GERMANS FALLING BACK UPON OSTEND

British Warships Aided in Giving Enemy Biggest Surprise of War.

DISORDERLY RETREAT

German General Committed Suicide—Festivities Were Suddenly Canceled.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The correspondents of the London newspapers in the field have succeeded today in getting thru some details of the fighting along the coast in Belgium. The reports agree that the Germans have met with a reverse and it is said that the Germans are retreating. The Belgian correspondent of The Telegraph in his account of the fighting reports that British warships bombarded villages which the Germans had occupied and also the country to the south of these places. "The order was given for the infantry to advance," he says, "and the rattle of machine guns supplemented the noise of the naval guns. The Germans were caught between the two fires and their line began to waver and slowly gave way before the pressure of the infantry. The strength of the attack was then increased and soon the whole German line resting on the coast was in full retreat."

Surprise of War.

The Daily Mail's Rotterdam correspondent says: "On the march on Dunkirk, the Germans met a large and unexpected body of troops, which attacked them, horse, foot and artillery, while the British warships co-operated with the land forces. The Germans are reported as falling back in confusion on Ostend and troops from all over the west of Belgium have been hurried to Neuport."

"The Germans have received the greatest surprise of the war. A despatch from Ghent says that the result of this fighting has caused anxiety among the German officers, one of whom, a German general, committed suicide."

"Festivities announced to celebrate German successes were suddenly canceled yesterday."

WARSHIPS' FIRE DEADLY.

A newspaper correspondent at Dover has sent to London some details of the recent operations of British warships off the coast of Belgium. He says that last Saturday night the ships watched a force of Germans digging trenches along the coast under a flare of lights. This enabled the English boats to get the exact range, and at daylight they shelled the enemy's positions heavily. A Zeppelin aeroplane was brought down, and later a Zeppelin, and it is declared that the guns of the British vessels accounted for 1600 Germans in killed and wounded, in addition to putting six batteries of artillery out of action. In the meantime the British submarines tried in vain to sink the British ships. This despatch is not confirmed by the official press bureau.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 21.—At Dutton, this afternoon Hon. Finlay MacDiarmid, the new minister of public works, was re-elected to the legislature by acclamation for West Elgin. There was much cheering when Sheriff McColl, returning officer, declared Mr. MacDiarmid elected.

In the evening Mr. MacDiarmid was met at the station in St. Thomas by the 28th Regiment Band, and a procession, which escorted him and his friends to the engineer's auditorium, where hundreds of citizens congratulated him on his elevation to the cabinet. KAISER NOT EAGER TO FIGHT BRITAIN

Germany Desired to Crush Other Powers First, Then Tackle Britons.

Canadian Press Despatch.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—London cable to The Tribune says: British men of science and professors in all branches of learning at the universities have combined to frame a reply to the German professors who recently denounced Great Britain as the instigator of war.

Among the more striking passages are the following: "One point we freely admit. Germany very likely would have preferred not to fight Great Britain at this moment. She would have preferred to weaken and humiliate Russia, to make Serbia a dependent of Austria, to render France innocuous, and Belgium subservient, and then, having established an overwhelming advantage, to settle accounts with Great Britain. Her grievance against us is that we did not allow her to do this."

ARMY OF UNEMPLOYED IS GROWING IN AUSTRIA

Lack of Raw Materials Proves Big Handicap to Industry.

Canadian Press Despatch.

VENICE, Oct. 21 (by way of Paris, 7.11 p.m.).—The shortage of raw materials, notably cotton, wool, jute and petroleum, is greatly reducing the production in many branches of manufacture in Austria-Hungary, according to advices received here.

It is officially estimated that the supplies in some of the most necessary raw products are barely sufficient for the next two months. Factories are closing down and the number of unemployed is increasing steadily. This applies not only to the chief manufacturing districts of Moravia and Bohemia, but to many other points, such as Trieste, where the unemployed already number some thousands.

HUNDREDS ARRESTED BY BRITISH POLICE

Austrians and Germans Are Being Hurried to Detention Camps.

Special to The Toronto World.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Canada wants no union with the United States. Its government is as free and flexible as that of its republican neighbor to the south, and it glories in the fact that it is a British colony and allied by blood and political ties to the mother country.

This in effect, was the notice served on the delegates of the American Bar Association by Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, chief justice of Canada, who spoke on the "Constitution of Canada." The distinguished Canadian jurist traced the history of Canada from its source, laying stress on the liberalizing effect of the American revolution on the British Parliament in the enactment of laws for the provinces.

An English writer has said that Americans are profoundly convinced of the perfection of their constitution and of their system of government," he said. "With such convictions it is easy to understand why some of you can ignore how it is that a people of the same blood and lineage, apparently of many and independent spirit, are content to remain in what you think a position of political inferiority, when, as you know, English statesmen more than once have said to Canada, 'If you want independence, you have only to ask for it.'"

"This enquiry, I think, arises from a misconception of our relations to the British crown, which are extremely close and greatly to the advantage of both."

DOMINION GLORIES IN TIES TO BRITISH

Sir Charles Fitzpatrick Tells American Bar Canada Wants No Annexation.

Canadian Press Despatch.

LONDON, Oct. 21, 7.20 p.m.—Austrian and German subjects of military age who, since the beginning of the war, have been allowed their liberty in England unless they rested under some suspicion, are to be interned in detention camps.

The police during the last few days have been arresting hundreds of men between the ages of 17 and 65 years and sending them to camps in different parts of the country. More than 200 were arrested today in London, 100 were arrested in Manchester and similar numbers were taken in all the large cities.

This action of the government is necessitated, it is said, because of the facilities offered German spies to enter the country with Belgian refugees on the pretence of being Belgians. No distinctions are being made. Wealthy bankers and merchants are receiving the same treatment as are small shopkeepers and waiters. Those who failed to register or contravened any of the rules under which they were allowed to reside in their own homes are being prosecuted.

Canadian Apples Finest in the World. It is conceded all over the world that the finest apples are grown right here in Canada. The Dominion Government is now endeavoring to get Canadians to eat more apples, not only to help out the farmer, but because they are a healthy food. If you want to know how delicious apple pie can be made try a piece at Young's Lunch, at the corner of Yonge and Queen streets, with entrances on both streets. The best Canadian apples, the finest flour, the choicest pastry only are used. It takes Young's all their time making enough pies to supply the demand.

ENEMY QUITTING FRANCE QUICKLY

Germans Getting Out of Northeastern District as Quickly as Possible.

PRINCE MAX IS KILLED

Body of Kaiser's Nephew Buried by Peasants Who Found It.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In northeastern France the situation remains a bit vague, but the greatest optimism is noticeable everywhere. A staff officer just informed me that the Germans are quitting northeastern France as quickly as possible.

He said that the German cavalry had paid heavily for its temerity in recent operations, especially a couple of Uhlan regiments, which were found in a camp at Caestre, near Hazebruck. Their bivouac was captured by an alarm just before dawn. He passed the word along and a regiment of infantry worked up carefully to their position. A heavy mist hung over the countryside, but the Uhlan outposts were alert and gave the alarm as the infantrymen crept up in the enshrouding darkness. The German sentries gave the alarm and the Uhlans took the obvious way out, which happened to be along a tree-lined road. Five hundred yards from the road a battery of artillery was posted, and as the long gray columns of horsemen broke cover the guns opened with a sheet of shrapnel fire. The enemy lost more than 250 dead and wounded on the road.

Prince Max Killed. I am informed that allied troops found near Caestre the body of Prince Max of Hesse, killed by revolver shot. He was clad only in his tunic and socks. Up to the present the means by which he met his death is unexplained.

He was buried in a rough coffin made in a homely way by peasants of the neighborhood. No French priest could be found who would read the burial service for the dead man, a nephew of the Kaiser. Tuesday was his twentieth birthday.

It is remarkable how quickly conditions of life in the territory evacuated by the Germans returns to the normal. The day after the invaders left Hazebruck the refugee population returned and resumed their affairs where they left off when the Germans came. Business began again in the usual way. The price of cauliflower, eggs and pig was the negating topic with the fugitives of the day before. They completely dismissed the war from their minds.

Concerning the prospects of the allies, it may be said that the prospect of retaking Brussels within a month is in the bounds of possibility.

HINDU SHOT DOWN WITNESS AT TRIAL

Vancouver Immigration Officer Victim of Feud—Murderer Arrested.

Canadian Press Despatch.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Oct. 21.—William C. Hopkinson, chief assistant to the immigration inspector here, was shot and instantly killed in the court house on Georgia street this forenoon by a Hindu. The assassin was immediately arrested.

Hopkinson was standing in the main corridor of the court house when a party of Hindus passed by. Mewa Singh is believed to have done the shooting.

Mewa Singh and eight other Hindus were in the party which filed along the court house corridor. Mewa suddenly pulled his hands from under his overcoat, a revolver in each hand, and fired the first shot into Hopkinson's breast. Hopkinson, straddled by the man, but the Hindu fired again, and this bullet penetrated Hopkinson's heart. Mewa continued to shoot into the body until five shots in all were fired. Then he turned to flee.

James McCann, the courthouse janitor, seized him. Mewa struggled and tried to shoot McCann, but several police officers disarmed him. Immediately the shooting began there was a great scattering of the Hindus who had been standing in the hall. Eight of them fled towards the front door, but all were stopped by policemen. They were locked up in the cells of the provincial police at the court house.

Hopkinson was threatened at the time of the Komagata Maru's visit to Vancouver, but his assassination this morning probably arises from a trial now pending at the assize. He was to have been a witness today in the case of Bela Singh. Ram Singh, another Hindu, was acquitted on a charge of murder yesterday. Hopkinson gave testimony favorable to Ram Singh, who was an enemy of Mewa Singh.
