MINARD'S LINIMENT RELIEVES

COW CURED

By Douglas' Egyptian Liniment

Here is a remarkable case that came up on the farm of Mr. D. E. Perry, Violet, Ont., as described by himself: "One of my cows was so badly paralyzed in the back and hind legs that she could not walk. I tried nearly every remedy that I could hear of but none of them proved to be any good. My neighbors told me there was no use doing anything more for her but I determined to give Douglas' Egyptian Liniment a trial for luck. It worked wonders, for after using two bottles the cow was completely cured."

Egytian Liniment seems almost to work magic in all kinds of stiffness, soreness, sprains, rheumatism and si-milar troubles of man and beast, as well as on cuts, burns, scalds, sores, barber's itch and other skin troubles. If you have a bottle of Egyptian Liniment on hand you are prepared to deal quickly and effectively with a good share of the troubles that come up in the home or in the stable. 25c. at all dealers'. Free sample on request. Douglas & Co., Napanee, Ont.

> I am yours. "ARTHUR LEIGHT."

With the note in his hand, Leigh sank into a chair, staring straight before him like one demented.

A week ago! Yes, on referring the first letter he saw that his pre cise uncle had made no mistake: the etter bore the date of a week back not accept any compromise, and who would invariably carry out his in structions to the letter, and would enforce the bond-would be on the

Where could he look for help? No where-he had no friend. No on save old Will, sitting in the sunshing bowed down by the shock of hi oung master's misfortunes.

No friend! Ah, yes! one, and he enew in his heart that, come who would, she, his beautiful, gentle serrted Muriel, would be true to him and that, though the years of sepertion might be long and bitter, so was his to all eternity.

He threw the letter aside, an lrawing paper and ink toward him n his firm hand, which no amount distress could rob of its steadines wrote as his heart dictated:

Northampton, Eng., September 27 .liss Whitehouse, a schoolmistress at Far Cotton Schools, Northampton climbed the chimney of the Vige Brickworks last Saturday and walked round the steeplejack's scaffolding at the top, a height of 25 feet.

She was provided with a line rope and climbing irons, but she dispensed with the line and went to the top with only two rests. When she reached the caffolding at the top she had to climb over a projecting rim, which is girdled by a narrow plank footway, and stand on a single 11-inch plank. She remained at the top of the chimney for "Dear Wynter,-I wrote to you a about a quarter of an hour, talking with the steeplejacks.
