Peerless Peninsular

A CAST IRON RANGE WITH MODERN OVEN AND EQUIPMENT

A wealthy mustard manufacturer on ce said that he made his profit not out of what people ate, but what they left on their plates.

The coal dealer might say about the same thing. It's not the coal you use that buys his six-cylinder car, but the coal that goes up the chimney.

thicker there; weight reduced in one spot and added to another.

Take the top of the Peerless Peninsular. It is made in three separate sections which slide along or lift out whenever you want to clean the flues.

In most ranges the oven is either "on" or "off." That is, it is getting full heat or none at all. The Peerless Peninsular oven is regulated by means of a sliding damper so as to get just as much heat as you need. This is another way you need. In it is another way your save fuel.

Nickel ornaments, special features or size do not affect the internal construction or honest materials and workmanship that go into the 'Peninsular.' So that when buying one, a housewife may feel free to consult her own tastes as regards finish and appearance If the range is 'Peninsular' she will know that it will give her good bakings for the least amount of coal.

Village Near Smith's Falls Greatly Excited Over Theft of Money, [Canadian Press.] Smith's Falls, Ont., Nov. 29.—The

is much excited over two robberies that have taken place there of late. A farmer sold some hogs, for which he was paid $118. He put the money in his pocket, but when he got house he found it was missing, and so far has got no trace of it. The next day Mr. Wm. Burrows, of that place, an implement dealer, made the startling discovery that $300, which he had hidden in his box for safe keeping, had mysteriously disapeared during his absence from home. He lives alone, and was in the habit of keeping large sums of money in the house. He has offered a reward of $200 for information that will lead to the conviction of the thief.

A Reasonable Plea For The Stomach

Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Power, Why Not Help the Stomac Do Its Work—Especially When It Costs Nothing to Try?

Not with frugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach's Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion, and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs paed. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.
