

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER.

I sit sometimes at night alone, and think about my stock of woes, until my bosom sheds a groan, and briny tears run down my nose. I think about the slights and slurs that I've endured throughout the day, and wall: "Man gets but cockleburrs, when thinking that he's buying hay." The more I think along this line, and dig up sorrows by the peck, the more my eyes produce the brine, until it sops adown my neck. And then the hausfrau comes along, and says: "Why are you mooning here? Great Caesar," says she, "sing a song, and can the sob and flowing tear? No injun in this balliwick," the hausfrau says, with chiding glance, "has blessings round him half so thick, so hump yourself and sing and dance! It gives me seven yellow pains," the hausfrau argues, as she stands, "to see a man possessed of brains brood over his woes and wring his hands. Forget your griefs," the hausfrau cries, forget your grievances and fears; I hate to see your pickled eyes, and mark your whiskers, soaked with tears." Then I forget my soul's turmoil, and buckle down and mow the lawn, and any man who tackles toil will find his fears and sorrows gone.

The Movements of the Archbishop

On Saturday, 19th August, His Grace accompanied by Rev. Fr. Pippy went aboard the S. S. Portia at Placentia at 5 p.m. en route for the western side of Placentia Bay. As the night threatened to be foggy the Captain did not leave the roadstead till 11 p.m. so as to arrive over about daylight. At 4 a.m. Sunday the steamer reached Marytown. The people had prepared bonfires on every point of vantage, but as it was now daylight, they were not lit. Early as it was a large crowd of people had gathered to meet the Archbishop and welcomed him with hearty cheers. His Grace retired to the hospitable mansion of Mr. Long, J. P., to wait for the time to celebrate the last Mass. The Rev. Frs. Pippy and Wilson went to the church to celebrate early Masses and prepare the children for confirmation.

By 10 a.m. a large congregation were gathered from Marytown and all the neighbouring settlements, and His Grace celebrated Mass and addressed the people congratulating them on the flourishing appearance of the settlement, on its great development since his last visit a couple of years ago. Since then forty new houses have been erected, all of a very superior and architectural style, equal to any in the suburbs of St. John's. But His Grace spoke with great satisfaction of the erection of the beautiful new church. The designs for this church were drawn by the Archbishop himself, and when completed it will be one of the prettiest in the Diocese. Two years ago the foundations, a splendid piece of concrete work, were laid, and for some time past the exterior of the building has been finished and Mass has been celebrated in it. It is over a hundred and twenty feet long and of lofty and inspiring proportions. Owing to the main timbers having been somewhat light, and a great gale occurring before they were fully bolted, the building was slightly slewed, but is now being righted and fully strengthened. It is hoped to have it completely finished both inside and out this fall, though the fishery so far this summer has been very poor.

At 2 p.m. the people again gathered at the Church and over 200 children were confirmed. The Archbishop party were hospitably entertained at the houses of Mr. Baker and Mr. Long, J. P. In the evening the Rev. Fr. McNamara came from Burj with horses and carriages, and the party left for Burin. The drive along the upper reaches of the River and across by Salt Pond and along the shores of Burin Inlet is without doubt one of the most beautiful in the country. At about a mile outside Burin the party were met by the brass band, and dismounting, walked the rest of the way preceded by the band discoursing lively music. On Monday there was a large gathering at Mass, and His Grace addressed the several members of his family. The school children sang a chorus of welcome and presented an address to the Archbishop.—Com.

Belvidere Collection.
The annual collection for the Belvidere orphans will take place next Sunday. Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roche announced the fact at prayers last Sunday evening. It is not necessary to make any lengthened appeal in reference to this collection. The mere announcement should be sufficient. The cause of the orphans is the cause of God, and the "Charity of Christ presseth us." The good Sisters of Belvidere are doing a good, noble and self-sacrificing work in caring for the temporal and spiritual needs of the helpless children committed to their care. The Roman Catholic people have always in the past generously responded to calls on behalf of the orphans, and no doubt this occasion will show a like result. The collection will be taken at all the Masses on Sunday next at the Cathedral, St. Patrick's, Kibride, Logy Bay, Mount Cashel and Littledale.

MUCH SQUID ABOUT.—Both at Cuckhold's Cove and Torbay the past three days squid has been very plentiful and yesterday they struck in at Freshwater Bay. Another Banker Here.

The Lunenburg banker Lucania arrived here yesterday for supplies of ice and bait and will resume her fishing after she procures her ice. She procured a full baiting of squid at Torbay yesterday afternoon and has done fairly well on the Banks. Most of the Lunenburg bankers have done well this year, but still their aggregate catch will be away behind that of last season.

Police Took Him.

For several years past a poor young chap, an imbecile, named "Marty" Connors, has been going around the West End. He has been harmless but noisy. Yesterday on going down Water Street boys began tormenting him and his cries could be heard a block away. A crowd gathered about and Consts. Stamp and Whalen were constrained to take him to the police station. His friends later had the necessary documents executed for his admission to the Lunatic Asylum and he will be taken there to-day.

The Brilliant Here.

H. M. S. Brilliant, Capt. Woolcombe, arrived in port yesterday afternoon, after being down at Hare Bay and St. Anthony for the past two weeks. The Capt. and Officers of the ship enjoyed some excellent sport while salmon and trout fishing in the former place. Each day while at Hare Bay gunnery practice was taken up with the guns of different calibre on board and some good shooting resulted.

A Handsome Present.

Capt. V. P. Burke and Lieut. Frank Summers, son of Mr. M. J. Summers, and both officers of the C. C. C. acted as Aides-de-Camp to His Excellency Monsignor Stangi when he was here. He did not forget the services rendered him by the ship's officers and sent each a beautiful photograph of himself with his autograph inscribed on each and the words "With best wishes." Needless to say both gentlemen will treasure these photographs as long as they live.

Out of Hospital.

Fireman John Hemans, of the Central Station, came out of Hospital yesterday and is now fully recovered. It will be remembered that in firing a salute on the King's birthday from the guns at Fort Townsend he was hit with the ram rod in the hand, was badly hurt otherwise and was brought to the Hospital where it was found necessary to amputate the right hand at the wrist. The left hand though badly mangled was saved. Hemans is a man of family, and as he was injured in the service it will now be up to the Government which is squandering money on all sides, to cut out a liberal annuity for this unfortunate man.

THREE ARRESTS MADE.—The police made three arrests last night. Two of the prisoners are in for disorderly conduct and another for a more serious offence.

Going to New York.

It will be remembered that four years ago in the house of Mrs. George, a Syrian, residing on Water Street, two others of the same nationality, Richard Joseph and Dominic Richards, indulged in some gun play and are now doing terms of 7 years each for their frolic of a night. Merlin Noah, an innocent spectator of the fracas when it started, was shot in the right side of the neck went to Hospital, and though the doctors probed for the bullet and located it, it could not be extracted. It worked down to the right shoulder, and within the past few weeks it has been going further and further through the man's flesh and giving him intense pain. Twice he has gone to our Hospital here to get the X rays put on him, but for some reason they would not work and the man is now constrained to go to New York to try to have the bullet removed. He fears that if it is not removed quickly some complication may set in which may either cost him his life or his arm. It will cost Noah over $400 to go to New York to have the rays used on him.

Hump High Liner.

Although at the present time prospects are not looking a bit too bright for whales around Trinity, where the Hump is operating, still since she came from the S. W. coast, where she worked the first part of the season, she secured 16 finbacks and one pump. She got 23 whales at Dublin Cove and had 40 fish up to Friday last. The ship is therefore high liner of the fleet, showing that Capt. Bull is a hustler. The codfishery in Trinity Bay has been the best in 20 years and still fair work is being done. The forest fires in the bay are destroying a deal of valuable timber.
