A fair band numbering 16 musicians.	None.	Kingston drill shed.	Clothing fair; some new articles required. Arms, except 3 rifles, in good condition. Accoutrements clean and in good order.	Ordinary company and battalion drill, with camp duties. Movements well and steadily performed; the manual and platoon exercise was very creditable.	Yes.	Yes.	No men reported under this head.	None.	The men are of a good class, and appeared clean and soldier-like on parade. This battalion was brigaded with squadron of cavalry, field battery of artillery, and 48th Battalion, on two occasions while in camp. Lieut.-Colonel Hamilton has shown much interest and zeal, and is ably supported by his staff. Date of inspection, 17th September, 1869.
A fine band, numbering 15 musicians.	Yes.	5 drill sheds available for company drill at respective head quarters.	Clothing fair, great-coats of one company much worn, arms and accoutrements well kept.	Ordinary company and battalion drill, with camp duties.	Yes.	Yes.	No men reported under this head.	None.	Situation of camp good—the health of the men good; notwithstanding heavy rain of 24 hours, only a few cases of sickness. The battalion was inspected by the Adjutant-General on 25th September, and took part in field day with 40th Battalion and cavalry, on 28th September. Lt.-Col. Williams and staff deserve high praise. Date of inspection, 25th September, 1869.
One of the best bands in the district, 21 performers.
