What Zam-Buk Cures

What Zam-Buk Cures

For all poisoned wounds, chronic sores, meers and abscesses, Zam-Buk is especially suitable because of its high antiseptic powers. If you have a wound or sore which has defied all cintment and salves, it is a case for Zam-Buk. Zam-Buk also cures eczema, itch, scalp sores, ringworms, blotches on the face and body, chapped places, cold sores, piles and enlarged veins. As an embrocation it cures rheumatism and sciatics, and rubbed over the chest relieves the tightness due to severe colds. All stores and druggists sell at 50 cents a box, or post free from the Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. 6 boxes for $2.50.

Beet Rings Start.

Beef rings are now the order of the rural economy in many parts of Ontario. By this simple form of co-operation the farmers are assured of good fresh meat at a low cost. Each farmer is to supply the beef statements are too be of at a low cost. Each farmer is to supply one beef, weighing as near 400 lbs. of dressed meat as possible. This is to be divided among 20 members, taking 20 lbs. each, or among more, when some toke only half-shares of 10 lbs. each, in which case two farmers unite to supply a

Can't Evade Act.

Toronto, June 11 .- An act was passed last session, making it compulsory to sue farmers for overdue accounts for machin-ery, etc., at the division court nearest tueir home. As a result of this an application was granted this morning prohibi-ting J. Chupe, of Newmarket, doing busi-ness under the name of the Excelsion Fire Extinguisher Company, from suing J. W. Young, of the township of Greenock, in Bruce county, for $48, the price of two dozen of the fire fighters, in the division of the fire fighters. two dozen of the are agricers, in the div-ision court of Newmarket, although in his agreement Young had specifically agreed to allow himself to be sued there, in the following words, "and I hereby waive my right to the benefit of the act." The master held that it was merely an "ingenious device" to evade the provis-ions of the statute, and was not binding.
