The list over, the graduates were called up by parties of three and four, and by the Provost led one by one and presented to the chancellor. They kneit before him, were welcomed to the rights and privileges of the University with a grasp of the hand, and were handed their diplomas as they left the dias. A running firs of wittieisms from the gallery enlivened this somewhat tedions procedure, and when at the close the four lady graduates were called to the front they were honored with
"He's a Jolly Good Fellow," "Saw My Leg Off" and kindred melodies.

The medallists "came next. Dr. H. B.
Anderson was the recipient of the medal, The medalists came next. Dr. H. B. Anderson was the recipient of the medal, having made 82 per cent., and Dr. A. S. Tilley of the silver medal, with 81 per cent. to his credit. "No body does deny it." cried Dean Geikie appealingly to the gallery, which was once more thunderously asserting Dr. Anderson's claims to being a good fellow, and the worthy dean thus managed to get partial silence while ealogizing the successful heroes of the final year.

McPhail were the recipients of special certificates of honor, as having made 75 per cent. and upwards, and they were now called forward and presented with them and congratulated alike by Dr. Bingham and the Chancellor.

Next came, the primaries, or second-year men, silver medals being taken by Messrs. A. L. Danard and R. King, whose standing was equal, and Messrs. A. L. Danard, R. King, C. D. Parfitt, H. R. Frank, L. Lapp, B. A., T. G. Devitt, G. H. Field, F. C. Harris, (eq.), J. L. Bradley, J. D. Windell, J. Semple, A. K. Ferguson, H. E. Armstrong, were given certificates of honor.

Afteo the best of Matriculants had been read—again in Latin, the Hon. George W. Allan delivered an able address. He congratulated Trinity University in the able class she was sending ont, and the new M. D.'s upon the exceedingly good stand they had taken. He alluded to Dean Geikie's vigorous protests against the granting of all the Government aid to one medical faculty, and reminded his hearers that a college standing alone and depending upon the public for support was likely to achieve a higher standard. He advised the coming students not to hurry on to their degrees too fast, but to wait till fully matured and enlarged upon the wonderfully humanizing influence of the medical profession, which transforms a student, often reckless and selfish, inured to looking upon pain with a professional investigating eye to an unselfish laborious hero of the struggle to make the world better and happier. The Latin benediction was then prohounced and the audience poured forth. Among it some three score new M.D.'s ready to face the world and challenge it.

Henry Allen & Co., New York to John J. Dixon & Co.: The bulls have been in high feather to-day. They have scored successes all day along the list. Everything has been strong and many of the most conspicuous stocks: ave advanced. The coal shares are particularly buoyant, bituminous as well as anthracite. T.C. and L. for instance, has jumped up a couple of points, and Colorado Coal is very strong. Next week is likely to show something of the possibilities of what has been so enthusiastically predicted as an April boom. Stocks on any reaction seem to be a purchase, with few exceptions. The week closes with confidence general and enthusiasm, dictating bull opinions.
