

arm of the assailants. One hundred were left dead on the field; one hundred and forty were seen to descend the cataract; and their whole loss was afterwards ascertained to have been 300. Turner lost but one man.

In his retreat, he was less fortunate. He was attacked by other parties of Indians on the route—his men divided—himself killed; and the loss of his party, before they reached Hatfield, amounted to between 30 and 40. Capt. T. is supposed to have fallen in what is called Greenfield Meadow, at the mouth of a small stream on which a mill now stands; as his body was afterwards found at that place by a scouting party of the English.

BERNARDSTOWN, 5 miles north of Greenfield.

VERNON, 6 miles: the first town reached in entering the state of Vermont. Fort Dummer, built to protect the inhabitants against the Indians, was located at this place.

GUILFORD, 5 miles. Here are two slate quarries and several mills and manufactories.

BRATTLEBOROUGH, 6 miles, a flourishing village, is located on the west bank of the Connecticut river; over which there is a permanent bridge. White stone creek also passes through the place, affording a number of good mill sites. The village contains a bank, the most extensive printing establishment in the state, and several manufactories. Stages pass daily between this place and Boston, Hartford, Albany and Hanover.

DUMMERSTON, 5 miles.

PUTNEY, 5 miles.

WESTMINSTER, 5 miles. The first newspaper printed in Vermont was issued from a press at this place; though
