What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Did for Mrs. Peasey of London.

London, Ont.—"I suffered with periodic pains, was weak and run down, and was unable to do any household work. The worst symptoms were dragging down pains so severe that I could not get up, and would go crazy and I seemed to be smothering. I was in this condition for some three years and could not seem to work. I tried all kinds of remedies and had been treated by several doctors, but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and was inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends, and they, too, find it will help some poor women like you and me please."—Mrs. J. F. PEASEY, 20 Rectory Street, London, Ont.

The reason women write such letters to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. and tell their friends of its benefits is because it has helped them. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought health and happiness into the lives of so many of their kindred that it is almost impossible to pass the good news along to other suffering women without that they also may be relieved.

If there are any complications you do not understand write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lowell, Mass., U.S.A.

The most wanton form of waste, however, concerns the vehicles. In a single day are ranged thousands upon thousands of wheels for use, not merely on gun carriages, but on vehicles of all descriptions. Such by the spring rains, they are now suffering even more damage from the rain, than they are deteriorating at an blacksmiths and wheelwrights would gladly pay a fair price for some of these spare wheels. In the "vehicle park," as this part of the site is called, are tens of thousands of four-wheel wagons and two-wheel carts, which will be ruined if they are not soon rescued.

Britain's Census Next Year.

The matter of next year's census already has appeared in Parliament, and in a few months we shall all be asked to take part in it. The enormous numbering of the people, I had we not been plunged into war we might have been able to do it with a minimum of strong conviction in many quarters, as the factors which cause fluctuations in the population have been increased, a census every five years has become necessary. The chief objection to a census is that it is a nuisance, but that does not look very heavy in face of present standards.

Our census is taken in those islands usually works out at about 100,000. To meet this, the Government has to pay £5 to £8 to 10 thousand of the population. We appear to do this more efficiently than the other countries.

In the Netherlands the census cost £7 2s 4d a thousand, in Norway £8 10s 6d a thousand, in Sweden £10 10s 6d a thousand, in America the census is much more costly—about 20 cents a head.

Our census is taken in 1891, 1901, and it may be noted that at that time the total population of Great Britain was 32,000,000, 34,924,545.

Story of the Welsh Omids.

In his elaborate tribute to the history of the Welsh Gods, Major J. H. Davies, in his book, "The Welsh Omids," has collected some amusing stories. Here is one relating to the mermaid major:

"He had as servant Dai Evans, a smart, good-looking boy, who was a fisherman. One day, while he was out, he heard a voice would be heard roaring in his bill. 'What's that?' And at once he saw a mermaid. 'What do you want me, sir?'

"'Evans, where are you been?'

There were Welsh Guards in Tudor times, notes the author, and the oldest Guards of all were those who formed the King's Bodyguard.

WOMEN APACHES INCREASE.
Paris, France, Oct. 15.—Women criminals are increasing in France. They have taken part in Paris and in the province during the last few months in more than twenty violent attacks. Five young women used knuckle dusters in attacking a contractor and robbing him of money and jewelry.
