders. Acts of parliament were passed, subsidies granted, franchises conceded to political rings, private members and favored companies, directly transferring millions of money and acres of land from the public to these parties and persons. Transactions which have ever been held in all countries under the representative system of government to be dishonorable, disgraceful and to involve disqualification of the actors therein for the position of members of parliament, have been openly professed, justified and sanctioned by A MAJORITY VOTE.

This state of affairs is so utterly amazing, so contrary to the boasted virtue, enlightenment and philosophy of the century that we can only look for its parallel in the darkest periods of political guilt. Three centuries ago a man whose name has long been synonymous with subtle villainy in matters of Government wrote these words, which I think apply with sinister accuracy to Sir John Macdonald and his supporters:—"It is observable that hatred is obtained two ways, by good works and bad; and therefore a prince being willing to retain his jurisdiction, is oftentimes compelled to be bad. For if the chief of a party, whether it be the people, or army, or nobility which you think most useful and of most consequence to you for the conservation of your dignity, be corrupt, you must follow their humor and indulge them, and in that case honesty and virtue are pernicious." Had I not known that Sir John Macdonald was a close student of Machiavelli I would never have dreamed of going to "The Prince" in search of his maxims of Government. Current events, it is to be found in Canada at the close of the nineteenth century the same atrocious principles of government in full way that have long been regarded as applicable alone to Italy of the sixteenth century. The Florentine statesman, familiar to the vulgar as Old Nick, included in his system of successful politics the justifiable extermination of opponents, contempt for virtue, save as a means for retaining power, and the management of men through their passions. In all these things we find Sir John Macdonald's system in perfect accord. And this leads me to reflect that our Premier is more than

A MERE PARTY LEADER.

Ambitious of power, he takes his inspiration from the motives of those most necessary to his success. But, like all statesmen who have taken the Florence for a guide, he has confounded his own success with the ultimate good of the people. He cannot alter the attitude of his mind when circumstances change with the populace. He cannot, at this time of life, and after the career he has led, "take that part from Severus that is necessary for the foundation of his state, and from Marcus what is convenient to keep and defend it." Nevertheless, he has followed his exemplar. For is not the gerrymander and the franchise acts but the extension of the system? What is any virtue he may claim but mask or an instrument? What is his policy but systematic pandering to the most sordid passions of human nature? True, indeed, applied to him are the words, "In that case honesty and virtue are pernicious." If admission may be properly claimed for success achieved by methods like these, Sir John Macdonald deserves it. Under free institutions he has been able so to manage the machinery of constitutional representative government as to in a country populated by diverse nationalities, split into factions and of every range of intelligence. This would be great praise to bestow even on the highest political genius, but when we reflect that to secure this personal success he has demoralized the people, debauched Parliament, sanctified the Pirate code, dabbled in blood, made the hallmarks of civil war, devastation and lust his agents, are there terms in any language strong enough to express the horror and reprobation with which he must be regarded? Allied with reactionary, retrogressive aristocratic party of Great Britain, permeated, as he showed in the Orangeism, which now threatens civil war and the massacre of the Catholics of Ireland, his character and power for evil is such that we do not believe in retributive justice must await the rising of the Nemesis has invoked and divided.

DURING THE SESSION, which lasted just three months and two days, one hundred and fourteen bills were passed. Of these fifty one were Government bills, four public and fifty-nine private. Of the whole number twenty-two were boudie bills, or bills passed with a view of giving Ministers and their friends means for appropriating public funds for their own purposes. Throughout the session the growing weakness of the Ministry in ability to cope with the Opposition, general policy and numerical support was painful. They began with a majority of 94 and ended with only 20! All the bolters voting with the Opposition on the last division. The two great questions which damaged the Ministry most materially were the execution of Riel and Mr. Blake's Home Rule resolution. By their manner of dealing with these Ministers, the sympathy and support of two great sections by which they hitherto had been largely sustained—the Irish and the French.

ANOTHER GREAT LOSS,

the strength of which cannot be computed, must also be taken into account. I refer to that large and really governing class, composed of honest, respectable, and God-fearing men, in all places and ranks of life who have been appalled by the corruption of the Tory party and Government, and who may be safely trusted to throw their weight on the side of reform when the time comes. Another thing in connection with this session was the evident estrangement between Sir John and the bulk of his followers. Under the plea of ill-health and pressure of business, he contrived to make himself almost unapproachable. Concerning his future movements, two rumors are afloat: One that he is going to British Columbia to benefit by the salubrious climate of Victoria; another that he is going to England.

The general result of the session has been fearfully adverse to the Government, while the Opposition have gone home strengthened in numbers and in the reflection that they have done their duty faithfully and inspired with that confidence which arises from the well-founded expectation of coming victory.

DECLARED INCURABLE.

E. C. McGovern, of Syracuse, N. Y., who is a well known resident of that place, and declared incurable by his physician, the disease being a complication of kidney and liver complaint. In two days he found relief in Burdock Blood Bitters, and in one month he is entirely recovered.

RELIEF.

ROMAN CATHOLIC PICNIC IN HULL.

—A picnic under the auspices of the Catholic ladies of Hull will be held in Owen Flynn's beautiful grove, next the Catholic church, (in charge of Rev. J. J. Watters) Hull, on Wednesday, 23rd of June. The young ladies of Hull will call upon their friends in Godrich during the next week or two. Hull has always in the past been generous to Godrich, and this town should not reciprocate. Admission to the grounds 25 cents. A gold watch will be presented to the young lady who gets the most money by the sale of tickets, donations, etc.

A GROWING EVIL.

Scrofula, or king's evil, as an enlargement of the glands of the neck is termed, may be called a growing evil in more than one sense. Mrs. Henry Dobbs, of Beridale, was cured of enlarged glands of the neck and sore throat by the internal and external use of Hagar's Yellow Oil.

COLUMBO.

The council met in the township hall on Wednesday, June 9th, at 2 o'clock. Members all present, the record in the chair. Minutes of last meeting read and adopted. The following accounts were brought up and passed, viz:—W. Young, for shovelling snow on lake road, $8.75; O. Dalmeida, repairing bridge at Haley's creek, $1; Jas. Watson, bonus on wire fence, 100 rods, $25; M. Foley, repairing culvert on lake road, $1.50; J. Barker, repairing culvert on lake road, $1.50; J. Horton, repairing culvert at John Horton's $1.50; F. Habel, repairing culvert on M. C. $4.75; A. Wilson, repairing culvert on M. C. $11.70; A. Malloy's order in favor of W. H. Baer for wire fence, $16.75; Reeve's order to treasurer for their share of the Wawanosh drain in favor of Wawanosh, $46.62. The clerk was instructed to write the reeve of Wawanosh to proceed in getting an engineer on the drain question as neither McPhee nor Cunningham would open it up further. Moved by A. Young, that $100 be spent on lake shore road. Moved in amendment by J. Beck, seconded by Reeve, that $150 be spent, Jas. Gledhill voted in favor of motion, which was carried. Messrs. Gledhill and R. Straughan applied to get some hills fixed between the 4th and 5th cons, which was left to J. Beck, J. Gledhill and A. Malloy to examine. Ed. Straughan applied to have the road improved from Young's school house, which was left over. The council agreed to go out on Monday and Tuesday 14th and 15th letting jobs. The council then adjourned to meet again on the calling of a meeting.

J. H. RICHARDS, t'p clerk.

HIGH PRIZE.

Mrs. John Neelands, writing from the Methodist Parsonage, Adelaide, Ont., says: "I have used Hagar's Pectoral Balm in our family for years. For heavy colds, sore throats and distressing coughs no other medicine so soon relieves."

LUCKNOW.

Rev. A. Wilson, of Toronto, preached in both Presbyterian churches last Sabbath to large congregations.

W. E. Treleven, a student of our public school, preached both morning and evening in the Methodist church very creditably.

The prospects for a good crop of fruit in this vicinity are very good this year. The crops on the whole are making fair progress.

A public meeting of the ratepayers was held in the Town Hall lately to discuss the advisability of asking the county council for permission to establish a High School in this village. The proposition was voted down.

An entertainment was held in the Temperance Hall last Tuesday evening. The program consisted of choruses, dialogues, readings, vocal and instrumental music and was well rendered.

Rev. A. Wilson, of Toronto, delivered a lecture in St. Andrew's church last Thursday evening, on "The Law of Christian Worship," and was listened throughout with intense interest by a large audience.

COUNTY NOTES.

Local News From Many Sources.

Items from all Parts of Huron got on the News Exchange.

SERIOUS LOSS.—D. McLean, of Ashfield, recently lost three valuable horses from inflammation of the brain.

We regret exceedingly to have to announce the death of Mrs. Tom, wife of Mr. J. E. Tom, Public School Inspector for West Huron, an event which took place here yesterday afternoon. Deceased has been in very poor health for several years, but after all, her death was unexpected. She was able to be out for a drive on Saturday last, and appeared considerably improved to what she had been a short time before. Consumption, however, had done its fell work, and the loving wife and mother had to succumb to the fell destroyer. We sincerely sympathize with the husband and two young children who mourn her departure. —[Exeter Reflector.]

"IMMIGRANT CHILDREN."—Mr. John T. Middlemore, the founder of the Orphan Children's Emigration Society, London, Ont., left Liverpool on the 15th June, in the S. S. Superior, with a party of 50 girls and 70 boys between the ages of 3 and 18 years, who are brought out to this country for adoption or hire, chiefly among farmers. They are expected to arrive at the Guthrie Home, near London, on or about the 23rd inst. This will be Mr. Middlemore's 14th annual visit to these shores with juvenile emigrants from Birmingham, England, since 1872. Already many applications accompanied with good references have been made for the children expected to arrive, but more are required. Further particulars may be obtained by addressing Mr. H. Gibbons, Manager of the Guthrie Home, London, Ont.

A number of the personal friends of John Gentles, of Kincardine, assembled at the Albion Restaurant last night and entertained him to an oyster supper. Samuel Morley occupied the chair, and after the oysters had been duly disposed of in the regular way, Ald. Geo. T. Hiscott, on behalf of those present, presented Mr. Gentles with a handsome N. horseman's cane. The cane was so constructed that at will the owner could draw out a measure capable of sizing a horse up to eighteen hands. In reply to Mr. Hiscott's few complimentary remarks in presenting the cane, Mr. Gentles expressed the gratification he felt at being so honored by his London friends. Messrs. Marti, O'Meara and W. J. Thompson also referred during the evening in flattering terms to Mr. Gentles' well known reputation as a competent and business-like dealer in horseflesh. The party broke up at a seasonable hour.—[London Advertiser.]

HURON ABROAD.—By the official catalogue of the Canadian Section of Colonial and Indian Exhibition, now being held in London England, we learn that a Mod. Allen, of Godrich, exhibits 24 varieties of apples, 1 of pears, 2 of plums, 1 of cranberries, 1 of N. Cross seed of Seaforth, exhibits 3 paintings: sheep, lake Huron, and cattle. A G. VanEdmond, of Sons, of Seaforth, and Blyth, exhibit union druggists, and woolen druggists, also fancy woolen flannels, fancy union flannels, St. Hall's tweeds, woolen tweeds. R. Gowanlock, Seaforth, 10 varieties apples. G. McEwen, Hensall, salt. N. A. C. works, Godrich, various kinds of refined salt for table and dairy use, and a collection of chemicals. W. Rehill, Seaforth, peas and five varieties of beans. S. Strachan, Seaforth, clay and bricks. Williams and Murray, Seaforth and Godrich, two samples of coarse salt. W. Doherty & Co., Clinton, cabinet organs. Thos. Good, Benmillie, limestone and lime. Photographs, Godrich, school buildings—High, Central and Ward. Samples of pupils' work from Blyth Public School. Specimens of Examination work from the Mechanics' Institutes of Blyth, Godrich and Seaforth.

RECOGNITION.

Mr. Duff's arm, which was broken, is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. John Farrow is again around, which fact pleases many friends.

Miss Bess Smith has been seriously indisposed the last few weeks.

Wm. Hartly, who has been attending school here, was laid by with a bad cold, which has settled on his lungs.

On Monday evening a son of Mr. P. Thomas, who was driving team while putting in roadwork, fell from his wagon and had his collar bone broken.

Mr. Kay, our miller, has laid down his working tools and taken to sick bed, but it is hoped proper care and good nursing is all he requires.

Rev. A. J. Hartley left early Tuesday morning as a delegate to the Grand Lodge of Foresters, at Chatham. His daughter accompanied him as far as London.

On Saturday evening Mr. Thompson, our "master" was amusing himself in a favorite recreation, base ball, when the ball struck him on the top of the large finger of the right hand snapping it right off. Mr. T. was at once put under medical care, and the finger stitched on, and is doing well.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The railway company are surveying a site for a new iron bridge over the Maitland.—Mr. Leech has been repairing his dam.—Mr. John Diamond has improved his place by a new fence.—Mr. Wm. Messer, our enterprising merchant, has been repairing a storehouse.—The Methodist brethren have fixed up the grounds around the parsonage very tastefully lately.

A. Ross was driving quietly homeward, when a fog sprang out from the side of the road and frightened his horse, which was a young one, and it immediately reared itself by kicking. Mr. Ross kept control until the frightened animal had lost itself from the vehicle. Mrs. Ross and young son, who were in the rig, were rather suddenly and unceremoniously helped out. We are happy to state that besides the broken buggy and a few bruises and scratches, all escaped unhurt.

National Pills will not gripe or sicken, yet are a thorough cathartic.

The Young man Who Wants Particular About Wages.

Year before last a bright-looking young man entered our counting room in response to an advertisement for an assistant shipping clerk. He told the usual tale of how he desired a position more than wages for the time being, and was willing to accept a nominal salary to start in on. The old man was feeling in particular good humor that afternoon, and said pleasantly to the new comer: "Well sir, what would you consider a nominal salary? What would you be willing to accept in beginning?" The young man picked at the lining of his hat with his fingers, and deferentially replied: "That's a novel proposition surely."

"I want to show you, sir, that I mean business, and I will work for one cent the remainder of this month, providing you think it would not be too much to double my salary each month thereafter."

"That's a novel proposition surely," said the old man with a smile. "Do you know what you are talking about, my dear boy?"

"Well, sir, my principal aim is to learn the business," responded the young fellow, "and I would be almost willing to work for nothing, but I'd like to feel able to say that I was earning something, you know."

"I'll take you," remarked the old man. "One cent, two cents, four cents, eight cents, sixteen cents," he enumerated, "you will not get much for awhile, he added."

He took him up to the cashier. "This is John Smith," he said. "He will go to work as assistant shipping clerk tomorrow. His salary will be one cent this month. Double it every month from now on."

"In consideration of my working for this small salary, I might ask you to assure me a position for a definite period?" inquired John Smith.

"We don't usually do that," replied the governor; "but we can't lose much on you anyhow, I guess, and you look like an honest fellow. How long do you want employment?"

"Three years, sir, if agreeable to you."

Well, by John, the old man agreed, and young Mr. Smith, on pretence of wanting some evidence of stability of his place, got the governor to write out and sign a paper, that he had been guaranteed a position in the house for three years on the terms I have stated.

He worked along for six months without drawing a cent. He said he would draw all his earnings at Christmas. The cashier thought he'd figure up how much he'd be getting by the time he came in. He kept multiplying for the three years. This is the column of figures he took to the old man: First month, 1c; 2c; 3c; 4c; 5c; 6c; 7c; 8c; 9c; 10c; 11c; 12c; 13c; 14c; 15c; 16c; 17c; 18c; 19c; 20c; 21c; 22c; 23c; 24c; 25c; 26c; 27c; 28c; 29c;
