Y. M. C. A. DEBATE.

Y. M. C. A. DEBATE. The negative side champloned by the Fireside Club of St. David's church won out in the debate on the resolu-tion that maritime union was to be desired, which resolution was debated at the Y. M. C. A. last night with the Y. M. C. A. Seniors upholding the hcg-ative. Gordon Willet was the leader of the St. David's team and his sup-porters were Douglas MacGowan and Ronald Shaw. The captain of the Y. M. C. A. team was Dodd Tweedie and the other members, Gregory Bridges and Gordon Kelly. The judges were Judge George A. Henderson, Grant Smith and George E. Barbour. The presentation of the arguments and the matter contained in the speeches of the contestants were both alike excel-lent.

lent. At noon in the Y. M. C. A. yes-terday the Junior High Y club held its first meeting and initiated 15 new members. This year the High Y club has been divided into junior and senior organizations because of the large en-rollment and because it is believed great efficiency will be achieved in this way.

Quaker Oats

Chanksgiving AND now the nation unites in giving thanks. From East and West, from farm and factory, office and store, from every Canadian home come sincere expressions of gratitude for Nature's blessings.

That the crop is a bountiful one, means much to Canadians in every walk of life. It will speed the wheels of industry; it will accelerate development in all parts of the Dominion.

The crop is safely harvested. But it must be marketed. A great part must be transmuted into food products for Canadian tables. It is in this important work that the Quaker Oats Company's activities loom larger each succeeding year.

The Quaker Oats Company gathers from all parts of the country a vast quantity of the best grains of every kind. Its mills are the most modern and efficient in the world. In them the grain is milled most perfectly for human consumption.

> The Quaker Oats Company PETERBOROUGH SASKATOON

The first consideration of the Quaker Oats Company is to meet the domestic demand for cereal products of highest quality. The surplus output of the Quaker Mills is then • shipped to all parts of the world.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE OWNER OF THE

The Company's symbol—the homely Quaker —is as evident in Asia, as in Canada. In the Far North, in the Tropics, in 50 different countries—wherever there is civilization you will find the familiar Quaker packages.

The daily capacity of the Company's Canadian Mills is 5,000 barrels flour, 3,000 barrels Oats products, 350 barrels cornmeal, 1,000 cases puffed goods, 600 cases corn flakes, 200 kegs barley, 500 tons poultry and cattle feed. The elevator capa-city is 2,500,000 burbels city is 2,500,000 bushels.

That the Quaker Oats Company is privileged to serve to such an extent in the capitaliza-tion of the crop—that it is privileged to contribute to the promotion of Canada's position as one of the leading food exporting countries in the world—actuates this mes-sage at Thanksgiving time.
