The Victoria Beach Ry.

A CORRESPONDENT WHO WANTS TO KNOW WHERE THE PEOPLE COME IN ON THIS DEAL.

To the Editor,
 Dear Sir:—Although we have all been saving and slaving for years past to make up the extra taxes caused by the municipal, provincial, and federal grants to the Victoria Beach railway, yet the public have received no benefit in return. The people are deeply interested in this matter and it is time they knew where they are to come in on this deal.

The county gave a free right of way and left the company to choose their own route, regardless of expense. But did not our Municipal councillors make some conditions as to equipment and service? If not they made a great blunder, and if they made such conditions why are not the conditions fulfilled?

The Provincial government gave a very heavy subsidy or guarantee of bonds. Were the interests of the people forgotten? If so, it was a serious oversight, if not, why are not the clauses inserted in the contract to protect the public, not observed?

The Federal government also gave a subsidy. Cannot we get help from that quarter? Have the municipal, provincial, or federal governments no power? If not, the people have been grossly treated. If they have power, where are our municipal, provincial, and federal representatives?

If there is no help from these sources what about the Railway Commission? Has it jurisdiction? If it has not, Lord help the people. If it has jurisdiction why is not the case appealed to this tribunal. Is it not time that we knew where we stand in the matter? And what are Boards of Trade, Agricultural Societies, Governments and public men for, if not to take up such matters?

 6. Anthem—The Prince of Peace. Choir.

ACADIA ATHENAEUM.

THE NOVEMBER NUMBER A GOOD ONE

The Acadia Athenaeum for November is to hand. It is well gotten up, is interesting and very creditable to the new staff. A large part of the space is given to appreciative articles upon the late A. W. Sawyer, D. D., L.L.D. The Editor-in-chief is Mr. M. R. Elliott, of Clarence. Among the associate editors are Miss Annie E. Eaton, of Clarence Centre, and Miss Sadie Dykeman, of Middleton. One of the two editors for the Academy is Mr. J. Firth Locke, formerly of Middleton. The business manager is Mr. G. K. Haverstock.

At the reception for the Academy students on Oct. 7th, Miss Hazel Clute, of Acadia Seminary, acted on the reception committee with the Principal and Vice-Principal of the Seminary.

The usual writenup of the graduating class appears in this number. The following appears in reference to Mr. A. B. Balcom of Nictaux Falls:—
 "The name of Balcom will be long remembered at Acadia as that of the leader of four victorious intercollegiate debating teams. At his first appearance as a public debater he was acknowledged as a "star" and throughout his course he easily vindicated the right to pre-eminence. Endowed with a clear and logical mind he added to his splendid powers for debate a very accurate and wide range of knowledge. Both in class and intercollegiate debates he invariably showed the greatest skill in detecting the weakness of his opponents argument and succeeded in making his own points so telling that the hearer was often convinced against his own inclinations. Indeed his ability to weigh the merits of a question, gained for him a reputation approaching infallibility. He was a valued member of the Athenaeum Society, exerting a strong influence in the conduct of its affairs. Balcom played on the college base ball team throughout his course and during his junior year was college base ball captain. Athletics, however, seldom disturbed the peaceful course of his daily life. There are some who say that even then he was preparing future parliamentary orations. He is at present at his home Nictaux Falls."

Mr. W. R. Bars, of New Germany, is given the following sendoff:—
 "W. R. joined '07 in the junior year, entering on his "A" license from Pictou Academy. It was not long before Bars became prominent in college affairs. In base ball he played second base for the college team one year, and in basket ball played on his class team for one or two games. He won first prize for a story in the Athenaeum Prize Competition and in his Senior year was one of the Associate Editors of the college paper. Last year he was assistant in Physics and graduated with honors in that subject. Bars was the first president of the Science Society. On Class day he read the prophecy; he was also author of the Class Ode.

This year he has a splendid position on the teaching staff of one of the Halifax schools and is at the same time continuing his study of Physics."

Skillful Farming.
 An instance of skill, and good management in farming is that of F. H. Johnson at Carleton's Corner. When Mr. Johnson bought his farm, the orchard was producing about 100 barrels of apples yearly. Eight years cultivation have given him from the same trees, 700 barrels of apples Mr Johnson was one of the exhibitors at the Crystal Palace Exposition, London, sending 12 boxes of different varieties. He is preparing another exhibit to send in cold storage for the London Exhibition next Summer.

Hatching by Electricity.

One of the latest uses for electricity is for heating incubators. The advantage over wood, coal, oil, or alcohol, is that with electricity an almost perfectly even temperature can be maintained. This is a highly important matter in hatching eggs.
