THAT LESSON CARTOON

has set a whole continent of Sunday-School people to talking about it and watching for it every week. A brilliant Chicago newspaper cartoonist, E. J. Pace, was "captured" by Christ, has served in the mission field, and now is yielding his life and pen utterly to The Lord in the most remarkable cartoons ever published in the

IMPROVED UNIFORM LESSONS

of the international series, which are graded for different ages while binding the school and home together in Bible Study.

And now comes also THE LITTLE JETTS

who give their fascinating picture-talk every week on the same lessons. A whole lesson can be taught from the cartoon; and the Little Jetts then add their novel touch.

These are but two of a dozen unusual lesson help features in one department of

The Sunday School Times

The best thing about this every-week interdenominational journal for adults in Bible Study and Teaching, Sunday-School management and the Christian Life and Service, is that it stands for the whole Bible as the infallible Word of God, and the shed blood of Jesus as the only way of Salvation.
