

WRAPPING PAPER, TWINES, ETC. WE HAVE ON HAND: WRAPPING PAPER, all sizes, Paper Bags, All Sizes, LOWEST PRICES. EVERITT & BUTLER. WHOLESALE WAREHOUSE, 55 and 57 King street. OAK AND PITCH PINE TIMBER For Ship Building purposes, constantly on hand. Also WHITE PINE BIRCH, &c., &c. R. A. GREGORY. Office—FOOT OF HIRONOS STREET—Portland, St. John, N. B. References—GUY, STUART & CO., E. D. JEWETT & CO.

DR. J. E. GRIFFITH, Dentist. Office, corner German and Duke Streets, (OPPOSITE VICTORIA HOTEL). SAINT JOHN, N. B. 57 Teeth Extracted without pain by the use of Nitrous Oxide Laughing Gas.

MARITIME WAREHOUSING AND DOCK COMPANY! Storage in Bond or Free. Cash Advances on all descriptions of Merchandise. BANK STERLING CREDITS granted to Importers. Application to be made to T. W. LEE, Secretary. JAMES D. O'NEILL, MANUFACTURER OF OIL-TANNED LARRIGANS! Women's, Misses' and Children's BOOTS and SHOES IN SERGE, KID AND GRAIN LEATHERS. FACTORY, No. 1 NORTH WEAVER, July 12th.

MISPECK MILLS, - - - St. John, N. B. HOMESPUNS, IN GREAT VARIETY All Wool Twilled Flannels and Tweeds! ALL AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES! Also, First Class COTTON WARPS. The above named Reasonable Goods are all of SUPERIOR QUALITY, manufactured from the very best material, and warranted to give satisfaction. Orders from the Trade respectfully solicited. Red's Building, Water Street. J. L. WOODWORTH, Agent.

BUFFALO ROBES!!! The subscribers are now receiving their stock of Buffalo Robes! DIRECT FROM SASKATCHEWAN. They request Customers who were disappointed last year to place their orders at once, as the quantity being limited, the Stocks will be distributed rapidly. T. R. JONES & CO., Canterbury Street.

1874. XMAS. 1874. W. C. BLACK Will commence on MONDAY, the 14th instant, to clear out his ENTIRE STOCK of STAPLE AND FANCY DRY GOODS Grey, White and Scarlet Flannels, Grey and White Cottons, Scotch, English and Canadian Tweeds, Dress Goods, Tweeds, Black Lustres, Coburgs, Merinos, Tickings, Hollands, Prints, Clouds, Sontags, Breakfast Shawls, Mufflers, FANCY SCARFS, BERLIN WOOL GOODS, FOR CHILDREN, MUFFS AND BOAS, TIES, MITTENS, JACKETS, ETC. GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS! Silk Scarves, Ties, Suspenders, Scotch Hosiery, Underwools, White and Regatta Shirts, Wool Shirts, Tweed Shirts, Lined Kid Mittens, Lined Kid Gloves, etc. Note the address. W. C. BLACK, Brick Block, Main Street, Town of Portland.

Rice, Butter and Salt. 100 B. RICE (Arrow), 20 cases Bottled Salt, 20 cases Bottled Salt, 11 South Water. Granulated Sugar. 100 Gold Hunter from New York—10 barrels Granulated Sugar, for sale low by GEO. S. DEFOREST, 11 South Water.

The proprietor of a Boston eating saloon advertises a "sacred clam chowder every Sunday evening." At a recent sale of antiquities in Edinburgh two of the bones of Robert Bruce were sold for £5, and one of the vertebrae of William the Lion for £5 10s. Somebody advertises a preparation for keeping a lady's hands free from chaps. A report that she has no money would do the same thing. "When I put my foot down, I'll have you to understand," said Mrs. Njokor, "that there's something there." On investigation, it was found to be a No. 11 shoe. A lady went into a carpet store recently and pointing out a carpet asked the proprietor what it was. "Brussels," quoth the lady, passing her hand over it. "Seems to me the Brussels don't stick up much." Three Dartmouth students, named Colby, Brown, and Dustin, will start for Egypt this month under an engagement with the Khedive for service in the surgical corps of his army. They will remain in Cairo and be attached to the personal staff of the Khedive, who is to pay them $2,200 to $3,300 a year in gold and travelling expenses. The Whitehall Times says that as Dwyer of the Sandy Hill Hotel was standing on the railroad depot platform at Fort Edward lately, conversing with a friend, he felt something jerking at the loop of his Congress top. He turned safe, and discovered the baggage man trying to get a check strap through his collar, which he was endeavoring to fasten for the handle of a Saratoga trunk. Many years ago Isaac Spear, a Chicago Jeweller, had a dishonest clerk who invented his stealing in his job. The clerk's crime was discovered, but in the meantime he had sold to E. H. Haddock a grand upon which to build the Metropolitan Hotel. Spear sued Haddock to recover the land, and now, after a long and costly fight, the court has ruled in favor of Haddock. Haddock has been obliged to give up the property and pay $12,000 to Spear. For some unexplained purpose Mr. Judd of Springfield, Mass., has been carrying 11 his vest pocket some chlorate of potassium. Lately he was pushing his way through a crowd, and suddenly a side of his vest and coat fell out, and he was obliged to go to the expense and trouble of recapturing him. One morning recently he knocked himself at the window of his door, and he was taken in. He was cold, ragged, hungry and thirsty, and the inmates of the house of freedom had been lowered by sad experience. The Bishop of Galway, Ireland, has prohibited the Roman Catholics under his jurisdiction from selling spirituous liquors on Sunday, the penalty of disobedience being excommunication. The Bishop of Galway, Ireland, has prohibited the Roman Catholics under his jurisdiction from selling spirituous liquors on Sunday, the penalty of disobedience being excommunication. The Bishop of Galway, Ireland, has prohibited the Roman Catholics under his jurisdiction from selling spirituous liquors on Sunday, the penalty of disobedience being excommunication.

Blackrock for December has been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. of New York. The Abode of Snow is very interesting, and gives a lively description of the way in which the dress of the travellers was barred by determined Amazons. Glory is the theme of the poem, and the political position of France is elucidated in "The French Chamber of Deputies." A dressmaker has been summoned before the Sheffield, England, magistrates for spreading libels. An outbreak of sectarianism in the Worley Union caused the authorities to make inquiries, and the result was a fine of £100. The Eastern and Boston and Lowell Railroad Companies recently discovered that tickets were being stolen in large quantities, and an investigation has shown that several conductors were the thieves. They would put aside unpunished some of the tickets collected on each trip, and sell them to a jeweler on Tremont street, from whom they were bought in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. In the same number of his paper the editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. An Iowa newspaper tells a story of a man in the town where it is published who stood upon the cover of a cistern to peep through a window where suspected some counting was going on, and who got a ducking by the cover of the cistern giving way, which resulted in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. The editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. The Bishop of Lincoln has addressed a letter to his archdeacons and the heads of those colleges of which he is visitor, in which, after referring to forty-two bishops in 1863 having asked Dr. Cole to retire, and Convocation having condemned his writings in the same year as erroneous and pernicious, and to proceedings at Cape Town he says: "I am the more, therefore, of the Great Head of the Church, and for the sake of the souls of the members of the same, I earnestly exhort and entreat you to assist me in guiding the congregations of all churches and chapels under my episcopal care against the erroneous teaching of the said Dr. Cole, who must not be permitted to preach in any of the churches or chapels until he repents of his errors and publicly renounces the same, which may God in his mercy grant through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Blackrock for December has been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. of New York. The Abode of Snow is very interesting, and gives a lively description of the way in which the dress of the travellers was barred by determined Amazons. Glory is the theme of the poem, and the political position of France is elucidated in "The French Chamber of Deputies." A dressmaker has been summoned before the Sheffield, England, magistrates for spreading libels. An outbreak of sectarianism in the Worley Union caused the authorities to make inquiries, and the result was a fine of £100. The Eastern and Boston and Lowell Railroad Companies recently discovered that tickets were being stolen in large quantities, and an investigation has shown that several conductors were the thieves. They would put aside unpunished some of the tickets collected on each trip, and sell them to a jeweler on Tremont street, from whom they were bought in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. In the same number of his paper the editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. An Iowa newspaper tells a story of a man in the town where it is published who stood upon the cover of a cistern to peep through a window where suspected some counting was going on, and who got a ducking by the cover of the cistern giving way, which resulted in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. The editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. The Bishop of Lincoln has addressed a letter to his archdeacons and the heads of those colleges of which he is visitor, in which, after referring to forty-two bishops in 1863 having asked Dr. Cole to retire, and Convocation having condemned his writings in the same year as erroneous and pernicious, and to proceedings at Cape Town he says: "I am the more, therefore, of the Great Head of the Church, and for the sake of the souls of the members of the same, I earnestly exhort and entreat you to assist me in guiding the congregations of all churches and chapels under my episcopal care against the erroneous teaching of the said Dr. Cole, who must not be permitted to preach in any of the churches or chapels until he repents of his errors and publicly renounces the same, which may God in his mercy grant through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Blackrock for December has been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. of New York. The Abode of Snow is very interesting, and gives a lively description of the way in which the dress of the travellers was barred by determined Amazons. Glory is the theme of the poem, and the political position of France is elucidated in "The French Chamber of Deputies." A dressmaker has been summoned before the Sheffield, England, magistrates for spreading libels. An outbreak of sectarianism in the Worley Union caused the authorities to make inquiries, and the result was a fine of £100. The Eastern and Boston and Lowell Railroad Companies recently discovered that tickets were being stolen in large quantities, and an investigation has shown that several conductors were the thieves. They would put aside unpunished some of the tickets collected on each trip, and sell them to a jeweler on Tremont street, from whom they were bought in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. In the same number of his paper the editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. An Iowa newspaper tells a story of a man in the town where it is published who stood upon the cover of a cistern to peep through a window where suspected some counting was going on, and who got a ducking by the cover of the cistern giving way, which resulted in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. The editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. The Bishop of Lincoln has addressed a letter to his archdeacons and the heads of those colleges of which he is visitor, in which, after referring to forty-two bishops in 1863 having asked Dr. Cole to retire, and Convocation having condemned his writings in the same year as erroneous and pernicious, and to proceedings at Cape Town he says: "I am the more, therefore, of the Great Head of the Church, and for the sake of the souls of the members of the same, I earnestly exhort and entreat you to assist me in guiding the congregations of all churches and chapels under my episcopal care against the erroneous teaching of the said Dr. Cole, who must not be permitted to preach in any of the churches or chapels until he repents of his errors and publicly renounces the same, which may God in his mercy grant through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Blackrock for December has been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. of New York. The Abode of Snow is very interesting, and gives a lively description of the way in which the dress of the travellers was barred by determined Amazons. Glory is the theme of the poem, and the political position of France is elucidated in "The French Chamber of Deputies." A dressmaker has been summoned before the Sheffield, England, magistrates for spreading libels. An outbreak of sectarianism in the Worley Union caused the authorities to make inquiries, and the result was a fine of £100. The Eastern and Boston and Lowell Railroad Companies recently discovered that tickets were being stolen in large quantities, and an investigation has shown that several conductors were the thieves. They would put aside unpunished some of the tickets collected on each trip, and sell them to a jeweler on Tremont street, from whom they were bought in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. In the same number of his paper the editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. An Iowa newspaper tells a story of a man in the town where it is published who stood upon the cover of a cistern to peep through a window where suspected some counting was going on, and who got a ducking by the cover of the cistern giving way, which resulted in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. The editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. The Bishop of Lincoln has addressed a letter to his archdeacons and the heads of those colleges of which he is visitor, in which, after referring to forty-two bishops in 1863 having asked Dr. Cole to retire, and Convocation having condemned his writings in the same year as erroneous and pernicious, and to proceedings at Cape Town he says: "I am the more, therefore, of the Great Head of the Church, and for the sake of the souls of the members of the same, I earnestly exhort and entreat you to assist me in guiding the congregations of all churches and chapels under my episcopal care against the erroneous teaching of the said Dr. Cole, who must not be permitted to preach in any of the churches or chapels until he repents of his errors and publicly renounces the same, which may God in his mercy grant through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Blackrock for December has been issued by the Leonard Scott Publishing Co. of New York. The Abode of Snow is very interesting, and gives a lively description of the way in which the dress of the travellers was barred by determined Amazons. Glory is the theme of the poem, and the political position of France is elucidated in "The French Chamber of Deputies." A dressmaker has been summoned before the Sheffield, England, magistrates for spreading libels. An outbreak of sectarianism in the Worley Union caused the authorities to make inquiries, and the result was a fine of £100. The Eastern and Boston and Lowell Railroad Companies recently discovered that tickets were being stolen in large quantities, and an investigation has shown that several conductors were the thieves. They would put aside unpunished some of the tickets collected on each trip, and sell them to a jeweler on Tremont street, from whom they were bought in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. In the same number of his paper the editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. An Iowa newspaper tells a story of a man in the town where it is published who stood upon the cover of a cistern to peep through a window where suspected some counting was going on, and who got a ducking by the cover of the cistern giving way, which resulted in a slight attack of the typhoid fever. The editor says: "We had quite severe symptoms of typhoid fever last week, but we worried ourselves out all right, though we frequently felt like throwing up the sponge," and a rival newspaper had the means to print both paragraphs in such close proximity as to suggest most unpleasant suspicions. The Bishop of Lincoln has addressed a letter to his archdeacons and the heads of those colleges of which he is visitor, in which, after referring to forty-two bishops in 1863 having asked Dr. Cole to retire, and Convocation having condemned his writings in the same year as erroneous and pernicious, and to proceedings at Cape Town he says: "I am the more, therefore, of the Great Head of the Church, and for the sake of the souls of the members of the same, I earnestly exhort and entreat you to assist me in guiding the congregations of all churches and chapels under my episcopal care against the erroneous teaching of the said Dr. Cole, who must not be permitted to preach in any of the churches or chapels until he repents of his errors and publicly renounces the same, which may God in his mercy grant through Jesus Christ our Lord."

LOCALS. For advertisements of WANTED, LOST, FOUND, FOR SALE, REMOVED, or TO LET, see Auction column. New Advertisements. Advertisers must send in their favors before 12 o'clock, noon, in order to insure their appearance in this list. Amusements. Van Nannary Dan Duette. Academy of Music—Wm. Van Nannary. Zoological Exhibition—Calvin Church Sociable. Special Notice—Wm. Van Nannary. Asshian Hair Renewer—Huntington Bros. Great Sale of Silks—Likely, Cameron & Golding. Flasks and Corks—J. J. Armstrong. Auctions. Geo. E. Snider. Public Notice—James R. Robinson. Bankrupt Block—E. H. Lester. Enamelled Ornolu Frames at Notman's. Sunday Services. Preaching in Duke Street Chapel by Elder Garraty at 11 a. m. theme: The necessity of Jesus tasting death for every man. Evening (by request): The potter's power over the clay. Seats all free. Rev. W. P. Everett will preach in the Union Street Congregational Church at 11 a. m., and Rev. S. G. Dodd will lecture at 8 p. m. on "The Humanity of Christ." Elder Hiram Wallace will preach in Horton's Building, Charlotte street, at 11 a. m. and 6 p. m. Rev. C. W. Emerson, of Fitchburg, Mass., a prominent Unitarian minister, will preach in the Dramatic Lyceum at 2:30 and 8 p. m. "I am dying with the Catarah." Well, a box of Reeder's German Catarah Snuff which you purchased at my Drug Store for 25 cents, will cure you.

Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

A Determined Youth. Yesterday afternoon a young man mounted on a white horse, except quite an excitement in Prince William street. He was mounted bareback on the horse and rode at a flying gallop through the street. When opposite Barnes' Hotel the horse threw his reckless driver, who fell under the horse's heels, and was tramped on. A number rushed forward to help him, but he rolled out and staggered to his feet. With assistance he again mounted, again to be thrown off. After about a dozen attempts, at each of which he was thrown on the hand ground, he had the horse led into an alley where it had not room to kick. He was again thrown off, and started for his home in Portland. The affair caused a large crowd to collect, who expected every minute to see the man killed. He could not be dismounted from his attempts, as he had too much run on board to listen to any one. The only injury he seemed to receive was in having his clothes torn. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Christmas Day. The day was fine, and was spent as most Christmas days are. There was service in a number of churches, and large congregations attended. There were the usual number of dinner parties and social gatherings. The streets presented a lively appearance, and but little drunkenness was seen. Men were driven through the city on sleds, slugging and shouting at the top of their voices. Very early in the evening, however, the streets were deserted. Costing was a favorite amusement, the hills being in capital condition. The Marsh Road presented a lively scene in the afternoon. Hundreds of teams were passing backward and forward, and there were many races and not a few half-breed escapes from upsetting. Taking it as a whole it was a very quiet holiday. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

A Determined Youth. Yesterday afternoon a young man mounted on a white horse, except quite an excitement in Prince William street. He was mounted bareback on the horse and rode at a flying gallop through the street. When opposite Barnes' Hotel the horse threw his reckless driver, who fell under the horse's heels, and was tramped on. A number rushed forward to help him, but he rolled out and staggered to his feet. With assistance he again mounted, again to be thrown off. After about a dozen attempts, at each of which he was thrown on the hand ground, he had the horse led into an alley where it had not room to kick. He was again thrown off, and started for his home in Portland. The affair caused a large crowd to collect, who expected every minute to see the man killed. He could not be dismounted from his attempts, as he had too much run on board to listen to any one. The only injury he seemed to receive was in having his clothes torn. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Christmas Day. The day was fine, and was spent as most Christmas days are. There was service in a number of churches, and large congregations attended. There were the usual number of dinner parties and social gatherings. The streets presented a lively appearance, and but little drunkenness was seen. Men were driven through the city on sleds, slugging and shouting at the top of their voices. Very early in the evening, however, the streets were deserted. Costing was a favorite amusement, the hills being in capital condition. The Marsh Road presented a lively scene in the afternoon. Hundreds of teams were passing backward and forward, and there were many races and not a few half-breed escapes from upsetting. Taking it as a whole it was a very quiet holiday. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

A Determined Youth. Yesterday afternoon a young man mounted on a white horse, except quite an excitement in Prince William street. He was mounted bareback on the horse and rode at a flying gallop through the street. When opposite Barnes' Hotel the horse threw his reckless driver, who fell under the horse's heels, and was tramped on. A number rushed forward to help him, but he rolled out and staggered to his feet. With assistance he again mounted, again to be thrown off. After about a dozen attempts, at each of which he was thrown on the hand ground, he had the horse led into an alley where it had not room to kick. He was again thrown off, and started for his home in Portland. The affair caused a large crowd to collect, who expected every minute to see the man killed. He could not be dismounted from his attempts, as he had too much run on board to listen to any one. The only injury he seemed to receive was in having his clothes torn. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Christmas Day. The day was fine, and was spent as most Christmas days are. There was service in a number of churches, and large congregations attended. There were the usual number of dinner parties and social gatherings. The streets presented a lively appearance, and but little drunkenness was seen. Men were driven through the city on sleds, slugging and shouting at the top of their voices. Very early in the evening, however, the streets were deserted. Costing was a favorite amusement, the hills being in capital condition. The Marsh Road presented a lively scene in the afternoon. Hundreds of teams were passing backward and forward, and there were many races and not a few half-breed escapes from upsetting. Taking it as a whole it was a very quiet holiday. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

A Determined Youth. Yesterday afternoon a young man mounted on a white horse, except quite an excitement in Prince William street. He was mounted bareback on the horse and rode at a flying gallop through the street. When opposite Barnes' Hotel the horse threw his reckless driver, who fell under the horse's heels, and was tramped on. A number rushed forward to help him, but he rolled out and staggered to his feet. With assistance he again mounted, again to be thrown off. After about a dozen attempts, at each of which he was thrown on the hand ground, he had the horse led into an alley where it had not room to kick. He was again thrown off, and started for his home in Portland. The affair caused a large crowd to collect, who expected every minute to see the man killed. He could not be dismounted from his attempts, as he had too much run on board to listen to any one. The only injury he seemed to receive was in having his clothes torn. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Christmas Day. The day was fine, and was spent as most Christmas days are. There was service in a number of churches, and large congregations attended. There were the usual number of dinner parties and social gatherings. The streets presented a lively appearance, and but little drunkenness was seen. Men were driven through the city on sleds, slugging and shouting at the top of their voices. Very early in the evening, however, the streets were deserted. Costing was a favorite amusement, the hills being in capital condition. The Marsh Road presented a lively scene in the afternoon. Hundreds of teams were passing backward and forward, and there were many races and not a few half-breed escapes from upsetting. Taking it as a whole it was a very quiet holiday. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Shipping Rates. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Brig, Dowda, recently built at Hope well in Mr. Calhoun's shipyard, for Mr. Geo. F. Smith of this city, came into port on Thursday last. She is a fine vessel as any of the many others that have been launched from the same yard. She is 330 tons register; 110 ft. 5 in. in length; 12 feet depth hold, and 23 feet breadth beam. She is commanded by Captain Hiram Edger. Deckload Lost—Brig Alice Woods, hence via Queenstown for Wexford, put into Waterford the 11th inst., with a loss of deckload. Freight.—A telegram from New Orleans to the News Room reports freights there being firm. Fifteen shillings to half penny, and tending higher. Post Express, Dec. 29, 9 a. m.—Wind N. W., moderate, clear. One loaded schooner inward, one brig, and two schooners outward. City Police Court. From Thursday morning until Saturday the police arrested only five persons for drunkenness. Through more latitude is allowed on holidays and festive occasions still this proves that there is very little drunkenness. In fact liquor sellers report business. John Sullivan and Dennis Harkin were arrested drunk Thursday night in Sheffield street. They were locked up and enjoyed their Christmas dinner in jail, but complain that no grog was allowed. This kept them sober for some hours, and when they came into dock this morning Dennis said: "This is good for two months anyway, John." "Yes," answered John, "but I'm not sober yet." The Abbe de Monveval of the parish of Saint Philip du Roule, in Paris, was, before taking orders, attached to the French legation in Vienna. While looking in a shop window one day in the Austrian capital he noticed a miniature of a very pretty woman, which he bought for five francs. This was years ago, but when recently examining the picture which had fallen from its frame, he found on the back the inscription, "Portrait of Madame de Pampalou, given to M. de Kaulitz. The Abbe spoke of his interesting discovery, and when Madame Rothschild heard of it she offered him a thousand francs for the miniature. The Abbe accepted the offer and the money is to be given to the Archbishop of Paris, and is to be used toward building the Church of the Sacred Heart at Montmartre. This has the misfortune of having contributed toward building a church 10 years after her death.

A Determined Youth. Yesterday afternoon a young man mounted on a white horse, except quite an excitement in Prince William street. He was mounted bareback on the horse and rode at a flying gallop through the street. When opposite Barnes' Hotel the horse threw his reckless driver, who fell under the horse's heels, and was tramped on. A number rushed forward to help him, but he rolled out and staggered to his feet. With assistance he again mounted, again to be thrown off. After about a dozen attempts, at each of which he was thrown on the hand ground, he had the horse led into an alley where it had not room to kick. He was again thrown off, and started for his home in Portland. The affair caused a large crowd to collect, who expected every minute to see the man killed. He could not be dismounted from his attempts, as he had too much run on board to listen to any one. The only injury he seemed to receive was in having his clothes torn. Reeder's German Catarah Snuff. Christmas Day. The day was fine, and was spent as most Christmas days are. There was service in a number of churches, and large congregations attended. There were the usual number of dinner parties and social gatherings. The streets presented a lively appearance, and but little drunkenness was seen. Men were driven through the city on sleds, slugging and shouting at the top of their voices. Very early in the evening, however, the streets were deserted. Costing was a favorite amusement, the hills being in capital condition. The Marsh Road presented a lively scene in the afternoon. Hundreds of teams were passing backward and forward, and there were many races and not a few half-breed escapes from upsetting. Taking it as a whole it was a very quiet holiday. Reeder's German Catarah