REV. MR. MACARTHUR'S ESTATE $18,250

Three Matters in Probate Court Here This Morning

In the probate court today the matter of the estate of Carl M. Schaefer, painter, came up. He died intestate on May 28, leaving two brothers, Ernest and James W. Schaefer, and two sisters, Sarah Jane Ramsey and Lillian F. Clark, and the children of a brother, Edward, in the application of Ernest Schaefer, executor, while the single ladies formed the active committee directing the affair. Refreshments were served.

LEINSTER STREET Y. P. S. CLOSES GOOD SEASON

The Young People's Society of the Leinster street Baptist church closed their season's work last evening with a social entertainment. The work of the society will not be resumed until after the summer suburban season in September. The social last evening was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. J. Gilles, who reported that eighty-three members were enrolled during the year. Every month a missionary meeting was held and an offering taken for missions work. The sum of $10 had been granted to the Sunday school for assistance in the purchase of books for the school library. The financial position of the society at the close of the working year was one to be envied. After meeting all engagements a substantial surplus is held by the treasurer.

The meeting then took the form of an entertainment, including readings, recitations and other items. Miss Helena Coe sang a solo; Miss Tribe and Miss Jenner gave recitations. Ice cream and cakes were served. A hearty vote of thanks was presented to Mrs. Gilles for her energetic interest on behalf of the society. The vote was tendered by the pastor, Rev. Wellington Camp.

STEAMER PRINCE ARTHUR RUNS INTO HUGE WHALE

One hundred and fifty passengers aboard the steamer Prince Arthur, which reached Boston on Sunday from Yarmouth, N. S., were aroused from their slumber on Saturday night and thrown into a panic when the vessel hit a huge whale broadside. The whole ship was jarred and some of the passengers were thrown out of their berths. The sharp prow of the steamer almost cut the whale in two as it wedged itself into the monster's side. For ten minutes the whale lay athwart the ship's bow, and its huge bulk impeded the steamer's progress to such an extent that, although the engines did their best, the ship moved at less than half its normal rate of speed.

FIGHT FOR OPEN DOOR AT THE HOSPITAL IS GOING QUIETLY ON

Action to Follow Next Meeting of Commission if Nothing is Done—Plan to Appoint Assistants to Staff

Although nothing has appeared in public print for some time in reference to the matter, the fight of the city doctors for the open door to the General Public Hospital goes steadily on. A meeting of the doctors in connection with the matter was held recently and it was decided to await the next meeting of the commission for a reply favorable to their requests. If this were not forthcoming it was the decision of the doctors to lay the matter before the municipal council, and proceed along the lines laid down when the delegation of doctors went before the legislature at the last session.

There is under consideration at the hospital at present a change in connection with the staff of physicians. Hitherto vacancies on the staff have been filled by appointment by the commission, but now, it is said, a change is being considered by which assistants will be appointed on both the medical and surgical staffs, and when a vacancy occurs the assistants will get the place. This matter was before the commission at the last meeting, but it is understood that a definite decision has not been reached.

ARMY SERVICE CORPS NOT AT FIRST CAMP

Contract Supply System in Force Again—The Make Up of the Two Camps at Sussex

It was definitely announced this morning by Major A. E. Massie of Fredericton, that No. 7 Army Service Corps would not drill at Camp Sussex during the period of the first camp this year, but that the system of supplying by contract would be reverted to, and the body of which he is in command would be under canvas at the second camp. Major Massie came to the city this morning and is at the Royal. He expects soon to be in his summer home at Westfield, and in the near future will change his residence from Fredericton to St. John.

He said today that the Army Service Corps would go in full strength to the second camp, but that orders had been received by which they would not be represented at the first camp. For this reason Capt. Eaton, of the regular Army Service Corps, of Halifax, has been appointed supply officer, and the system of supplying rationed in use prior to the inauguration of the local detachment of the service corps in 1905, will be provided over by him.

For the last few years the members of the Army Service Corps have been in valuable at Sussex, and have rendered efficient service and their absence from the first camp will be regretted. It will also lessen the number of men under canvas, and in fact the first camp will be small, it being estimated that only about 80 or 90 men will be in training from next Tuesday until July 1, the opening and closing days of the second encampment will be considerably larger, however, and with the new regiment of cavalry, the 28th dragoons bivouacked on the green, the number all told will be more than 1,400.

Contrary to the usual custom, the Royal Canadian Engineers will not drill at Sussex this year, but reported today at Petawawa Camp under command of Col. Tompkins, of Woodstock. With both these bodies absent from the opening camp, it will consist of: 67th and 71st regiments of infantry, 10th, 12th, and 19th Field Batteries of Artillery, one section of No. 8 A. M. C. and a representation from No. 8 Signalling Corps.

At the second camp there will be under canvas the following troops: 73rd, 74th regiments of infantry, 28th Dragoons, and 8th Hussars; in cavalry, a detachment of No. 8 Signalling Section, a large body of No. 8 A. M. Corps, and No. 7 A. S. C. in full strength. Besides these one company of the R. C. E. of Fredericton, will be in camp for the whole of one month, entering on Saturday next.
