

Late Gossip Of The Sporting World At Home And Abroad

BASEBALL IN THE BIG LEAGUES

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York 10, Chicago 9
New York, June 11.—New York overcame a seven run lead today, and defeated Chicago, after Manager Rowland started to put in his reserves. The feature of the game was Caldwell's home run, driving in two men ahead of him and tying the score in the sixth inning. It was the second time in two days that Caldwell had driven a home run into the right field stand when used as a pinch hitter. The score:
Chicago..... 430100100—9 12 2
New York..... 10005010—10 10 5
Batteries—Parker, Coote, Russell and Schalk; Daly, Keating, Pich, Warlop and Sweeney.

Cleveland 3, Philadelphia 0
Philadelphia, June 11.—Morton had the home team at his mercy today and Cleveland won, 3 to 0. He held Philadelphia down to two hits and was given brilliant support. Morton's two-bagger sent in Cleveland's two runs in the second inning. The score:
Cleveland..... 01000000—3 0 3
Philadelphia..... 00000000—0 2 3
Batteries—James, Coote, Russell and Schalk; Daly, Keating, Pich, Warlop and Sweeney.

St. Louis 5, Washington 1
Washington, June 11.—St. Louis hit Galia hard in three innings today and broke Washington's winning streak by taking the last game of the series, 5 to 1. The score:
St. Louis..... 01000022—5 10 2
Washington..... 00000000—1 0 0
Batteries—James and Severoid; Galia and Henry.

Boston 4, Detroit 3
Boston, June 11.—Detroit sent Daulton to pitch against Boston today for the third time in the series, but the Red Sox won again, 4 to 3. Triples by Daulton and Hendrickson figured in the three runs scored by Boston in the seventh. The score:
Detroit..... 00100100—3 5 1
Boston..... 00100000—4 6 4
Batteries—Daulton and McKee; Foster and Thomas.

American League Standing.
Won Lost P.C.
Chicago..... 31 18 .633
Detroit..... 29 20 .592
Boston..... 21 21 .500
New York..... 21 23 .479
Cleveland..... 20 25 .444
St. Louis..... 19 28 .404
Philadelphia..... 17 30 .362

National League
New York 3, St. Louis 2
St. Louis, June 11.—New York took today's game from St. Louis by the score of 3 to 2, putting two runs over in the third, when Mathewson and Snodgrass scored. The score:
New York..... 00200000—3 7 0
St. Louis..... 00000000—2 7 1
Batteries—Mathewson and Smith; Griner and Snyder.

Cincinnati 1, Brooklyn 0
Cincinnati, June 11.—Appleton and Benton pitched almost record innings without a run crossing the plate. The former weakened slightly in the nineteenth, however, and Cincinnati was returned a winner, 1 to 0. The score:
Brooklyn..... 00000000—0 1 0
Cincinnati..... 00000000—1 9 1
Batteries—Appleton and McCarty; Benton and Clarke.

Postponed
Boston-Pittsburg postponed, wet grounds.
Chicago 2, Philadelphia 0
Chicago, June 11.—Chicago deposited Philadelphia from first place today when they shut out the visitors 2 to 0. The game was a pitchers' battle with S. Humphries outpitching Rixey and Denaree. The score:
Philadelphia..... 00000000—0 3 1
Chicago..... 00001000—2 7 1
Batteries—Rixey, Denaree and Burns; Kilfiter, Humphries and Archer.

National League Standing.
Won Lost P.C.
Chicago..... 25 19 .568
Philadelphia..... 25 20 .558
Brooklyn..... 22 22 .500
Boston..... 22 22 .500
Pittsburg..... 22 22 .500
St. Louis..... 24 25 .490
New York..... 18 23 .439
Cincinnati..... 18 24 .429

International League
Buffalo 12, Rochester 5
Buffalo, June 11.—Rochester started off with a four run lead today but the Buffs began to locate Erickson's offerings in the fourth inning and pounded Erickson and Huenke, who succeeded him, for a total of fourteen hits winning 12 to 5. The score:
Rochester..... 40001000—5 8 1
Buffalo..... 00025300—12 14 1
Batteries—Erickson, Huenke and Williams; Beebe and Lalonde.

Postponed Games
Providence-Jersey City, postponed, wet grounds.
Toronto-Montreal, postponed, wet grounds.

International League Standing.
Won Lost P.C.
Buffalo..... 19 13 .594
Providence..... 19 16 .543
Richmond..... 19 17 .528
Montreal..... 19 17 .528
Rochester..... 17 20 .459
Toronto..... 15 19 .441
Jersey City..... 14 22 .389

Federal League
Newark 12, Brooklyn 2
Brooklyn, June 11.—Newark bunched nine hits off Boston in the sixth

TWILIGHT LEAGUE BASEBALL

EAST END LEAGUE.

The Glenwoods had a walkover last evening when, in a five inning game, they scored eleven runs and shut out the Alerts. The winning team played fast, errorless ball and the official score and summary follows:

Alerts.
	AB	R	H	PO	A	E
Graves, 2b	3	0	0	1	2	1
Milan, lb	3	0	1	7	0	2
Stewart, 3b	3	0	2	3	1	1
Lightfoot, c	2	0	0	1	1	0
Parlee, p	2	0	0	0	4	1
Lawlor, cf	2	0	0	0	0	0
Horton, ss	1	0	0	0	2	1
Mullett, rf	0	0	0	0	1	1
Harris, lf	2	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	17	0	3	12	11	11

		Glenwoods.
		AB R H PO A
O'Regan, 3b	3	1	3	1	1	0
McNulty, 2b	2	3	1	0	0	2
Brittain, c	2	1	2	10	0	0
J. Callaghan, cf	3	1	2	0	0	0
G. Callaghan, lb	3	1	4	0	0	0
Costello, lf	2	0	0	0	0	0
Gillispie, ss	3	0	0	0	0	0
Robinson, rf	3	0	1	0	0	0
Thompson, p	3	2	2	0	1	0
Totals		22	11	10	15	3

Score by innings:
Alerts..... 00000—0
Glenwoods..... 2306X—11
Summary—Alerts..... 2306X—11
Glenwoods..... 2306X—11

(1) Sacrifice hits, Brittain, Costello, Mallet. Struck out by Thompson (9). Base on balls by Parker (3), by Thompson (4). Missed third strike, Brittain (2). Passed ball, Lightfoot (2), Brittain (2). Wild pitch, Parlee. Double play, Horton to Graves to Milan. Time of game 1 hr. 15 min. Umpire, Jas. McAllister. Scorer, H. Nixon.

and seventh innings today, scoring five runs in each and winning from Brooklyn by 12 to 2. The score:
Newark..... 1001500—12 15 1
Brooklyn..... 0200000—2 7 1
Batteries—Fallonberg and Ralston; Teater, Seaton, Finerman and Land.

Baltimore 5, Buffalo 2
Baltimore, June 11.—Baltimore came from behind in today's game and won from Buffalo, 5 to 2. Anderson pitched well up to the eighth inn. when he was relieved by Krapp. The score:
Buffalo..... 00010000—2 10 3
Baltimore..... 00000100—5 7 0
Batteries—Anderson, Krapp and Blair; Quinn and Jacklitsch.

Chicago 4, Kansas 1
Kansas City, June 11.—Chicago broke Kansas City's winning streak here today, taking the game, 4 to 1. A batting rally in the ninth with hits by Zwilling, Tinker and Wilson gave the game to the visitors. The score:
Chicago..... 00000000—4 8 1
Kansas City..... 00001000—1 9 0
Batteries—Brown, McConeil and Wilson; Johnson and Easterly.

(Only three Federal games scheduled.)
Federal League Standing.
Won Lost P.C.
Kansas City..... 29 20 .592
Pittsburg..... 25 19 .568
Newark..... 25 20 .558
Brooklyn..... 25 23 .521
Chicago..... 22 21 .512
St. Louis..... 18 29 .383
Buffalo..... 18 32 .360

White Sox
RIDICULE CHARGE

Everybody connected with the White Sox club was first amazed and then amused at the story sent out from Washington to the effect that Manager Rowland has installed a signal tipping device worked through the medium of the automatic score board. According to all connected with the White Sox the charge is perfectly ridiculous, but there is much curiosity to learn who is responsible for it. The fact that the two Washington papers printed the story simultaneously leads to strong suspicions and there may be an investigation that will bring the offender to book. President Comiskey would not dignify the charge with a denial, but Manager Rowland was willing to talk about the matter, and offered to let any one investigate the score board if they thought there was anything wrong. Rowland also fancied that the White Sox when they left home would be able to show off the ball without the aid of any signal tipping arrangement fitted up at home.

Rowland suggested that it might be possible that the White Sox caught the signals of opposing teams, but he insisted it was in a perfectly legitimate way, if done at all. He had no doubts that Eddie Collins and perhaps others on his team were able to read the signs of the ordinary catcher like an open book. If they did, no charge of unfair advantage could be made against them. Collins was credited with reading catchers' signals while with the Athletics; doubtless he still is able to read, said Rowland. The name of Manager Bill Donovan of the Yankees is brought into a matter by him being quoted in a Washington newspaper as saying that he had received a letter from a friend warning him that a scheme was being worked at the White Sox park by which each batter knew what was being pitched. Donovan may be asked to present his information to the American League authorities, so that an investigation may be made that will once and for all settle the matter. The White Sox say they not only welcome such an investigation, but may demand it.

TIGERS 3, GIANTS 2
In the Haven Avenue league game last evening the Tigers defeated the Giants by a score of 3 to 2. Priers and Cohen were the battery for the Tigers, Doherty and McAvity for the Giants.

Labor Men at City Hall
A delegation from the Trades and Labor Council waited on the city commissioners at the noon meeting yesterday and requested the commissioners to reinstate Fred Ramsey. It was pointed out that Ramsey had been given a position at the time of the street railway strike. Later he enlisted and was told that his job would be open for him when he came back from the war. He was given his release by the military authorities and then desired his position with the city. The request of the delegation was not complied with.

THE GIBBONS, DARTFIELD BOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

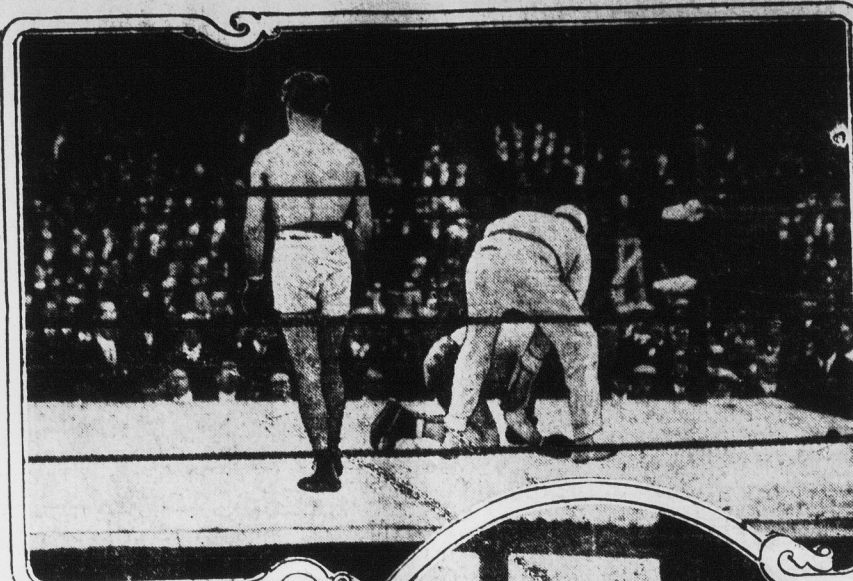

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

MEN AND WOMEN MINGLE AT OPEN AIR BOXING BOUTS

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.

DEFEREE HELPING DRUMME TO ROSE AFTER KNOCKOUT

With a series of bouts which left absolutely nothing to be desired in the way of hitting, clinching, dodging, wriggling, shuffling and grunting, the first out of door boxing exhibition in New York city entered the list of summer attractions on Memorial Day at Ebbets Field, the home of the Brooklyn Baseball Club of the National League. Fully fifteen thousand persons, including some highly excited women in spring millinery and interested moods, cheered the fighters, the male portion of the audience carefully refraining from using any "unnecessary or vulgar remarks," as requested by the announcer. Of course, at certain exciting junctures, while a fighter was closing the more emotional of the "fans" begged their favorite better to kill his opponent or to tear off an arm or a leg. There were five ten round bouts. The pictures show "Young" Drumme after he was knocked out by "Johnny" Dundee, who is a contender for the lightweight title, and an exciting moment during the bout between "Mike" Gibbons and "Soldier" Bartfield, which was won by Gibbons.