

verse in the book which goes something like this:

"You are old, father William," the young man said,
And your hair has become very white;
And yet you incessantly stand on your head—
Do you think at your age it is right?
In my youth, father William replied to his son
I feared it might injure the brain,
But now that I'm perfectly sure I have none,
Why, I do it again and again!

Mr. Cafik: Is that where we have spent our research dollars?

Mr. Rodriguez: Well, it did not take much research to look into this Speech from the Throne. Actually, when I look at the speech I see so many paradoxes that I feel impelled to point some out. For example, in one part of the speech the government talks about peacekeeping. We take a great deal of pride in peacekeeping; but, Mr. Speaker—

Mr. Speaker: Order, please. Perhaps the hon. member will have another occasion to continue his remarks. I regret very much having to interrupt him at this time.

The Address—Mr. Rodriguez

However, it being 5.45 p.m., it is my duty, pursuant to Standing Order 38(5), to interrupt these proceedings and forthwith put every question necessary to dispose of the main motion.

Is it the pleasure of the House to adopt the motion?

Mr. Stanfield: On division.

Motion (Mr. Duclos) agreed to.

Hon. Mitchell Sharp (President of the Privy Council) moved:

That the said address be engrossed and presented to His Excellency the Administrator of the Government of Canada by Mr. Speaker.

Motion agreed to.

Mr. Sharp: Mr. Speaker, I ask that we call it six o'clock.

Some hon. Members: Agreed.

Mr. Speaker: It being agreed that we call it six o'clock, the House stands adjourned until tomorrow at 2 p.m., pursuant to Standing Order 2.

At 5.50 p.m. the House adjourned, without question put, pursuant to special order.
