Two Men Drowned.

TWO BROTHERS, PECKFORD, MET DEATH AT BELL ISLAND SATURDAY.

Two young men, Martin and Edward Peckford, were drowned at Lance Cove, Bell Island, at 10 a.m. Saturday. Both worked in the D.I.S. shops and remained away Saturday to procure caplin for their ground. They filled a little dory in which they going to the back of the island, and in returning made too bold, were swept in on a ledge by the wind and their boat overturned. When the boat went over Mark sank and never rose again, and it is believed was stunned by his head striking a ledge of rock. There was only six feet of water in the place where the accident occurred. Edward clung to the boat for a while and then got bottom on the shoal, and seeing his brother on the bottom he dived to try and save him, though he knew he (Edward) could not swim. The result was that he too was drowned, and it is thought he also received a hurt like his brother. The accident was witnessed by a man who stood on the N.S. pier, who gave the alarm, but too late to save the men. The bodies were shortly after recovered. Mark's head was badly cut but there was no mark to be noticed on the brother's body. Edward had been married since last fall. Mark was single.

McMURDO HAS IT.

In Paris the ladies have entirely abandoned wearing hats, which is due entirely to this new discovery.

The French are now placing on the market a preparation containing the extract from Henna leaves, which is having a phenomenal sale.

This preparation is called SALVIA and is being sold with a guarantee to cure dandruff and to grow hair in abundance. Being daintily perfumed, SALVIA makes a most pleasant dressing, and is sold by your druggist. A large, generous bottle can be purchased for 50 cents. McMURDO & Co., Wholesale Agent.

Patrick Clarke's Funeral Sunday.

Yesterday afternoon all that was mortal of our esteemed friend, Patrick Clarke, was laid to rest in Belvedere Cemetery. The funeral was an exceptionally large one, in fact some of the oldest residents say it was one of the largest ever seen in the city, this in itself being a fitting testimony of the esteem in which he was held by all who knew him. It is customary to speak kindly of the dead, but it is not that I wish to follow in the beaten track that I pen a few lines of appreciation of a true man, but rather that I feel that it is a duty I owe him. Patrick Clarke was a true man in every sense of the word. He loved his country, he loved his religion, and he was fair and just to all men. His charity was not of the brand that makes a noise, yet many are the poor whose lives he brightened. Socially, he was an exception and a favourite combined, for although he refrained from entering any society, still he had a throng of intimate friends who loved to associate with him, he being a brilliant conversationalist and possessing a ready wit that was all his own. In business he displayed exceptional ability, in a few years reaching that point where "this word was as good as his bond." May his soul rest in peace. St. John's, July 8, '12. R. J. P.

Narrow Escape.

At 10.35 a.m. yesterday an auto driven by John Nicholas came down Water Street at a rapid clip just as Mr. Karnopp on an auto cycle turned into that thoroughfare from Holdsworth Street. To avoid killing him the chauffeur in the auto turned it quickly towards Jackman's, but in doing so hit Mr. Karnopp's cycle and damaged it, but fortunately did him no injury. The auto, however, turned completely over near the curve. The chauffeur jumped and was thrown about 20 feet, receiving some cuts and bruises. Had he not jumped in all likelihood he would have been killed. The plate glass and upper parts of the auto were badly smashed and $150 worth of damage was done. Const. Blundon and citizens overturned the machine and it was towed to Pippy's garage.

Church Bell Blessed.

Last Mass at St. Patrick's Church yesterday was celebrated by Rev. J. Pippy. After Mass the congregation went to the church grounds where His Grace Archbishop Howley blessed the bell recently imported for the church. The bell was placed on a raised platform and the blessing was conducted in a very solemn manner. After the ceremonial His Grace addressed the assembled concourse from the steps of the church, his discourse being eloquent and instructive, while in his deliverance he paid a glowing tribute to the saintly career of the late venerable Dean Ryan, who had done so much for St. Patrick's parish and to whom the bell will be a fitting memorial.
