wife, they will know how to appreciate her. So cheer up, "Old Black Joe." I am like "Curiosity," I don't know how anyone can drink rags. They might chew or eat them, but when it comes to drinking them that is too much for me, unless they boil them and drink the broth. But we have something far more wholesome than that to drink down here. Hoping to see this letter in print, I will stop scribbling. I will sign myself

Countryfied is Lonely.

Dear Sir,—As I have been an interested reader of the W.H.M. for some time, and have got especially interested in the correspondence columns, I thought I would write a letter, hoping it would appear on that page. To begin with, I live in a very quiet village, and have been working for seven years on my late father's farm, and have had very few friends except some near home. Therefore, I write this letter, hoping someone will kindly write to me. I will be pleased to answer. I suppose the fairer sex would like to know what kind of clodhopper they are writing to, and so I will tell them. I am 25 years of age, 5 ft. 10 in. high, and weigh 170 lbs., have black hair, dark eyes, and as for looks, I would rather not tell the public; but if anyone desires to know I will gladly send photo. Wishing the W.H.M. every success, I will sign myself
"Countryfied."

An English Reader.

London, England.
Sir,—Although not a subscriber, I receive a copy of your paper every month, and should like to join your Western circle. I thought I would like to write a letter to your correspondence column, which I hope to see in print. I am a London girl, in business, age 21 years, tall and fair. I should like to hear from a few nice boys in Western Canada about same age, who care to write, and will answer all letters received. As this is my first letter, I think I will close. Wishing your paper every success
"An English Maiden."

Blue Eyes Likes Farm Life.

Sir,—As my brother is a subscriber to your splendid paper I thought I would write a few lines. I am a P. E. Islander, and came out West two years ago. I am an interested reader of your paper. I think the correspondence page is very interesting and would like to join your happy circle. I live on a farm with my parents, and think it is fine and far healthier than living in a city. I love farm life, and can do almost all kinds of housework. I also can milk and do other little things outside, such as tend the chickens, pigs and so forth. I think, like "Red Wing," that a woman should not be a drudge, but should help her husband whenever possible. I am 29 years of age, height 5 ft. 8 in., weight 138 lbs., black hair and blue eyes. I am very fond of reading and flowers, also music. If anyone would like to write or exchange postcards I will be pleased to do so. I will close, wishing the W.H.M. success.
"Blue Eyes."

What Girl Will Take Pity.

Sir,—I have been an interested reader of the Western Home Monthly for over two years, and I think it is a splendid magazine for everybody. I find it very amusing to read the letters in the correspondence column. I am a bachelor and a farmer, and feel rather lonely at times, especially when there isn't a girl about. I am also a steam engineer, and I take a turn on the traction engine every fall, but that does not last long, and I come back to the lonely old farm again. As to women's rights, I am not in favor of a woman trudging around the barn all the time, for I think she is quite out of place and should be in the house looking after things there. However, if the husband is away, and no men around, I think a woman should stand to throw the animals a little feed and milk the cows, and look after things in general, but everything should be left in good shape.

I am 22 years old, 5 ft. 10 in. tall, and weigh 160 lbs.; have light brown hair, brown eyes, and am of a fair complexion

I will answer any letters that may be written to me. Hoping to hear from some nice young girls and wishing the W.H.M. a prosperous future, I will sign myself as
"The Ideal Boy."

A Sympathizer from the East.

Old Ontario.
Sir,—We have been taking the W.H.M. for many moons, and each member of the family is always asking of some of the rest, "Where's that last Winnipeg paper?" I particularly like the correspondence columns. I should like to exchange letters with some of those lonely bachelors in the West, and by so doing cheer their winter evenings and incidentally gain some information and amusement for myself. I will not give a description of myself, but never mind, boys, you may never see me, and my looks will not affect my letters. I would like to hear from "Ole Black Joe." I will sign myself
"Dinah."

Viola has Decided Tastes.

Ontario.
Sir,—I have been an interested reader of your paper for some time, and think it very helpful. I like to read the correspondence column, very much. Some of the letters are very interesting and sensible, while others are silly. I am a Canadian, and was raised on a farm, but I prefer the city as the country is very dull at some seasons. I am 17, and weigh 128 lbs.; I have brown eyes and dark brown hair; I am a lover of music and can play the organ or piano. I also like sports, such as dancing, skating, and enjoy watching a game of baseball. I am not on the matrimonial list, but would like to correspond with some of the nice jolly bachelors, who seem so lonesome. When I marry, I don't want someone I have never seen or a man who is stingy, and would never mind a man smoking a pipe; some girls chew gum, which is worse. I would like to hear from "Minnesota Boy." I am a brunette so don't be afraid to write. This is not Leap year, so the boys must write first. My letter is longer than I intended so I will now close, wishing the W.H.M. success. I will sign myself
"Viola."

Kiddie's Second Letter.

Ogilvie, Man.
Sir,—This is my second attempt. The last time I wrote I guess the basket was hungry. The rule seems that you must describe yourself. I am 5 ft. 6 in. tall, weight 130 lbs., have grey eyes and fair hair. Do not chew, smoke, or drink. I intend to get a homestead next year. I would like either sex to write me and I will answer all letters promptly. I will stop now, wishing the W.H.M. every success. Hoping I have not intruded too much on your valuable time, I sign myself
"Kiddie."

Look Sharp, Girls.

Curnduff, Sask.
Dear Editor,—I have been an interested reader of your paper for some time, and think the correspondence column the "best ever." I am a native of the United States, Scotch-Irish descent, have brown eyes and hair, height 5 ft. 5 in., 26 years old, and weigh 138 lbs. Am owner of 320 acres of fine land in the States, and free from debt. Am very fond of music, dancing, and all athletic sports, and am considered a good violinist. Would like to correspond with any lady under 25 years for pastime and results. Will exchange post cards with anyone.
"Shorty Mac."

A Musical Reader.

Alta.
Respected Sir,—I am just through reading the W.H.M. and I think it is fine. I am certainly going to be a subscriber to this paper if there is any chance. Now, about smoking. I hope the girl whoever I am lucky enough to call wife will allow me that one habit. Well, dear girls, my height is 5 ft. 8 in., my weight 140 lbs. I have very, very blue eyes, and very light hair indeed. My age is 27, take No. 5 in shoes. I am a first tenor singer, in fact, I can sing in four different voices. I can imitate violin, bagpipes, mandoline, cornet. I have won 24 prizes with singing in competitions, is

When the Stomach Stops

Working Properly, Because There is
Wind In It, Use Stuart's Dyspepsia
Tablets To Set It Going Again.

A Trial Package Free

The doctors call it flatulency, but unprofessional folks know it as "wind on the stomach," and a most distressing state of things it is. It is a serious condition of this great motor organ. Always annoying and painful in the extreme, at times often leading to bad and fatal results. The stomach embarrassed and hampered with wind, cannot take care of its food properly and indigestion follows, and this has a train too appalling to enumerate. The entire system is implicated—made an active or passive factor in this trouble and life soon becomes a questionable boon.

All this is explained in doctor books; how undigested food causes gases by fermentation and fomentation in which process some essential fluids are destroyed—burnt up—wasted by chemical action, followed by defective nutrition and the distribution through the alimentary tract of chemically wrong elements, and as a consequence the stomach and entire system is starved. Plenty of food, you see, but spoilt in preparation and worse than worthless.

A deranged stomach is the epitome of evil; nothing too bad to emanate from it, but the gas it generates is probably its worst primary effect and the only way to do away with this is to remove the cause. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets go to the root of this trouble. They attack the gas-making foods and render them harmless. Flatulency or wind on the stomach simply cannot exist where these powerful and wonder working little tablets are in evidence.

They were made for this very purpose to attack the gas making foods and convert them into proper nutriment. This is their province and office. A whole book could be written about them and then not all told that might be told with profit to sufferers from this painful disease, dyspepsia. It would mention the years of patient and expensive experiment in effort to arrive at this result—of failures innumerable and at last success. It would make mention of the different stomach correctives that enter into this tablet and make it faithfully represent all.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not alone intended for the sick, but well folks as well; for the person who craves hearty foods and wants to eat heartily and run no risk of bad effects, they act like a charm and make eating and digestion a delight and pleasure. They keep the stomach active and energetic and able and willing to do extra work without special labor or effort. Don't forget this. Well people are often neglected, but the Stuart Dyspepsia Tablets have them in mind.

A free trial package will be sent any one who wants to know just what they are, how they look and taste, before beginning treatment with them. After this go to the drug store for them; everywhere, here or at home, they are 50 cents a box and by getting them at home you will save time and postage. Your doctor will prescribe them; they say there are 40,000 doctors using them, but when you know what is the matter with yourself, why go to the expense of a prescription?
