The signal station master at the custom house received word this morning that a steamer named Brice Island, N. S. bound inward at 8 a. m. with a coal steamer Dominion from Sydney, N. CONCERNING EVOLUTION

(Yarmouth Times.) On Tuesday evening there was a large audience at Boston Marine Hall to hear Rev. Mr. Ball deliver his lecture on the evolutionary as compared with the theological view of creation. The speaker introduced the subject by stating that all the colleges in any civilized country teach evolution; that Lyman Abbott, the famous Congregationalist minister, former pastor of Plymouth church (B. S. Ch. P.) and now editor of the Outlook, the leading religious weekly periodical of America, in an article in his issue, has written books and delivered lectures on the subject. He then referred to the two famous Baptist educators—the late Dr. Harper, of Chicago, and Professor Schurman, formerly of Prince Edward Island, now president of Cornell University—both believers in the theory of evolution. Not one of the liberal clergymen but all scholars are firm believers in evolution. All the colleges accept evolution. For instance, said the lecturer, when your minister went to college, whether in Nova Scotia, U. P. Canada or the United States, he did not learn geology out of the bible. He did not learn astronomy out of the bible. He does not believe that this earth is only six thousand years old. He was not taught that in any college upon the face of the earth, whether Methodist, Baptist, Congregationalist, Unitarian or Universalist.

AN ENERGETIC WIFE

Because John Wright, of Harrison's alley, accused his wife of entertaining and drinking with a man whom she declared was the tax collector, there was domestic war, and during the argument Mrs. Wright seized a pail and threw its contents over her husband. The police were called upon but failed to secure reconciliation. Mrs. Wright says she will never return to her husband's home. St. John theatre-goers and lovers of sport will have an opportunity during the first four nights of the week commencing December 17th of seeing at the Opera House, the famous moving pictures of the Game-Nelson fight. These are the Mies Bros. pictures and are very interesting. Other subjects of interest will also be shown. Torrie Bros. are the proprietors of the company.

DRIVE ENDED IN JAIL

After a thrilling escapade George Riley and Frank Burke are locked up, charged with furiously driving a horse on Main street, beating it unmercifully, trotting on Suspension bridge and being drunk. The two young men started out in company with two others on Saturday with a horse and rig from Hogan's stable. About one o'clock Sunday morning they were discovered by the police, who say that the horse had been driven over the coping in front of the I. C. R. station, the animal was very warm and the wagon badly injured. Riley and Burke were taken into custody.

ROB ROY TONIGHT

Nannary-Rennie Company Will Appear in Splendid Operatic Melodrama at Opera House This Evening.

Judging from the advance sale, a large audience will be present at the Opera House this evening to witness the Nannary-Rennie players in that great Scotch play, "Rob Roy." This piece is vastly different from any play ever seen here, from the fact that it is known as an operatic melodrama. During the action of the play, a number of favorite Scotch songs are introduced, both solo, duets and choruses. The different members of the company who are to sing are the possessors of good voices, and those who attend will see both an operatic and dramatic treat. Mr. Rennie, who for seven years starred in "Rob Roy" has rehearsed the play carefully and will play the title role himself, hence a splendid performance is assured. There is a strong vein of Scotch humor running through the play, also a very charming love story. The story is founded on the Jacobite rebellion and should be very interesting.

DOCTRINE OF EVOLUTION

(Continued from Page 1.) to the men and women, the multitude of a city. The mayor said that the city needs more manufacturers and later stated that the city that stands for honesty and attention to all matters of a material interest to the city, will surely win in the commercial sphere. On motion of Rev. David Hutchinson, seconded by Rev. Dr. Fotheringham, Mayor Sears was extended a hearty vote of thanks for his excellent paper. Rev. J. F. Floyd read a paper on "Higher Criticism," and in it he stated that the Bible is able to stand the test of all criticism. He said it was the most popular work in the world, and it contained the highest class of literature and the purest and sweetest of poetry ever written. Anyone who ever disputed the Biblical record did so without the slightest foundation. Speaking of the theory of evolution, Rev. Mr. Floyd said that it was purely and simply the product of the imagination, and now in the twentieth century the days of Darwinism were numbered. The doctrine of evolution, particularly Darwinism, was in error. The paper being open for discussion, Rev. A. B. Chase, in moving a vote of thanks to Rev. Mr. Floyd for his excellent paper, said that he was much more interested in what has been found out than what has been destroyed. One point that struck him forcibly was the problem of evolution. He did not think that it was a point to be decided by the study of origins, but rather of existing conditions. He asked did God have a different method of mediating to his people before the Bible was written than He has at the present time, and if so, when did the break take place? Rev. Mr. Stackhouse, in seconding the motion, said that he did not quite understand Rev. Mr. Floyd's exact view of higher criticism. He noticed that the writer of the paper had merely opposed destructive criticism. After the motion had been put and carried unanimously, Rev. Mr. Floyd said that he recognized the fact that he took but one side of the question, but he believed in having something definite to arrive at. "Whatever tries to destroy is destructive criticism," said he, and he believed that in a sense the Bible was fallible. He stated, however, that there were some things in the Bible spoken by the Devil and bad men. On motion the meeting adjourned.
