Loss of Amethyst.

Capt. Bernier and mate of the Amethyst, arrived here Tuesday night by train, via Placentia and will go home to Quebec by this evening's train. As the Telegram reported the other day the cause of the loss of the ship was due to the presence of the Cape Freels new fog alarm which few mariners know anything of. The captain heard the whistle on Cape Pine and then picking up the Cape Freels whistle in the fog, headed the ship to the eastward and brought her owing to this to her doom. The ship is a total loss and most of the cattle, horses, sheep, etc., were saved and are now on pasture in Trepassey to be brought down later. About 200 brls. of flour the winches, boats and steering gear were also saved.

The Florizel Arrives.

The S. S. Florizel, Capt. Smith, arrived this morning at 10.30 a.m. from Halifax and New York. She had beautiful weather all the voyage through and brought a half cargo, some mail matter and 169 round trippers. Every stateroom has been taken on the ship by round trippers for the next two runs here. The passenger list by the ship are printed at New York and alphabetically arrayed.

Rumour has it that a crew of Quidi Vidi men will row in the set race this regatta.

The C.L.B., Highlanders, C. C. C. and Guards are hard at work practicing, they were all on the Lake last night.

In the Amateur race three crews will compete and this, always a very interesting race, will be looked forward to with interest this year.

At 9 o'clock to-morrow night the crews will enter for the Regatta at the T. A. Armoury. To facilate the work of the committee and especially of the Secretary who has no light duty to perform, all the crews possible should then record their names.

Four boats will contest in the Press Race, the Herald, News, Chronicle and a mixed crew.

The Lion and Peter which have been painted and otherwise looked after will be placed on the Lake this afternoon There will be the usual number of tents on the lakeside and at the head of the pond this year, and as much interest centres in the various races a concourse of people will attend.

GOOD BREAKS MADE.— The billiard match at the Mount Cashel Garden Party was well contested yesterday. Mr. Rd. Power won out his breaks being 50, 36 and 34 respectively. Mr. G. McGuire made 29 and J. Moakler of Shea & Co's., 28.

Broad Cove Men Will Compete.

The boat is said to be a beauty by those who have seen her and she will be brought out to Quidi Vidi Lake in a day or so. It is now many years since a crew or crews from Broad Cove contested in our Regatta, and this shows what keen interest is being taken in our Derby Day when an incident like this occurs. The Broad Cove men will be given a welcome by all lovers of aquatic sport.

Monsignor Stagni Dined by Christian Bros. Yesterday.

Yesterday the community of Christian Brothers dined His Excellency Monsignor Stagni. The dinner took place in the Aula Maxima of St. Bonaventure's College, and there were present besides His Excellency, His Grace Archbishop Howley and their Lordships Bishops March and Power, several of the clergy, including the visiting priests, and all the Christian Brothers of the city. During the evening an address of welcome was presented to His Excellency by the Christian Brothers, and was read by Rev. Bro. Culhane, Principal of St. Bonaventure's College. Rev. Bro. Hurley also read an address of congratulation to Bishop Power. Both addresses were of a very eulogistic character and both His Excellency and His Lordship made very happy replies.

ADDRESS

To His Excellency Most Rev. P. F. Stagni, O. S. M., Apostolic Delegate to Canada and Newfoundland, From The Christian Brothers.

May it Please Your Excellency,—

We, the Christian Brothers of the Communities in St. John's, desire to add our sincere and cordial greeting to the many you have received since your arrival in Newfoundland. Ever since your appointment as Apostolic Delegate we have looked forward to the privilege of meeting you; and through life we shall consider ourselves specially honoured in having been visited by the representative of Christ's Vicar, a favour which Catholics throughout the world place second only to that of an audience with the Sovereign Pontiff himself. We fain would welcome you with an ardour worthy of the traditions of our race, worthy of St. Patrick's Children whose loyalty to the Holy See so many centuries of history corroborate.

The great importance which the Holy Father attaches to the judicious blending of religious and secular knowledge and his tender solicitude for the little ones of his fold as evidenced by the practical legislation which he has enacted on their behalf, make us feel that, if we live up to the Spirit of our Institute which was established to provide Christian Education for the young, we may count on a share of his sympathy, and therefore, on yours.

It was the need of religious instruction for the youth of Ireland, which after the dark night of persecution, induced Edmund Ignatius Rice to establish our Congregation. During the past century many Houses of the Society have been opened in foreign lands at the call of "Exiles of Erin." But nowhere have the Brothers been welcomed with more sincerity or maintained with more generosity than on these friendly shores.

Our work for the welfare of the children of a people remarkable for strong Faith and virtuous lives, can hardly fail to be fruitful, encouraged as it is by the Bishops and Clergy of the Island, and more especially by the Priests of the city and by His Grace the Archbishop, whose constant kindness and generous friendship we have never known to fail.

While we bid Your Excellency a "Cead Mille Failte" as the ambassador of our Illustrious Pontiff Pius X., we also welcome you for your own personal merits. As members of a humble Religious Institute we may well show marked respect to you who have been found worthy of holding the leading place in the Councils of your own distinguished Order—The Servites of Mary—which during seven centuries has given numerous Saints and Scholars to the Church and which, in our own day, has fostered in you those brilliant talents that enable you to fill with such distinction the exalted office of Papal Delegate in the Western World. It is our earnest prayer that your years there may be many and your harvest most abundant.

In conclusion we wish to assure Your Excellency of our unswerving loyalty to the present saintly occupant of St. Peter's Chair and to the teaching of our Holy Mother the Church which he guards with such watchfulness and zeal.

Signed on behalf of the Christian Brothers.

Wedding Bells.

Tuesday afternoon a very interesting wedding took place in the Anglican Church at the Goulds when Mr. Robert L. Peach led to the altar Miss Ellie Phillips, daughter of Captain Phillips. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon White assisted by Rev. Mr. Hewitt. The bride was handsomely attired in cream voile with veil and orange blossoms and carried a beautiful boquet of roses and carnations. The groom was attended by Messrs. Joseph Snow and James Cook, and the bride by her sister, Miss Hilda Phillips, and Miss Margaret Blackmore, of Twillingate. As the wedding party entered the church the choir rendered "The Voice That Breathes O'er Eden," while the wedding march was played when the ceremony concluded. Both were the recipients of many very beautiful presents. The bride and groom in Mr. T. Cook's motor drove to Forest Pond
