

WILL FIGHT TO RETAIN THRACE

Turks Must Never Have It, Say Greeks

Foreign Office Statement on Situation—To Send Troops to Supplement Forces Now in Adrianople—Morale Declared Improving.

(Canadian Press) Athens, Sept. 22.—Greece will never permit the Turks to invade Thrace, which she considers part of her homeland and retention of which is an essential preliminary condition to any peace conference." This was made in a statement to the Associated Press by the Greek foreign office today.

"We have lost Asia Minor, but we must keep Thrace," said the statement.
"That is an essential preliminary condition to any peace conference. Our army in Asia Minor, which had been fighting for ten years, was absolutely exhausted, but the Greek nation will never permit the Turks to invade Thrace, which we consider home territory."

"We have demobilized the (military) classes from 1912 to 1918, but the classes from 1919 to 1922 are keeping on a war footing, making a total army of 150,000 men available for Thrace should the Allies permit the Turks to cross to Constantinople."

"Unfortunately we lack ammunition, artillery and general equipment.
"The Smyrna massacre speaks for itself.
Greece is defending Christian civilization."

"Internally Greece is quiet. There is absolutely no danger of a revolution.
Foreign reports of trouble are the outgrowth of the insistence of our troops that they be returned to Piraeus instead of being demobilized on the islands. But these wearied men had no revolutionary designs; they only wanted to go home.
We found that out when we sent our Athens army as a precaution to Piraeus.

"Immediately some of the returned soldiers exclaimed sadly: 'What are you treating us, wearied patriots, as enemies?'"

"Our king remains because the people demanded him and want him. By what right shall any foreign nation interfere with the expressed will of the Greek people?"

Adrianople, Sept. 22.—Greece is apparently determined to defend Thrace at all costs. It is understood that every available division in Northern Pirus and Macedonia will be sent to supplement the forces now in Adrianople.

French reports indicate that the morale of the Thracian troops is improving.
Major General Polymenakos, the new commander-in-chief, has inspired the soldiers with a new spirit.
In his order of the day yesterday he appealed to the men to retrieve Greece's lost military glory, declaring that political leanings must be forgotten in the face of the common danger.

IN RESTIGOUCHE CO.
Campbell, Sept. 21.—(Special)— Mrs. Fred Furlong, of Lorne settlement, is now in a very critical condition as a result of injuries inflicted by herself on Tuesday night, when she made an attempt at suicide by cutting her throat.
There is little hope for her recovery. She has one child.

As to the sloven.
Percy Richards said he had turned from Princess into Sydney street with his sloven and then driven to Mecklenburg street when he passed the automobile just on the curve. He said he did not know there were any children on the rear of the sloven, which was covered.
He said his horse was walking around the curve. He noticed throngs of chilren in Sydney street as he drove down.
He saw the car coming up Mecklenburg street, and said it was coming slowly.
The first time he saw the lad was after the car had passed over him.

John S. Coughlan, Richard J. Ivany,
Joseph Gouding, William C. Clifford,
Ronald Smith, Francis Richards and Walter Brindle, all eye witnesses of the accident or arrivals shortly after it happened gave corroborative evidence. The jury remained out only twenty minutes.

FAREWELL FOR
DAVID HIPWELL
At a large gathering of the local members of the Loyal Orange Order held in the Orange Hall, Germain street, last night in honor of David Hipwell, a past grand master, J. Starr, Tait, the county master, on behalf of the members presented to Mr. Hipwell a handsome leather club bag with initials inscribed on it. Mr. Hipwell has been an outstanding figure among the Orangemen of the province and has been devoted to the cause of the order, working especially for the Protestant Orphanage.
He is leaving St. John shortly to make his home in British Columbia and at last night's gathering his fellow members expressed in warm terms their appreciation of his sterling character and his faithful work as an Orangeman.
The hall was filled to capacity as every member wished to give a personal greeting to Mr. Hipwell.

Mr. Hipwell joined the order forty-six years ago. Mr. Tait was chairman of the meeting and with him on the platform were Stephen D. Bustin, Orange grand master, and Richard Magee, grand master of the black knights. Among those who contributed to the musical part of the programme were W. B. Waring, Thomas Sibley, B. Rainsford and others. Mr. Hipwell will leave tomorrow for his new home in Vancouver.

STILL HAVING
ITS OWN TROUBLES
The executive of the provincial opposition party met here yesterday afternoon in the Seamen's Institute. There was a fairly large attendance and it was announced that the meeting was for organizational purposes. It was said that a vote of confidence in the leader J. D.
Palmer was passed, although many thought that C. D. Richards should be the leader, especially as he was leading the party representatives in the provincial house.

It had been intended to select an organizer for the party, but there were too many candidates with strong influences, and the meeting could come to no decision on this question and "passed the buck" to a special committee. Probably this committee will be able to reach some decision in the matter, it was said, but it was hinted that in order that no new breaks in the party might develop, the organizer may not be named just at present.

195,142 COAL CARS
LOADED LAST WEEK
Railroads Report 1931 Carried Anthracite, First Week's Output Since Resumption.

The following was issued by the Association of Railway Executives in New York:
"A total of 195,142 cars were loaded with coal last week, according to reports just received from the railroads of the country by the Association of Railway Executives. Of this total 155, 929 were loaded with bituminous coal, an increase of 17,316 cars over the week before, when, however, there was a falling off in loading, due to the observance of Labor Day."

"The remaining 39,163 cars were loaded with anthracite coal during the last week, which was the first week of production since the recent agreement was reached between anthracite operators and miners."

"On the basis of these loadings, coal production last week amounted to approximately 10,838,000 tons of which 9,450,000 tons consisted of bituminous and 988,000 tons were anthracite."

"A total of 5,088 cars were loaded with anthracite coal last Saturday, Sept. 16, the largest number for any one day since operations were resumed in the anthracite field, and 884 cars in excess of the preceding day. This was within 863 cars of the average daily loading in September, last year."

"Loading of bituminous coal on Saturday amounted to 25,073 cars, 2,798 cars below the preceding day. Coal loadings in the bituminous field, however, always show a decrease on Saturday, compared with other days in the week."

More Flavor--More Weight Eatmor Bread, like its companions from Robinson's Kitchens, is the bigger loaf, the flaky loaf, the kind of bread you've always figured bakers could have copied from Mother.

Well, it took a personal experience of more than twenty years' baking in St. John alone to evolve Eatmor, and a chef trained on two continents to join into the old household loaf a becoming balance of milk, sugar and shortening. So does Eatmor Bread cut finer, keep fresher and allow greater nourishment and digestion. You must enjoy its keener flour flavor.

A VERDICT OF ACCIDENTAL DEATH

At the coroner's inquest held last evening to enquire into the manner in which Francis E. Barnes came to his death on September 19, Mrs. A. C. Skelton, driver of the car which struck the unfortunate lad was exonerated by the jury.

The finding of the jury was as follows:
"We, the jury empaneled to inquire into the death of Francis E. Barnes, who died at the General Public Hospital on the nineteenth day of September 1922, came to his death by being struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Julia Skelton. We find that no blame for the accident can be attached to Mrs. Skelton."

"We commend the commissioner of public safety in bringing to the notice of teamsters the danger of allowing children to climb up and ride upon their teams. We recommend that a policeman be placed on duty in Sydney street near the schools at the hours of dismissal.
We further recommend that the teachers in the public schools be instructed to caution the children of the need of care in crossing streets, and so far as possible to instruct them in 'safety first'." (Sgd.) "ERNEST J. TODD, Foreman."

DAVID J. STOCKFORD,
THOMAS GIBBONS,
THOMAS A. TROTT,
ALEXANDER IRVINE,
W. SULLIS,
JOHN McCOURT."

Summary of Testimony.
Dr. Harold H. Sharpe, an interne at the General Public Hospital, said that he saw the boy when he was first taken to the hospital. He said that Dr. C. M.
Kelly was attending to him at the time.
The doctor said that death was due to a fracture at the base of the skull. The witness said that death occurred at 1 o'clock, less than an hour after the boy arrived there.

Mrs. Julia Skelton was the next witness called. She said that she was driving west along Mecklenburg street when she saw several school children on the street. She said that she sounded her horn and placed the car in second gear.
She declared that she was just turning into Sydney street when she saw a large boy run in front of the car. She declared that she did not notice the sloven or the little boy who was struck by her machine. She said that she did not know how far the machine went after it hit the boy.

As soon as the car stopped she said that her daughter ran to a house to call a doctor. She declared that by the time she got to the boy a man had helped her daughter pick up the lad, who was bleeding profusely, and he offered to accompany her to the hospital. She said that she, accompanied by her daughter and this stranger, then took the boy to the hospital.

On being questioned, the witness denied any recollection of the sloven which the unfortunate boy jumped to his death. She said that the car was working all right that morning. She said that she had been driving a car for about four months and that she was well over on her own side of the street at the time.

To one of the jurymen the witness said that this was the first accident that she ever had since she commenced driving.

Miss Katherine M. C. Skelton said that she was in the car at the time the accident occurred. She corroborated the evidence of her mother regarding the movements of the car. She remembered, however, seeing the sloven and three boys jump off it. She noticed one boy just run clear of the left wheel of the machine and then, as she looked to the front of the car, again she saw a little boy just in front of the car, too close to stop the machine. She came not identify the little boy as one of those who jumped off the sloven. She said she immediately ran to a house nearby to telephone for the ambulance. She declared she helped a strange man pick up the injured lad.

As to the sloven.
Percy Richards said he had turned
from Princess into Sydney street with
his sloven and then driven to Mecklen-
rear of the sloven, which was covered.
He said his horse was walking around
ren in Sydney street as he drove down.
He saw the car coming up Mecklenburg
street, and said it was coming slowly.
The first time he saw the lad was after
the car had passed over him.

John S. Coughlan, Richard J. Ivany,
Joseph Gouding, William C. Clifford,
Ronald Smith, Francis Richards and

pened gave corroborative evidence. The

Wilton Squares of Oriental Splendour

The centuries old carpet craft and color-art of the Orient reappears here in rugs distinguished by the name and worth of Wilton quality.
The first square shown strikes a new note in background—the Jaspey lawn streak, an effect likened to watered silk. And into the deep sinking pile stands out here and there in an elaborate yet clearly defined design, quaint little Chinese chairs. Others dominate the border in the prevailing tints of faint greens, strong blues, amber and black. This framed again in a symmetrical configuration reminiscent of the ancient Egyptians, the fountain heads of all historic tracery.
