

JOURNAL? We still hope to hear from them soon, and that they are redeeming their promise. If not, we shall speak aloud, and if we do shall probably mention MONTREAL.

R. E., of St. Catherines, is informed that we have mailed copies of the JOURNAL to his address twice, and will do so the third time. Why you have not received them we cannot say, but think if you will ask the P. M. for the "Journal of Homeopathy," you will get it.

Others of our Subscribers at St. Catherines and at other places complain that they do not receive their papers. We attend personally to the mailing, and can say the fault is not ours; so do not make us responsible for all the sins of omission and commission of the whole P. O. Department.

Mr. Kuhn, says the Bourdeaux Journal of Medicine, found that vaccination performed on infants, the second, third, or fourth day after a previous vaccination, always succeeded. When performed on the fifth day it took in one half the cases. If attempted on the seventh, eighth, ninth, or tenth day, it failed. Hence, according to these experiments, vaccinia does not begin to be protective until after four days from the inoculation, and as variola has an incubation of three or four days, it may happen that a person exposed to it the fourth day after vaccination may be seized with small-pox at the moment when the vaccine vesicle is at its highest point of development. It is not until the ninth day after vaccination, therefore, that one can be considered secure from small-pox.

DR. HENRY S. LENTZ'S HOMEOPATHIC Preparations.

We have prescribed the high attenuations prepared by Dr. Henry S. Lentz, with the most satisfactory results; and, having confidence in their efficacy, we can recommend them to the Profession. We believe them to be prepared with scrupulous regard to purity, and accuracy of manipulation.

There need be no controversy in regard to the utility of the high attenuation of Medicines. They should be administered only when they are Homeopathically indicated, and then not too frequently repeated.
