Dear Mr. Meighan

I found in my brief bag a copy of your tribute to Shakespeare which I read with enjoyment.

It occurred to me that you should not again jeopardize your good pet by taking its volumes as your travelling companions, hence when at Scrubners (N.Y.) I got a convenient copy, economical of space which I enclose herewith with affectionate greetings to my friend - I hope if and when leadership is offered you, as some people predict, you will give the horse the gift of a careful scrutiny.

Yours

J. N. Adams
