ON TENDERED HIM HUGE SUCCESS Its

ven by Provincial Govnt the Most Brilliant in rea History - Arrangefor Today

Ilfrid Laurier—as foremost the Dominion, and as a type true Canadian whose eyes the splendor of his country's and whose faith in her desabsolute—last evening receive hands of the government and the of British Columbia a wellow a reception unprecedented in history of the confederated so Unique was the occasion in inverse ways. Unusual is it to solitical knight, such as is McBride, surpassing himself eous homage and hospitality hiefitain of an opposing party dented in brilliancy and comwas the ecception itself. The of the situation was found the fact that Sir Wilfrid came as a great Canadian, on clared visit of non-political, and the provincial first minsuch was glad to receive him pay him every mark of honor, the greatest statesmen of all and thus meeting, although of istic party political creeds, mmon ground, each measuring the ded strength and talents of r. That such a reception should an offered, accepted and given longer and each appreciating the ded strength and talents of r. That such a reception should more particularly those province of Quebec, that olumbians are just as ready for the constitutional position viron wilfrid Laurier and of his as a man and as a Cando him honor, as though fumbia were in political faith stead of, as it is, Conservalis show to all of Canada that of this Pacific province are, I. Canadians, admirers of mal rights and privileges.

ISAND THRONGED

estimated roughly that between and twelve thousand people were Provincial Parliament Buildnessterday evening, either to enhe honor of being presented to Wilfrid Laurier or to at least that a glimpse of this distinguished of Canada as he passed from his or car to the scene of the recepproper in the Assembly Chamber of these thousands it is safe to that not one but was agreed with he rest that in brilliance of effect, ritistic character, and in whole-tedness the function was dessable only as setting the mark unctions of such character insofar least as Western Canada is consecutive.

othing approximating the grandof effect in illumination of last ing's display has heretofore been meted in this capital city, the est approach being upon the orable visit of our present graciKing, then Duke of York, when Victoria last had the opportunity the pleasure of meeting the fedpremier in this city by the westsea.

Then, however, the scheme of illumination was infinitely less pretentious than last evening. Victoria has grown, British Columbia has grown; and the evidences of growth were cameo-sharp in the contrast between memory's picture of the scene almost a decade ago, and the brilliant picture of the buildings outlined in living light, as they appeared last evening, with solid phalanyxes of massed humanity on the green lawns in front. The picture to be complete included the entire sweep of James Bay from where the Post Office formed itself a electric outline, past the imposing impress, daintily festooned in long oncave steamers of red and whitever and across the mirror of the ater on which dozens of pleasure aft floated, fairy-like, in their gorousness of lanterns.

The parliamentary pile was, how-nationalism in the west is warm and strong as is or can loped in the older Canadian yound the mountains and beprairies. And—perchance—ding's reception, viewed and not by representatives of many orement public journals of althe provinces of Canada, may so to disabuse the east of its mistaken notions of the dlink together the provinces of closer understanding and more harmonious unity. It west greeting the east, and back a message which canimisunderstood in its western ss, cordiality and bigness.
