

"Let the New Year sing
At the Old Year's grave; Will the New Year bring What the Old Year gave?
Yea! Stranger—Year, thou hast many a charm,
And thy face is fair and thy greeting warm, But, dearer than thou—in his shroud of snows—
Is the furrowed face of the year that goes"

BIG SALES IN 1906.
NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Nearly twenty million more shares of stock were bought and sold in the New York stock exchange in 1906 than in 1905, according to statistics made public today.
The business done in government bonds during the past year also exceeds a record of 1905, but the trading in state and railroad bonds and unlisted bonds has been considerably smaller.
The record for 1906 was as follows: Listed stock, 220,346,977 shares, a gain of $4,641,777; unlisted stock, 19,253,875 shares, a gain of 10,832,421; government bonds, $1,783,460, a gain of $149,820; state and railroad bonds, $23,620,500, a loss of $20,164,200; unlisted bonds, $28, 628,830, a loss of $14,969,820.

AMENDMENTS TO THE

SEPARATION BILL

France Provides What is Claimed to be an Easier Pathway for the Clerics.

PARIS, Dec. 29.—The bill passed by the French Senate is as follows:

Article 1.—Independently of the associations contemplated by the law of December 9th, 1905, public worship can be held by means of associations under the law of July 1st, 1901, as well as in the virtue of the public meetings of June, 1888.

Article 2.—Even in fault of the cultural associations provided for by the law of December 9, 1905, the usage of edifices intended for worship as well as the furniture contained therein, shall remain at the disposition of the clergy and of the clergy for the practice of their religion. The free usage of the churches may be accorded either to associations formed under the law of July 1st, 1901, or to clergy deputed under the law of December 9, 1905.

Article 3.—The usage, however, shall be made under the conditions stated in article 13 of the last-mentioned law by means of an administration act either by the prefect for the property placed under sequestration, when such property belongs to the state or departments, Louis and Nashville...

Article 4.—The property of ecclesiastical establishments not claimed by associations constituted under the law of December 9, 1905, will be assigned, upon the promulgation of this act to charitable institutions as provided by article 9 of said law without prejudice to assignments which may be made under articles 7 and 8 concerning property not dedicated to public worship.

Article 5.—At the expiration of one month after the enactment of the present law allowances made under the law of Dec. 9, 1905, to the clergy who have failed to carry out the requirements of that law will be suppressed.
The failure of members of the clergy to fulfill the requirements of the law will in each case be determined by a joint decision of the Minister of Justice and Finance.

Article 6.—All the provisions of the law of Dec. 9, 1905, will remain in full force in so far as they are not in contradiction with the present act.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—Sir Aston Webb, former president of the Institute of British Architects, and Lady Webb arrived here on the steamship Carona from Liverpool today.

RUSSIA NOT ANXIOUS ABOUT PEACE CONFERENCE

Is in No Hurry Over the Selection of a Date for the Convention

LONDON, Dec. 29.—For some time past Great Britain has been trying to induce Russia to fix a date for the next Hague peace conference, but thus far without success. It has been urged that this suggestion was made very last moment, and able to recognize all the other members of her household, to each of whom she gave a handshake as they came to bid her a last farewell. She died peacefully at 10.30 o'clock this morning.

During the last illness of the baroness numerous royal inquiries were made at her home, Queen Alexandra sending a specially gracious message which the baroness was able to appreciate and respond to. All the members of the royal family have wired their condolences to William Ashmead Burdett-Coutts, the husband of the baroness.

The baroness had been ill altogether for nearly two months and confined to her room at her town residence in Stratton street for the past six weeks.
Her illness had its origin in a cold, which developed into acute bronchitis.
The baroness had a remarkable history.
To have known William IV, to have seen more than £100,000 in charity form a unique chapter of experiences in this woman's life.

By the death of the Baroness Burdett-Coutts the cause of philanthropy in England has lost one of its most valuable supporters. Her great wealth, to which she succeeded in 1857, was devoted throughout a long life to the noblest uses and the amount of her benefactions both public and private it would be impossible to estimate. She was related to the vicarage her own right in 1871 by the late Queen Victoria, and was the recipient of many distinguished foreign orders in recognition of her missions of mercy.

Angela Georgina Baroness Burdett-Coutts was born in 1814, the youngest daughter of the late Sir Francis Burdett, Bart., and granddaughter of Thomas Burdett, a London banker. In 1837 she succeeded to the immense fortune of her grandfather, under the will of his widow, the Duchess of Devonshire. This wealth she devoted chiefly to working out her own well considered projects.

A constantly liberal churchwoman in purse and opinions, her munificence in this direction became historical. Because she was contributing large sums towards building new churches and schools, Miss Coutts endowed at an outlay of £250,000 the three colonial bishoprics of Adelaide, Cape Town and British Columbia. Her exertions in the cause of education of her less fortunate fellow creatures were very numerous and successful, and many hundreds are now living in the free and happy countries throughout the world as a result of her efforts.

On June 30th, Miss Coutts was surprised by the prime minister with an order from her late majesty, Queen Victoria, which honor was accepted. In the following year the baroness was admitted to the freedom of the city of London, and two years later she was made a baronetess of the city of Edinburgh, distinctions shared by no other living woman.

The baroness was married in February, 1851, to William L. Ashmead Burdett, who obtained a royal license to use the surname of Burdett-Coutts.
She leaves no heir or titled relative.
The life work of the baroness has been said to have consisted of judicious and extensive benevolence, with munificent support of education, charitable and religious institutions throughout the United Kingdom.
Her death will be mourned not only in England but in many parts of the colonies.

GERMANY TO TAKE ACTION AGAINST RAISULI

TANGIER, Morocco, Dec. 30.—It is certainly reported here that the German flag is about to be hoisted over Raisuli's stronghold at Zinat. It is said to be the intention of the German government to take action against the raider, who has been causing much trouble to the commerce of the coast.
The German government has been deavor to embolden the powers in the meantime, by joining forces with the pretence. On the other hand, however, it is stated that Zinat has been sent to a German commercial firm which intends to enter into possession when Raisuli retires.

SHE FOLLOWED EXAMPLE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Dec. 31.—Miss Florence Patterson, a young woman who committed suicide yesterday by hanging herself. Her sister, Mrs. Charles R.
Patterson, took her life three weeks ago and the same manner. Both tied a rope to a door knob, ran it over the top of the door and hanged themselves to it on the other side.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The board of governors of the Automobile Club of America, made public today the report of a committee appointed to investigate certain evils which have been developed with the evolution of automobiles. The report discussed at length the question of accidents due to reckless driving of automobiles and as a remedy suggested that the owner of a car and his chauffeur be held equally responsible and that the license of those found guilty of dangerous speeding be revoked.

Among other things the report says:
"The courts have decided that property used by motor car has exactly the same rights on our public streets and highways as those who use other methods of transportation. If the public were always reasonable in their demands and the automobiles were always considerate of the rights of others, the problem would be simple indeed. Unfortunately this is not the case. The public press is burdened daily with reports of accidents caused by the users of automobiles. The tension between the public and the automobilists is becoming tighter every day and if the sober sense of the automobilist does not cause him to restrain the tendency to reckless speed madness on the highway the public will see it that he is restrained in ways that will be so drastic that they are unpleasant to think about."

WILL NOT ADMIT HINDUS
COMING THROUGH VANCOUVER

U. S. Authorities Denial a Party Destine for San Francisco.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—An interesting, and what is regarded by the immigration authorities as an important case, is under consideration by Secretary Strauss of the Department of Commerce and Labor. It relates to the admission into the United States at Vancouver of ten Hindus who desire to go to San Francisco. The statement of the case shows that six of the ten are diseased and four in good physical condition. They have no friends in this country, none of them speaks English and they have barely enough money to enable them to reach San Francisco. In the opinion of the immigration officials they are likely to become public charges.

In the past few years 2,500 Hindus have arrived in British Columbia. They are, according to the reports of the Dominion authorities, a very undesirable class of immigrants. The feeling in British Columbia is so strong against them on account of their habits and unsanitary methods of living, that the inhabitants have resorted, in some instances, to the drastic methods of destroying the dilapidated houses of the Hindus by fire in order to compel them to leave a country.

The immigration officers on the Canadian border denied the Hindus admission to the United States and the case is on appeal to Secretary Strauss.

APPEAL DISMISSED
IN CARUSO'S CASE

Famous Singer Still Stands Convicted of Indecent Assault—Will Go to a Higher Court

NEW YORK, Dec. 29.—The conviction of Enrico Caruso, the opera singer, on a charge of annoying a woman in the Central Park was affirmed today by Recorder Gott in the court of general sessions. Caruso's counsel at once announced that the case would be appealed to the appellate division of the supreme court. The recorder declared in his decision that it was essential to the conviction that Hannah Graham, who made the complaint upon which Caruso was convicted, did not appear in court to prosecute the charge.

The offense is no so much against the individual as against public order and decency," said the recorder in his decision. He also upheld the police magistrate in refusing to permit the police blotter to be introduced in the evidence as requested by the defense.
He declared that it was not a public record but merely a memorandum made by the police for their own use, and that it was not a public record but merely a memorandum made by the police for their own use, and that it was not a public record but merely a memorandum made by the police for their own use.

The offense is no so much against
and decency," said the recorder in his
evidence as requested by the defense.
their own use.
