OCTOBER 22, 1908.

E MONDAY 7.95 ned IMes

time this season 50 OSTUMES at a price al ladies cannot have r good fortune to of price should avai lity silk and satin I of the finest qua herringbone serge in em at our price and ttting a $25.00 to .....$17.9

ues in serviceable tweed of n and heavy weight minned, good style ....$5.0 k Vicuna and gray 00000000000

CO.

Se, and SOc.

Fund

d's birtht a goodly ent to him en out of ur appeal y nothing However,

Vol. LVIII., No. 18

UEBEC CITY

ever, looking to the introduction at periors at their discretion, to com-mand their subordinates to commit sin, mortal or venial, as the supe-riors may please, has at last come once of the order into Cuba and Porto Rico. The enrollments in be desired. Action was taken, howto acknowledge he has all this while been propagating, or certainly enter-taining, an infamous slander against the Society. ever, looking to the introduction at once of the order into Cuba and Porto Rico. The enrollments in He now acknowledges himself to have discovered that the formula "obligare ad peccatum," or "obligathose places, however, will be for the associate class only, it is stated, and will not be insured on account of the extra hazardous risks due to climatic conditions. The King of Portugal has sent to

His Eminence, Cardinal Merry del Val, the grand cross of the Order of the Tower and Sword, which is the highest Portugueses decoration.

While emplayed in a field on his own farm, located at Ballygawley County Tyrone, the owner unearthed a slab which contained to him mysterious letters. The find has been examined by the Irish Antiquarian Society, and it is believed by that association that, the hieroglyphics were written on the slab 100 years before the birth of the Saviour.

Senora de Costa, who caused the great peace movement, the "Christ of the Andes," to be erected on the boundary between Argentina and Chili, has finally completed the organization of the Society for Universal Peace.

Rt. Rev. F. X. Prefontaine, Seattle's pioneer priest, has been invested with the rank of prothonotary apostolic by Bishop O'Dea in St. James' Cathedral, Seattle, in the clergy presence of many diocesan and a large gathering of Catholics. The venerable priest recently celebrated his seventieth birthday.

The Jesuits of St. John's College Toledo, have purchased a Presbyte rian church in Toledo, Ohio, which they are having remodelled for use as an academy.

There are one hundred and twenty thousand Catholic members in Total Abstinence Societies in America.

In London there are now about 140 Catgolic churches, not counting the convent chapels. To very many of these there are elementary schools attached, some of them ranking with the best aon-Satholic schools, both as to size and equipment. Of convents, monasteries and other religious houses the metropolis posses-ses over 170. Twenty-eight orders or congregations of men have one or more houses in London, and between

Mr. Burns, the Cattle King of Calgary, one of the most generous Catholics in Canada, has donated two gundred acres to Father La-combe, O.M.I., for his projected Home for the Poor and Destitute.

MONTREAL, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 29, 1908

Catholics and Public Offices.

Addressing a notable gathering of Catholic prelates and citizens of St. Louis in the banquet hall of Hotel Jefferson, last Sunday evening, at a banquet following the laying of the corner stone of the new Cathedral, Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, declared that the Catholics of the United States should be more largely represented in the holding of pub-

Historian.

the United States, and said that if "ever again" a political party rejecttionem ad peccatum inducere," "to bind up unto sin," has alize, in theoed a candidate for President because logical treatises and in monastic ru-les, one uniform sense, namely, to his wife was a Catholic the nominee of that party would be defeated.

bind any one to something under such a stress of obligation that neglect of the injunction reaches the point of sin, involves a man in sin, leaves of that party would be defeated. "A man who presents himself for public office should first be considered as to his fitness. I urge all Catho-lies to make yourselves fit for all the highest offices in the country, accord-ing to your number. "There are now 17,000,000 Catho-lies in this country, and they are not represented in its great offices as they should be. Go to Washington and you will find perhaps two or three Catholics in responsible posi-tions. Wherever you go you will not find Catholics well represented in public offices. What is the cause ? Timidity and a foolish fancy that the country holds them down." of sin, involves a man in sin, leaves him "obstrictus ad peccatum," "boun up urto sin." He has doubt-less also discoveed that the formula "obligare ad peccatum" has precisely the same meaning with the formula "obligare sub peccato," "to, bind to anything under pain of sin." We see this in the Jesuit Constitutions, which, speaking of the Pope's autho-rity to require a Jesuit, if a priest, to accept a Dishopric, describes him in one place as "having power to bind a brother up unto mortal sin," if he declines, and in another as "having power to bind him np to acceptance under pain of mortal sin." Suarez also, we see, speaking of the acceptance under pain of mortal sin. ' Suarez also, we see, speaking of the authority of a civil ruler, in the pub-lication of the first law, to bind peo-ple unto obedience under the highest stress of obligation, not only before man, but before God, uses interchang-bly the phrases ''obligare ad pecca-tum mortale'' and obligare sub usec

"I see then, that the wildest aber-rations of Protestantism (and some of its forms have been abominable and loathsome) have never professed commit Under the heading "The Catholic Church," the Enterprise, the organ of the colored people of Ontario, has this to say "For many years we have thought and the Negro.

erne Erne

The Church

"For many years we have thought that the negro would be wise to come more and more under the juris-diction of the Catholic Church. We have thought this because that church offers protection to the negro which he seems not to be able to get from other sources and organizations in this country.

ly represented in the holding of pub-lic offices. He ridiculed the idea, which he said some persons entertained, that no Catholic could ever be President of the United States and said that if line, the Catholic University of Am-erica stands out as a glorious excep-tion. And what is more, the follow-ers of the church are true to their own. They have made it the special mission to minister to the weak and oppressed mankind, to throw around the unfortunate the strength of their culture and experience and lift them culture and experience and lift them to planes of higher usefulness. That That to planes of higher usefulness. That church has erected hospitals and nur-series for the care and maintenance of the poor, and when other such in-stitutions have discriminated against people of color the Catholic Sisters have extended the hand of mercy. "This beneficent practice has been most helpful to the negro, because he has stood more in need of help than other races in our land.

has stood more in need of help than other races in our land. "The doors of this church are thrown wide for us today; their hos-pitals are open to us, and their schools are open to us. And while we are thinking of one way out of the wilderness of prejudice and hate, let us not forget the Catholic Church."

TOO BUSY TO BE HERETICS.

Among the reasons why there is little danger of "Modernism" among Catholics in this country, the Catho-lic Transcript notes with truth : "The Catholics of this country are exceedingly practical. They are busy about many things. They have nei-ther the time nor the inclination, nor "the mental pacellicities essential for the mental peculiarities essential for the making of successful heretics. They discover little inclination to en-fage in an industry so barren."

Reunion of Old Pupils at St. Patrick's School

On Wednesday evening at St. Patrick's Girls' School, St. Alexander Street, a very large number of former pupils gathered together to hold the first of what will become in the future regular meetings of the Alumnæ Association. The chief feature of the inaugural gathering was the recital given by the Rev. M. J. McKenna, of Springfield, Mass., and who some six years ago spent a short while at St. Patrick's. The selection the speaker choose was the Graveyard scene from "Hamlet." Quite unnecessary is it to go into any details, for Father McKenna, has been heard often at St. Patrick's, and those who were privileged to be present at Wed. nesday evening's reunion were not disappointed. After the class of '09 presented their greetings, the pastor gave a splendid address in which he eulogised the good Sisters of the Congregation de Notre Dame and the noble work they are pursuing. He brought home to the minds of of those who had the privilege of being trained by these Sisters, beauty of their sacrificial life, and he emphasized the blessedness of the influence they exerted all through the lives of those who had come under their direction. Vocal and instrumental selections made up the rest of a very entertaining programme. At the close, refreshments were served in the class rooms, which idea was commented upon most favorably by everyone, as for the time being it seemed as though the years which had intervened between the happy schooltime and then had vanished and that they were once more back within the dear old walls, where at time school tasks had seemed so irksome, and tasks so hard but in some cases new in comparison, so light.

"To be able to mind her own business and get busy," is the panacea somewhat briefly and laconically ex pressed, for the restlessness and dis quietude of American women, accord quietude of American women, accord-ing to the opinion of his excellency, Msgr. Diomede Falconio, apostolic delegate to the United States. "Do you think, your excellency was asked that the modern woman would be happier were she to become more of a factor, politically and publicly, in order that she may rear better statesmen and men of affairs ? was asked. asked.

Mgr Falconio Gives

Advice to Women.

"I think that she should attend to I think that she should attend to her husband's home and take care of her children and see that their dinner is well cooked. If she will see to her own business and be busy in her house, she will be happy."

"Isn't it true that American men do not make it interesting enough for their wives, do not take them in-to their lives sufficiently. Do they not keep them away from their pub-lic and business careers and only give them the benefit of a few min-utes' personal attention at the close utes' personal attention at the close of the day's work ?'' of the day's work ?" Rubbing his hands and laughing softly with a shrewd twinkle in his kindly, serious eyes, the papal dele-gate declared he saw no reason why the American husband should have his wife assist him in the adminis-tration of his business affairs. And, continuing, he expressed his belief in the home as a sacred and holy insti-tution, whose altars should be kept undefiled by the courts, and declared his conviction that the highest type of womanhood is the mother and the wife, not the woman of public affairs.

Saying the Rosary.

Few Catholics know how to say th

then only measure the time and the "Hail Mary's" would only occupy the lips to serve as music to the lovely thoughts within thoughts within.

Think of the mysteries ! Let mem-ory, imagination and will be absorbed in them. Then will the devotion have its perfect fruit, in loving sentiments and practical conclusions.—Catholic Columbian.

A Duke's Burial Place.

Changes.

Bethlehem Institute

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Oct. 1, 1968.-The Rev. Doctor Peter Bondolfi, who for several years has been the Papal Delegate at the Bethlehem Institute. Immensee, Switzerland, has been elected Superi-or of the said institute, in place of the Rev. P. M. Barral, who has re-tired on account of ill health.

Tred on account of ill health. Mr. Louis Renaut, who has been connected with the Institute since its infancy (1895) and who is the seller of tons of cancelled postage stamps given to help the work, has returned to Philadelphia, to tempor-arily manage the office and leave it in proper hands. His address is at the Bethelehem office, 220 So. 4th Street-the only office in the United States. States.

Cultivate a Taste.

The Catholic Fortnightly Review, has a letter from a Kentucky pastor, who writes :

"You are quite right when you say that our Catholic laity have no taste for sound Catholic reading. One of the causes of this deplorable lack of taste and interest, in my judgment, is criminal neglect on the part of those who should have recorriged and insist who should have recognized and insist ed upon the value and necessity of good reading from the beginning,-I good reading from the beginning,--I mean our bishops and priests. I have been engaged in the cure of souls for over forty years, but cannot remem-ber during all this time ever having heard any bishop addressing a congre-gation specifically on this subject. Be-yond a weak suggestion now and then in a pastoral letter, nothing has been done towards inpressing our been done towards impressing our people with the necessity of cultivat-ing the habit of reading Catholic books and periodicals."

Few Catholics know how to say the Rosary. Most of them imagine that if they pass the beads through their fingers and say the vocal prayers they have fully practiced the devotion. But the beads and the vocal prayers are the least part of it. The medita-tion on the fifteen mysteries of our redemption is the main thing. The thing should be occupied with thoughts of the worders wrough the God from the time when the Angel Gabriel saluted the Elessed Virgin as the Mother of the Messial to the hour when she was croward by her Son as Queen of Heaven. The joyful mysteries and the glori-for rumination and the remembrance of them in all their details should be accompanied with acts of Lith and love, contrition and hope, and with the renewal of good resolutions. If this were the chief concern of the ro-sarian, how those mysteries would sink into the heart and how they would burst out thenee into the nothy measure the time and the "Hail Mary's" would only occupy the at an the great things he did for us, one by one; and then we turn the page and begin again. How, tender and simple it is ! A great Mother whose girdle is of beads strung together which dangle into every Christian's hands; whose face bends down over every Christian's bed.—Robert Hugh Benson.

Don'ts For Penitent's. A Duke s Burial Place. The Duke de Doudeauville, who died recently at his Chateau in Transe was buried in the confessional abead of some one else who was wait-before you came. Don't tell any one's sins but your own.

country holds them down." omit, not if they perform. "So also when Melanchton hopes for the murder of Henry VII., it is not as a useful sin, but as an accep-table sacrifice to God. "So also when John Knox glories in the death of Rizzio and of Cardi-nal Beaton, he does not extennate them as 'just and necessary and godly deeds.' "I see then that the wildert abor tum mortale" and obligare sub pec-cato mortali." This is all very well, and shows that Figgis is willing to receive the truth, when it is clearly pointed out to him. But how sad a humiliation for him, and for Anglican scholar-ship, that he should have labored so many years under this lamentable and calumnious delusion, involving the honor of so many thousands of Christian men and priests whom former associate and present antago-nist, the Rev. George Tyrrell, de-clares to be as worthy of confidence as any. well, and show to authorize a command to comm sin. What then am I to think the central and settled authority the Catholic Church?"

so if each ars either le sum in Ve thank trust that ill send in to pay off Working as a dollar following n a printing office the chief work to I his attention was from the pen of a an, and later on h itions of the "Sum-nas.

UND.

00000000000

Three thousand volumes written by Catholic authors are made available for free circulation through the publication of the "Catholic" Finding List" (a list of books in English) by Catholic authors, in the Chicago Public Library. This list is compiled by a Committee of the Oatholic Writers' Guild. It is published by the Knights of Columbus.

Churches of Cement.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. George F. Houck officiated recently at the laying of the concerstone of a new church being erected by the Slovenian Catholies of East Euclid, Chio. A sermon in Slo-enian was preached by Rev. Nicholas Geratorie. The congregation consists of about sixty families and is under the patronage of Our Lady of Per-petual Help. Most of these own their only two years old. They form a very thrifty and promising little commun-ity.

thrifty and promising little total ity. The new church is being built of ce-ment blocks, and is the first one of its kind in that diocese. The effect is hardly distinguishable from that of cut stone, and the blocks are said to make an economical, durable and ar-tistic building material.

Christian to implie to a Constant brotherbood the inconceivable shanne-lessness of chaiming before all the world the right of commanding their members to sin, and that expressly in the name of Christ, the Fountain of Holimese, he would reflect in some such way as this "Whentever this unaccustomed for-whe mers mean (unaccustomed forchares to be as worthy of communications any. There is a not improbable mitiga-tion of Professor Figgis' offense, namely, that, although he had for seven years been laboring under this monstrous misconception of the form-monstrous misconception of the form-ula "obligare ad peccatum," he had not expressed it in his lectures, so that his colleagues had not had the opportunity to set him right. Yet when he at last published his error in a letter to the Tablet, I do not learn that, any Episcopalian sprang to correct him. It is by Catholics to correct mm. It is by Caunonics that he has finally been convinced of his odious misapprehension. What should we suppose that an ecclesisatical scholar of this gentle-man's presumable rank would do, in man's presumable rank would do, in examining the Jesuit Constitutions? He finds the superiors authorized on occasion "obligare fratres ad pec-catum." Being, we may assume, as ignorant of Catholic terminology as Protestant scholars almost invariably are, very mearly as ignorant as they would maturally at first recoil in press astronsiburent.

This is all very of Holiness, as would relate the management of Holiness, as would relate the market of the sub-"Whetever this unaccustomed for-mula may mean (unaccustomed to me but doubtless familiar to Catho-lics) it is plain that it can not be a permission to command sin, since no one who is not of a disordered mind can possibly link together the two absolutely antagonistic ideas of Christ and sin, and command as sub-ordinate in the name of God's son to do that which he himself recog-mizes that God and His Son detest. "Are there any Protestant parallels to such an interpretation? "Luther, it is true, declares that neither murder nor adultery, even though both are habitual, interferes with a man's jusification, provided it does not overset his confidence. Yet Luther does not represent mur-der and adultery as pleasing to God, or as some thing to be commanded. On the contrary he exhorts his fol-lowers to lead a blameless life, not as required for their salvation, with which he declares that it has noth-ing particularly to do, but because it is, so to speak, no more thin a handsome compliment to God for His indulgent courtesy to them with no per-mptory reference to their manner of life: "So also he exhorts his country-men to zo to Rome and cut the "So also he exhorts his country-men sto go to Rome and cut the throats of the Pope and cardinals. Yet he does not enjoin this as a de-sirable sin, but as a holy service, which it will displease God if they Certainly the first gathering of old pupils, to judge by numbers, interest and enthusiasm bids fair for the forming of an association quite second to none.

France, was buried in the old eeme-tery of the Picpus at Paris-the most famous, most interesting and oue of the saddest private cemeteries in the world

When, soon after the 1340 victims, said to have perished there, had been thrown into a common foss, the death of Robespierre ended the Terror, the survivors of those interred there se-cured the land about this awful spot and, adding it to the property of the convent, confiding it to the perpetual eare of the nuns, they laid out, be-tween the garden of the convent and this common foss, a tiny little burial ground, destined as a final resting place for the relatives of those in the common foss beyond. There to-day such of the families as wish are still interred. It is a sad place. The ground is When, soon after the 1340 victims,

It is a sad place. The ground is gravelled. The three lines of tombs It is a sad place. The ground is gravelled. The three lines of tombs, some of which are the gothic stone structures familiar to all who know the French cemeteries, the rest of which are square affairs closed by heavy sloping stones, on which the inscriptions are cut, are gray and sombre. A high wall separates this in turn from the second cemetery, in which are the graves of the De Salm family, and at the extremity of which is the common foss. On the outer side of this wall there are commem-orative tablets to Andre Chenier, to the nuns of Compeigne, whose names are all inscribed, to the De Salm fam-ily and to the victims of the guillo-tine buried in the common foss. No grass, no touch of color livens the larger cemetery save the Ameri-can flag furled at the head of Lafay-ette's tomb, which is close beside the entrance to the common foss.

Don't mention another's name

Don't mention another's name in telling your sins. Don't make the priest irritable by forcing him to repeat: "How many times?" for every mortal sin you conless. Don't forget it is a sin to accuse yourself wilfully of something you have not committed, just as well as it is to conceal a sin you have com-mitted. mitted.

mitted. Don't confess a doubtful sin as if it were not doubtful. Confess ex-actly as your conscience saw it. Don't fail to ask for special rem-edies against your habitual sins if the priset forgets to give them. Take an interset in your could interest in your soul, Don't go to confession intending to interest in your soul. Don't go to confession intending to use all the wiles and decits of pres-ent day worldly life to conceal and shade over and soften down sins and circumstances of sins necessary for the priest to know. Don't flit about from priest to priest to escape a little scolding for habitual faults. Don't think a confessor is naturally severe and stern because he is so with you. He may be the kindliest of the kindly with the one that goes be-fore or follows you. Don't go to confession merely to relieve your mind. Don't talk so low in confessing that the priest cannot hear. Don't talk so joud that everybody can hear you. Don't neglect, to sav your penance immediately after confession. Don't get the blues because your confessor is changed to another par-ish. Don't get the blues because he is

ish. Don't get the blues because he is not changed.—Victorian.

all the ACC TRACK