

HOT TIME OVER THE CIRCUS AT WOODSTOCK

WOODSTOCK, N. B., July 7.—The visit of Cole Brothers' circus to Woodstock today will be remembered as it caused the town to experience one of the most exciting days in its history. A serious row on the grounds at the time of the afternoon performance, a battle between circus employees and townspeople in which tent poles were used as weapons, and several constables were injured, the swearing in of special police and the forbidding of the night performance were outstanding features and when it is added that fighting was made to get the militia out and that, falling this, some fifty townspeople armed with rifles and revolvers gathered near the circus grounds until dispersed by the sheriff, the lively nature of the incidents of the day will be understood.

One circus employe was arrested, Constable Harry Johnston, in the hospital. There was talk of having the riot act read but later the trouble subsided and the circus was allowed to leave town for Fredericton. A circus employe named Allan is believed to have struck Johnston and at the latter's report last night he had not been located.

In anticipation of possible trouble, it was deemed advisable at a meeting of the county council on Monday night to swear in eleven special constables for today inasmuch as it was feared that the employes of Cole Brothers' circus might make trouble.

"SHORT CHANGING" COMPLAINED OF.

The parade took place at noon and made a favorable impression. This afternoon, however, complaint was made by several that a ticket seller was giving the right change back and Harry Johnston, one of the special constables, told the ticket seller that he must refrain from cheating. The row then started.

It is said that one of the boys, who had been with the circus, was hit on the head with a pin and had to be removed to the hospital. Citizens assisted the constables and several were injured on both sides, among the constables being Johnston, Sam Niles and others.

Amusements

SELMAN STOCK CO.

A company that ranks above the average in a good play realistically presented, was the verdict of the audience at the Opera House last night after witnessing the production of "Northern Lights" by the Selman Stock Co.

The company is strong and well equipped and every role was handled with a naturalness and realism that was highly pleasing. The play was very well staged with special scenery and electrical effects, and the company was complete in every detail.

The company made an instant hit with the house and frequent curtain calls testified to the appreciation felt by the audience. It is safe to say that the company will be a strong favorite to St. John before it leaves town.

The scene is laid in the west at the time of the Indian uprising, and around the trouble with the Indians is built up a strong plot in which the actors moved by the strong emotions of such stirring times have every opportunity for the display of their dramatic ability.

John Swiftwind, the Indian army surgeon, is played by Joseph Selman in a heroic figure. Mr. Selman gave a fine portrayal of the Indian native struggling with a civilization to which his instincts do not suit him.

Stanley Hamilton. The constables arrested three circus men. The show, with a big crowd in attendance, was in progress but no one was allowed in or out after the fight started.

Twenty-one other special policemen were immediately sworn in as things looked bad for a time, but there were no more clashes. Mayor Hamilton, Clerk Hartley and Chief Kelly called upon the show at 7 o'clock and told management to hand over Allan, the man who assaulted Johnston, and the evening performance could go on.

The reply was that they would not or could not hand over Allan and that the show would leave for Fredericton at 10.30. The gates of the park where the tents were pitched were then closed by the authorities and there was no performance.

MAYOR ASKS FOR MILITIA.

Mayor Good telephoned to the D.O.C. asking permission to call out the militia, but could get no reply. The militia authorities had a meeting and decided that the militia could be called out if the riot act were read. At 8.30 the militia were gathered in the armory intending to march to the trotting park. Half an hour later Mayor Hamilton called on Lieut. Col. Dibble, in command of the militia, with a requisition signed by the police magistrate and two justices of the peace, asking that a state of riot was practically existing and asking that the militia be called out.

Col. Dibble, however, decided against the request, saying that if a riot had existed all was then peaceful. Meantime the circus management had engaged Hon. W. F. Jones to look after their interests.

While all this was going on, however, a number of town people, perhaps they had armed themselves with rifles or revolvers and gone to the park, but on the order of the high sheriff and his notification that the trouble was over, then went away.

No sign of Allan had been secured at last reports, but the chief of police said that if the man is on the night train to arrest him. The circus was then allowed to leave town and the first train left at 9.45 for Fredericton, the others to follow later.

Great Britain Refuses to Ransom

Clarke Kennedy.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The World has the following cable from London.—Those brigands in Morocco who kidnapped an Englishman named Clarke Kennedy, expecting to exact ransom, have been informed by the British Government that not a farthing will be paid for his release and they are welcome to keep him.

Kennedy was once a wealthy Scotch landowner. He married first Alice Maude Appleton, of Boston, and after she died he wedded a widow, who died a few months ago. His son was the hero of a raging case in the Scots Guards.

THE WEIRMEN'S UNION

Thousands Sleeping in the Parks, One Man Committed Suicide; 114 Degrees at Pawtucket, R. I.

ST. GEORGE, July 7.—The executive committee of the Charlotte county Weir Owners and Weir Planners' Union met here today with all the members present. Geo. J. Clarke, M. P., a member from district No. 1, tendered his resignation, which was accepted. The greatest confidence was expressed in the ultimate success of the union and the comparison drawn between the claims of the so-called "conservative" and the "progressive" by the union, showing that after a year of persistent misrepresentation of the union position, it was decided to take the union to the union voters at union prices on or before July 13. It will be taken by the union to protect themselves. The members left for their homes confident in the justice of their cause.

No change in the stonecutters' strike is reported. The thermometer registered 92 degrees.

MONTREAL, Que., July 8.—Last night at 11 o'clock, Joseph D. Donnelly, 30 years old, an ex-member of "A" Battery, met death at Cataract Bridge, Kingston, by slipping off a boat. He jumped on to assist James Bowman to bring in an upturned row boat.

BRYAN PRACTICALLY CERTAIN; SECOND MAN STILL IN DOUBT

DENVER, July 8.—It will be difficult to say which of the four principal divisions of work before the Democratic National Convention which held its first session here yesterday, held first place in the interest of the delegates when they gathered early today for the second day's session, called to begin at noon. In the foreground, however, tangled with the other matters and in a way involving their outcome, was the work of the committee on credentials, which sat all night to hear the arguments for and against those who from various states had come to contest the validity of the certification under which they had been elected. The importance of the result of the night's work lies in the effect which the decision of the committee might have upon doubtful delegates or upon those whose action is controlled simply by specific instructions of the conventions which elected them and which might welcome a pre-text for evading those instructions.

It was on open secret last night that this morning the elements opposed to the nomination of Wm. J. Bryan for the Presidency, based practically their last hope of success upon the rather remote possibility that drastic action of the credentials committee, more especially in the Pennsylvania cases, might provide a revolt among delegates not so cordial in their acceptance of Bryan's nomination and sweep into the anti-Bryan camps sufficient to get them the one more than one-third of the convention to prevent Bryan's nomination. Failing that, it was all unanimously conceded that Bryan's nomination had become what many have never questioned, a certainty.

The committee on resolutions and later the sub-committee to which the platform was finally referred, had a protracted meeting last night. The full committee remained in session until after 1 a. m., and heard arguments in favor of many proposed planks, then it adjourned until 3 p. m. today, leaving the sub-committee to wrestle with the problem in detail.

The feature of the sub-committee meeting was the reading by Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma chairman of the full committee, for more than an hour of suggestions received from Mr. Bryan as to planks on various subjects which he desired the committee to embody in the platform or at least to consider.

Final adjournment of the convention Thursday, of which there had been a faint prospect, has been rendered unlikely by the postponement of the report of the platform committee, to say nothing of the probability of extended discussion on the convention floor tomorrow, the report of the credentials committee. There is no telling what the day will bring forth.

While it is the general belief that Mr. Bryan will win the ticket and that only an extraordinary and sensational change of sentiment in the convention, can prevent his nomination on the first ballot, all predictions on the subject of the vice presidency must be more conjecture. There is a large number of candidates in sight, Gray of Delaware, Mitchell of Illinois, Kern of Indiana, Towne and Harrison of New York, Howell of Georgia, and a host of others.

NEW ENGLANDERS WANT A SHARE OF THE BUSINESS

British Khaki, Made up by Chinese, is Used for the Army in the Philippines.

WASHINGTON, July 8.—Secretary of War Wright has received from certain New England manufacturers of khaki cloth a protest against the use of British khaki for the uniforms of the soldiers and constabulary in the Philippines. The protest recited that the uniforms were not only of British material, but were made up in Manila by Chinese labor. These excluding not only American manufacturers of khaki, but American labor in the production of the uniforms. The protest was made through President Roosevelt, who forwarded it to Secretary Wright, with a request that he inquire into the subject with a view of giving all possible work of that kind to American manufacturers and artisans. Inquiry by Secretary Wright developed the fact that the army quartermaster at Manila had let some contracts recently for khaki of British manufacture, which was to be made into uniforms for the Philippine constabulary and the soldiers stationed in the islands. The contracts were made in the usual way by the office of the quartermaster general on the recommendation of a board of officers appointed for the purpose. Such contracts had been let could not be interrupted until the Secretary had become what many have never questioned, a certainty. The committee on resolutions and later the sub-committee to which the platform was finally referred, had a protracted meeting last night. The full committee remained in session until after 1 a. m., and heard arguments in favor of many proposed planks, then it adjourned until 3 p. m. today, leaving the sub-committee to wrestle with the problem in detail.
