

Church Notes

AT GRACE CHURCH.

At Grace Church last evening Archdeacon Mackenzie said that he had intended to deliver a sermon appropriate to the day, but owing to the events of the past week he had chosen to refer to what he knew was in the hearts of all.

Dr. Mackenzie read extracts from an address made by the Bishop of London at Farringdon Hall, London, in which the Bishop told of inducing 10,000 Territorials to enlist for foreign service in two nights.

The Ven. Archdeacon advised every one to buy Bernhard's book and read it—although he was aware that some people thought it was un-British to do so—and learn the cause of the war.

THE TEMPERATURE. Record for the last 24 hours: Lowest, 39.55; highest, 46.60.

DIVISION COURT. The Division Court held a busy session this morning under Judge Hardy.

DIED AT ATWOOD. Mr. John Scott, Anderson of 34 Charlotte street received word on Friday that his brother Robert had passed away at his home in Atwood.

GREAT GALLANTRY

tion (under command of Col. Rennie of Toronto) and the Fourth battalion (made up of central Ontario corps, north and northwest of Toronto, formerly under command of Col. Labatt of Brockville). Owing to Colonel Labatt's illness, Col. Birchall of the permanent staff was placed in command.

The afternoon of the twenty-second, following a prolonged and terrific artillery fire, the enemy's trenches being on an average of about two hundred yards from the allied lines.

Meantime the Highlanders, being left in their rear had not time to get away and fell, consequently for the time being, into the hands of the enemy.

With the Canadian Highlanders extended to double their normal trench front, one half in the open and assisted by the Tenth battalion from Southern Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, they not only held ten times their own number in check, but they actually retook the guns from the enemy and maintained their position, but the losses, as must have been expected, were appalling.

The situation on the 22nd therefore appears to have been that the Canadian line, covering a front of five thousand yards, or about three miles. To their left were the French, and again to the left of the French were the Belgians. It is understood there was a main line of trenches with a supporting line a short distance in the rear.

The First Brigade, as stated, was some miles to the rear in reserve. The guns were posted far to the rear. Four heavy Canadian guns, it seems, were some two or three miles in the rear of the French lines.

However the Germans had advanced six miles to the rear of the French position and there seemed nothing to prevent their getting in behind the Canadian line, greatly extended as it was, and terribly diminished. Accordingly another brilliant charge was carried out at some distance to the rear of the former trench position, under General Mercer with the First and Fourth Battalions of the First Brigade, supported by the Second and Third, and the German trenches, temporarily erected, were recaptured.

Meantime the enemy concentrated several divisions of the German Highland brigade, that is the extreme left of their original position. The troops in the trenches were able to hold firm, against great odds, but the scattered fragments holding the line, in the open at right angles to the trenches, were obliged to gradually fall back, before vastly superior numbers. Thus large masses, amounting, it is estimated to three divisions, or about sixty thousand Germans, got into the rear and the Highlanders, thus cutting them off, but they refused to surrender and the firing was heard far into the night, the Germans being in front, on the left flank, and on the rear. Whether these gallant Highlanders were annihilated, or taken prisoners is not known, but so long as a cartridge remained, they fought.

Thus, the fighting which began on Friday afternoon and night until daylight Saturday, when the first Canadian brigade arrived and reinforced. Early in that forenoon three British Brigades came up also and did valiant service in reinforcing and prolonging the lines to the left.

During Saturday and Sunday the fighting continued, by the Canadian-British and ably assisted by the Belgians and French, the line of defence was reformed.

The Canadians have suffered, but their heroism is unquestioned. Many of them were without food or water for upwards of twenty-four hours, and some for much longer, but they unflinchingly held their positions.

PTE. "PHIL" SCOTT. As we go to press, it was reported by phone that Phil Scott, probably referring to I. F. Scott, late salesman with Grafton and Co., had been wounded.

TOWNSHIP COUNCIL

The Township Council held a very busy session this morning and afternoon. Much business was transacted before the meeting was adjourned.

A communication from Judge Hardy, which offered gravel from Hazelbrook Farm at ten cents less per load than the Township is paying, and they will likely seriously consider the offer. The resignation of John W. Lovett, as pound-keeper of the township, was accepted. A large number of accounts from merchants and doctors and the general hospital were passed.

The Toronto Hospital for Incurables sent in a communication which stated that the lowest rate for non-residents of Toronto would be $5 per week, payment to be guaranteed by the municipality.

The Edmondson drain received much attention, the council finally deciding to construct it at an estimated cost of $48,000.

Several petitions were received for the laying of new cement walks on Emily, Wilkes, Gordon and Ruth streets. Finally the monthly statement of the Township of Brantford was passed. The receipts amounted to $4,194.01, and the expenditure amounted to $16,294.49. The meeting then adjourned.

To The Editor

Editor Courier: Dear Sir,—Having been a resident of Brantford for the past 30 years, and having seen some laws enforced, I think this last one the most unreasonable. I think children cannot ride with carts or roller skates on the sidewalk. Of course, there have been so many accidents of late, many people being wounded, that it is impossible to expect anything else. Now I think that it is about time that some of these laws were brought to a halt. The time will soon come when it will be necessary for us as citizens to keep our children tied up and tagged. Thanking you for space, and hoping to get some other views. W.J.B.

Boy Knight Notes

The Boy Knights held a church parade to Calvary Baptist church on Sunday morning. The attendance was good, the young men presenting a spick and span appearance, and on the march looked well presenting a soldierly appearance, while the order and attention of the boys during the service was most marked.

The service at the church was a most hearty one, the choir rendering splendid music, the singing of Kipling's Recessional being one of the features. Rev. Mr. Ewens, on behalf of the church extended a hearty welcome to the young men. His subject was "A Boy World." His address was delivered in a manner that would certainly find its way home to the heart of every boy or young person there. It was full of striking remarks made in a manner that the boys could carry away in their mind to be brought up, that children cannot ride with carts or roller skates on the sidewalk.

For future use when required. He drew attention to the work of the Boy Knights and Girl Companions, and also to the great work that was being done by the Daily Vocational Bible School. During the holidays they desire to extend this movement so that more of the young people could take advantage of it. The Bible was taught and it led the young in paths of righteousness. He had searched the Bible over and he had only found the word boy three times and the word knight twice, but in their places were used the words sons and daughters. Hebrew parents were most careful in the olden days in the religious training of their children for they were the chief asset of the nation. So should we to-day pay particular attention in this regard. Every boy had a world of his own. A man had his own particular world. So in this life there were people who were living in a world of all kinds, peculiar and different classes of people, without having much contact with each other. The boys who lived in a clean world of their own, where nasty and unclean habits were excluded, would be the future of our country—the leaders, such as Abe Lincoln, the rail splitter, and others. Those who acquired unclean habits and vices in their boy's world, from these it would be impossible to expect anything else. The ranks of the drunkards, the gamblers, the criminals and others of these classes, would be recruited. A boy was like a rubber ball, it was easy for him to throw off bad habits at this time of up his mind to do so. A boy was not worth "shucks" if he did not have the fighting instinct; that would show itself self forth in bearing up and forcing its way through in spite of all difficulties and hardships. He did not need to be prepared at all times for defensive purposes, and what he liked about such organizations as the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Knights and others was the great brotherhood idea; the throwing open of the doors and telling the boys to come in, let us work together and do each other good. It was for the building up of true manliness in the nation.
