NEVER CONSIDERED
CABINET SEAT

Says James Simpson, Who Criticizes MacBride's Statement as Puerile.

"I defy anyone to show where I have in any way endeavored either to secure position in the new cabinet of Ontario or to get a seat from the country thru the indulgence of the U. F. O.," said James Simpson to The World yesterday afternoon. "I never knew at any time of any move in either the labor or the U. F. O.-Labor convention to do either of these things. So far as I know my name is not being considered for a cabinet position. Mayor MacBride's statements relative to myself and my aspirations are nothing short of puerile. As a matter of fact Mayor MacBride had earlier in the day stated that he was heartily sick of the whole thing and was going over to the opposition. This shows how much faith may be placed in Mayor MacBride's statements."

Two Seats Waiting. The defeated candidate for West York smiled when told that Mayor MacBride had two seats waiting in the Brants for the premier and Mr. Simpson. "That is strange," said Mr. Simpson. "I had no idea I was slated for a seat in the legislature. And the Brants? Well, that is very good of Mr. MacBride. Now, let me assure you the move made by the Brantford mayor is decidedly unwise. No one knows better than he that Mr. Drury had expressed the intention of conferring with Walter Rolfe, chief of the Labor Party, before appointing any labor men to office. The labor group was unanimous in its desire that Mr. Rolfe should be its mouthpiece. Mayor MacBride proved to be the one exception."

Jekyll and Hyde. Mayor MacBride himself in an interview with the press stated that Mr. Simpson was not a member of the Independent Labor Party and never had been. He accused Mr. Simpson of playing a game of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. "There were a few others like him who were playing the same game," said the Brantford mayor. "They were attending both conventions. I watched both conventions to see the comedy played out."

"I represent 17,000 people," said the mayor, "and when Mr. Simpson says I acted for myself he forgot to add the other fact in mind. My action was perfectly fair. I overheard during the morning that steps were being considered to sidestep a portfolio instead of giving it where promised. I told the convention at the evening session that there was no bubbling on my part and that I didn't want any on theirs. When Mr. Drury wanted to dictate what positions should be filled and by whom. I left."

ONE LABOR MERGER

James Simpson, secretary of the Ontario section of the Canadian Labor party, stated yesterday afternoon that a convention of the section might be held in December, very probably in January, to consider solidification of plans which have been only partially carried out during the past two years. If present plans materialize, the Canadian Labor party may yield title to the Ontario Labor party, the consolidation being the same as at present, but much stronger. This would indicate that the Independent Labor party, the trades union unit and other units will finally merge into one solid political labor whole, such as the Ontario Labor party.

HAVE you ever noticed how selfish some people are—the female of the species particularly? They star in a big feature act entitled "Me and Myself," all year round. The other night a prize bunk artist handed me a bid into one of them phantoms of thrill. It was bargain soon my friend got fed up and he suggested a beauty. So I left him chewing the rag with the door kept while I bowed into the ladies' (7) dressing room. I was just going to tuck my deer at a proper

BRANTFORD MAYOR
ISSUES CHALLENGE

MacBride Would Contest Brant Seats Against Drury and Simpson.

Brantford, Ont., Oct. 30.—Mayor MacBride, recently elected to the legislature as Labor member for South Brant, issued the following statement on his return to his home city this morning: "I returned home at noon, and all I wish to say is this: That when Mr. Drury permits James Simpson to be designated as his mouthpiece, the people may draw their own conclusions."

"My position is this: I went there to represent Brantford Labor, and not for all the portfolios in the Dominion of Canada would I betray Labor into such a compact."

"Mr. Simpson is seeking a Labor seat. Mr. Drury also has a seat, and, according to The Globe, he has been offered North Brant. I am prepared to stage a contest in both North and South Brant and we will find out who represents the people. Let Mr. Drury take the North Brant constituency, now that he has been chosen as a Farmer-Labor leader, and if Mr. Simpson wants to test out his desire of some time ago to meet MacBride in Brantford, he will be accommodated."

Strike Leaders in the West
Say Three Classes Will Control

Calgary, Oct. 30.—J. I. Woodsworth and R. E. Bray, strike leaders, now facing charges in the Winnipeg courts, spoke here last night. Mr. Woodsworth said: "I don't care whether they send us to jail or not. We are going to win out. The people would not let us stay in jail long. Returned soldiers, labor and farmers will soon control the country."

SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR IVENS.

Amalgamated garment workers last night subscribed a hundred dollars to ward the Political Defence League fund for the Winnipeg strike leaders. Tom Mellillieu addressed the meeting. He stated last night that he had addressed four union meetings and that only one of these unions had refused to donate liberally toward this fund. Rev. William Ivens, now in Toronto, is one of the strike leaders considered by the fund.

BAKERS AND DRIVERS MAY UNITE.

It was stated last night from authoritative sources that the Bakers' Union in Toronto was stronger today than at any time, and that steps would probably be taken soon to amalgamate together in one union all the various branches of the baking trade. During the recent bakers' strike the union paid all strikers $8 a week for single men and $12 for married men the first week and a straight $8 a week to all the following two weeks.

ASSESSMENT APPEALS

Appeal for exemption against an assessment of $30,000 on their plant in West Toronto was made by the Toronto Suburban Railway. The assessment department claim that the large generating plants cannot be classed as structures under the act. The judge reserved decision.

A. E. Walberg, who owns a property on Kingston road, appealed for a reduction from $7200 to $5000 and had $700 cut off.

W. G. Thurston appealed against an assessment of $870 for his wife. The money is entirely derived from mortgages. Judge Coatsworth did not see how it could be assessed, but reserved decision.

REQUIRED FIVE STITCHES.

FINED UNDER COMPANIES ACT

Harold J. Binney, representing the Canadian Photoplay Production Co. appeared before Magistrate Cohen yesterday and was fined $100 and costs for failing to comply with the conditions of the companies act. The charge arose out of newspaper advertisements offering shares for sale. The accused pleaded guilty, but laid the blame on his counsel. His counsel, he said, had O. K'd the advertisements which had been prepared by his brokers. Since action was taken he had engaged a new counsel. Assistant Crown Attorney McFadden pointed out that the law had been broken and the fine was imposed.

WHISKEY PEDDLERS DE LUXE

Harry Olnsky, Brunswick avenue, and David Inglander, Lippincott street, were arrested by Plainclothesmen Dunn and O'Neil yesterday while trying to sell three gallons of alcohol on Spadina avenue. These men, according to the police, are whiskey peddlers de luxe, traveling around in a motor car. When the chauffeur, who was driving the car yesterday, saw the police on the trail he decamped, leaving the unfortunate two who were standing on the curb an easy capture for the gallant minions of the law.

PRIVATE PARK DANGERS

In the county court yesterday, Judge Coatsworth commenced hearing appeals against court of revision decisions. Harry Nixon, appearing for the assessment department, appealed against the cancellation of the assessment at $8000 an acre of the Annie Hamilton estate (nee Kennedy estate), of 30 acres, at Bloor and Clendenan. It is occupied by Miss Eliza Hamilton, and in 1890 special legislation fixed the assessment at not more than $500 an acre, while it was kept as a park block. "This is no public park," said Robert Kennedy, son of the original owner. "It is dangerous for people to go in there. There are 25 or 30 heads of cattle roaming around, and children wanted to go in they would be met by barking dogs and cross old women with sticks." W. P. Kelly and other property owners objected to the discrimination.

"The statute is quite clear, and I don't see that I can touch it at present," ruled the judge.

ROSE CASH LOSES SUIT. Yesterday Judge Denton dismissed the suit of Rose Cash against Louis Gold for $417 alleged to be due her from the price paid by him for an equity in a property on Strachan avenue. The plaintiff alleged that she and Barnett Stone were partners in the purchase of the property, and that when it was sold to Gold she got no part of the proceeds.
