London, July 17, 1883.—The Nationalists of Wexford have triumphantly defeated the disgraceful alliance between "Cawtholic" Whigs and Orange Tories. Mr. William Redmond has been elected by an overwhelming majority; The O'Conor Don positively nowhere.

Mr. Parnell goes to Ireland to-morrow to prepare for the definite organization of the National League, which, owing to the extreme pressure of Parliamentary business, and partially to the co-operation of the Coercion laws, has been somewhat neglected. The spirit of the people is excellent; they are certain to respond to reasonable impulsion from the leaders of the National movement.

The present relations between France and England are rather alarming. The English mercantile class, puffed up by the victory at Tel-el-Kebir, think they can steal De Lessep's Suez Canal with impunity. The coarse taunts of the English press have excited the deepest indignation in France. A slight accident might kindle a war which would have the most serious results for England. The British Government conscious of the Annear is serious results for England. The British Government, conscious of the danger, is making the most careful preparations at will be in the hands of the Parnellites. Within a month Gladstone will probably be defeated on the New Suez Canal question, unless saved by the Irish vote, which

C. M. B. A. NOTES.

Amherstburg, July 20th, 1883. R. Brown, Sec. Grand Council of Canada:

Canada:

Dear Sir and Brother—With joyful heart and lawful pride, and a renewed and extended confidence in the future brilliant prospects of this growing, charitable and benevolent association, I sit down to write and send you a brief account of what I saw, heard, and enjoyed, at the great reunion of C. M. B. A. members, met together to celebrate the open. bers, met together to celebrate the open-ing of the elegant new hall of the Windsor Branch on Thursday evening, July 19th inst.

Desirous of stimulating their members to attend the Branch meetings in larger to attend the Branch meetings in larger numbers and more frequently, it was thought that by having an attractive hall exclusively for their own use, that it would create a favorable impression upon members, and that when it became known that the pioneer Branch of Canada had felt that after five years of flourishing existence its members could afford to tax themselves for this purpose, it would be the means of largely increasing its num-bers, a result which is looked forward to with a certain degree of positiveness. The new hall is an accomplished fact.

The hall committee, whose names I regret not being able to give, have done their work nobly, with good judgment and ex-quisite taste. The decorations are choice and rich; the different shades selected blending most harmoniously. The chan-delier and gas fitting are both superb and delicate; the four chairs for the Branch officers are Works of great artistic merit, made from the natural woods of the country, highly finished. The seats and back-centres are of rich green silk velvet, the high backs surmounted with carvings, each chair bearing in such work the empty. blem appertaining to the office of the occupant thereof, whilst placed around the room are a double row of neat chairs each having upon its back in gilt letters, "C. M. B. A. No. 1." The size of the room is about 18x45 feet. 5 rows of chairs on each side did not suffice to provide seating capacity for the 230 or 240 members which filled this room to compactness on this occasion. The generous and unstinted invioccasion. The generous at the winds of Branch had brought together one of the largest gatherings of C. M. B. A. members that ever met in Canada. It was a grand sight to witness such a body listening with wrapt attention to the numerous addresses, and to know they of different nationalities, but of one faith, united in purpose, and ready to stand together as one man for the Catholic cause and the C. M. B. A. Detroit furnished the banner representation from its various Branches, not less than 150 members being there, from Chatham, 3, from Amherstburg, 8 or 10, from Maidstone, 3 or 5, from St. Thomas and London, letters of regret at not being able to be present.

When all who could find seats were seated the spiritual adviser of the Branch, Rev. Dean Wagner, blessed the hall, the audience reverently standing during the per-formance of this brief ceremony.

The usual Branch routine followed, but conducted with all possible brevity consistent with decorum, and having reached the order of "Good of the Association," addresses, and hearty congratulations were made in about the following order. The Secretary, J. M. Meloche, Esq., read a brief history of the Branch, containing many interesting details concerning its organization and position in society up to organization and position in sq., as repredate. JOURNALISTIC AFTERTHOUGHT.

From the columns of the Cincinnatic Catholic Telegraph we clip the following tribute to the followers of ignatius Loyola:

"Even Protestant writers, rising above the influence of early pri judices, have long been disposed to award the well-deserved meed of praise to the zealous Catholic missionaries who spent so many years and so much labor in their endeavors to civilize, as well as Christianize, the savages of South America, and who succeeded so well in that field of labor. The collection of Indian tribes, known as the Moxos, occupying a large tract on the confines of Peru, were thus brought into the Fold of the Faithful, two hundred years ago, by a great Jesuit, Father Cyprian Bareze; and many eminent Protestant writers have vied with each other in extolling the wonderful successes, in the way of teaching civilization and the lessons of Christianity about the same time, which followed or crowned the labors of the Jesuit Father in Paraguay.

"Not long since, in the person of a French savant," M. Sace, a Calvinist minister who spent much time in various parts of South America, and who writes with "the advantage of time and opportulity for a deliberate judgment, the latest tribute of this kind was paid. The extract which we shall quote has been translated by the Wards.

with the advantage of time and opportu-hity for a deliberate judgment, the latest tribute of this kind was paid. The extract which we shall quote has been translated by the Indo-European from Les Mondes, in which it was published by the famous Abbe Moigno. The writer says: 'During my long peregrination from one end of America to the other, the immense services rendered there by the Jesuits were made in some manner palpably visible to me. To them alone the civilization of that immense continent is due; and what re-mains of their works attests both the light of their genius and the perseverance of their efforts to civilize those wonderful countries, which their barbarous Spanish conquerors sought only to profit by. At present, of all their admirable work nothpresent, or all their admirable work nothing is left but ruins and fond remembrances which the poor Indians cherish and bless. They still weep at the thought of their lost "Robes Noires," whilst the same remembrances are branded with ostracism by the present governments, who reject remembrances are branded with ostracism by the present governments, who reject any bridle that may be used to rein in the course of brutal passions. There we have the true cause of the social disease which blights the very existence of all the Hispano-American Republics, and which ceases, only for a while, when a new dictator arises. There, also, we have the true cause of the prosperity of Canada and Brazil, where strong executive power sets Brazil, where strong executive power sets due limits to the selfish struggle of unbridled private ambitions. It is my conviction that nothing short of the recall of the Jesuits can raise again the Republics of South America. They are fallen so low, merely because they have become a prey to constant revolutions, brought on by to constant revolutions, brought on by ambitious men who place the government of their country in jeopardy by the vilest devices. The Order of the Jesuits alone, with its military organization, represents the interest of all, and can bring back order to those unhappy countries. They alone can save the Indian tribes which are threatened with complete extinction, although laborers are the only thing required to work out the incredible wealth of that soil, which contains all imaginable treasures either at the surface or in its bosom.

CATROLIC PICNIC IN GODERICH.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, ARTHUR. The Annual Picnic.

The Annual Picnic.

Yesterday the grand annual picnic in aid of the funds for the redemption of the debt on the above church took place in Cavanagh's Grove, a short distance outside of Arthur.

From the inauspicious state of the weather the night before, serious misgivings were entertained as to the probable chance of getting a fine day yesterday. It must be admitted that from the terrible thunder storm, lightning and torrents of rain which fell till a late hour during Tuesday night, drenching roads, fields and gardens, such a chance seemed remote indeed. At early dawn, however, the sky looked clear, showing far away in the northern heavens, the Scotchman's never falling sign of a fine day, viz: the time-honored patch of "blue sky." The sun soon shone out in all his fiery spiendour and before 9 a.m., had dried up the floods of the night before. As usual the wise-acres and weather prophets were numerous and took close observations from every quarier of the compass; some shook their heads in ominous silence; but others more hopeful laughed, cracked jokes and predicted spiendid weather. Nor have the latter been disappointed; we have heard it remarked that or former occasions St. John picule was often every successful so far as regards us than compensated for previous argent sun compensated for previous argent sun compensated for previous and town, strings of teams began to crive conveying loads of visitors from the adjoining townships, until about 10 o'close when an immense crowd had congregated in the village, whist others and already proceeded to the picnic grounds, which by this time had got into beautiful order.

had congregated in the village, whilst others and already proceeded to the pientle grounds, which by this time had got into beautiful order.

Several well-known local gentlemen were on the grounds and took a leading part in the proceedings, contributing greatly to the success of the entertainment. Among those present were kev. Mr. Beit, Grace Church, Arthur; Rev. Father Doherty, P.P., Arthur; Rev. Father O'Reilly, P.P., Macton; the Rev. B. J. Ctonnell, P.P., Mount Forest; Dr. Orton, M.P.; Jas. McMullen, M.P.; John Anderson, Esq.; Nicholas Murphy, Esq., Barrister, and Dr. Kennedy (the two last named gentlemen arrived by 11.20 train from Toronto), J. H. Hanns, banker, M.C. O'Donnell, John Harcourt, Dr. Devlin, Dr. Chisholm, and Dr. Allan; C. S. Smith, banker, R. Rudd, Dp-Reeve Pool, and all leading men of the village.

The Arthur Band was in attendance, and by the excellent music which they played during the day, added much to the effect of the proceedings.

The tables, tents and stands were elegantly laid out and attended to by competent waiters who evidently understood their business. From the beginning to the finish the games were well contested, a great number who keenly relished such trials of skill, taking part in the sport. But the most exciting event of the day, was the election for a beautiful necklet and locket which was contested by two very popular young ladies, namely Miss Ellen Healy, Luther; and Miss Mary Anne Ferriter, Kerry Settlement. The election opened at 3 p.m. and continued with great activity and spirit for an hour-and-a Vesterday the Sanctuary Boys of St. Patrick's Parish held their third annual picnic at Dundurn Park. A most enjoyable day was spent by the boys and their friends. Arthur, ist; inos. Evans, Arthur township, 2nd.

In the evening there was a grand concert in the Town Hall. The house was one of the lar, est, we believe, ever seen in Arthur, whilst the music, vocal and instrumental, was of first-class order and speaks volumes for the local talent of Arthur. The overture played by Miss M. McCaul, who, considering her youth showed a critical appreciation of the leading parts, and went through the piece (which was a solo) in a style that proved she possesses the natural talent to become an accomplished musician in course of time and that oare, talent and attention were displayed by her tutor. "My Pretty Flowers" by Master Tommy Cowley, was given with good effect; whilst Mr. Goetz and the "Warrlor Bold" with his usual grace and vigour, which called forth applause. "The Valley of Chamouni" by Miss Busclein was well received, and procured for her a hearty encore, while "La Manola" rendered by Mrs. J. J. Landy, brought down the house in a similar manner.

Miss Sarah Cosgrove's rendering of "Do not turn me from your doer," was really excellent. Her sweet and well cultivated voice procured for her the spontaneous applause of the entire house.

A song (by request) from Dr. Kennedy; of Toronto, brought down the house in rapturous encores.

Mrs. Allan, whose services, it is needless to remark, are given on all occasions with cheerful arbanity, played some very difficult eccompaniments with great skill and teste. The "Lonely Barp" by Miss McKenna, and "We'd better Bide a Wee" by Miss McKinney, also eletied the approval of the audience. Part II. — "All among the Barley" (chorus) was admirably rendered, and the "Cuckoo Song" by Mrs. Landy, again called forth an encore. "There's a Dear Spot in Ireland" by Miss M. McKenna. This was a gem in itself which together with the number and style of her accompaniments during the evening, demonstrated her artistic taste and skill. A Comic Song by Mr. Goetz, and "The Dear Old Emerald Banner" by Maurice McCaul, brought the concert to a close about hair past Il p.m.

Owing to the extreme modesty of Miss Buschlen, and an oversight on the part of others, the "Beautiful Dreamer" in the second part, to the great disappointment of all present, was not rendered. This is all the more to be regretted, as Miss Buschlen's services have been on all such occasions, rendered with the greatest ability and cheerfulness.

At the close of the programme, Payd ley" (chorus) was admirably rendered, and the "Cuckoo Song" by Mrs. Landy, again vices have been on all such occasions, rendered with the greatest ability and cheerfulness. It the close of the programme, Revd. At the close of the programme, Revd. Father Doherty, in well-chosen brief remarks, tendered his sincere thanks to the addience, and through them to those who attended the plenic and were instrumental in its success, as well for their very liberal patronage as for the care and attention to details by the various Committees having the matter in charge.

Mr. N. Murphy and Dr. Kennedy being called upon for a few remarks, favored the assemblinge with short but eloquent and appropriate addresses.—A vote of thanks to the Chairman, and his reply, brought the proceedings of a pleasant day and successful picnic to a close. The proceeds are expected to equal, if not exceed, those of last year's pienic, at which they amounted to eight hundred dollars.

It is most gratifying to state, that considering the large crowds, the games and excitement, the whole affair passed off with perfect order, and proved a grand success; a result due to the judicious management of the pienic Committee.
